GETTING A LIFT OUT OF LIFE!

A grade 8 student at Central Senior School, James Holton, made his own hydrogen generator and sent a decorated balloon aloft this week.

The pupil conducted his experiments with hydrogen after school with the help of his science teacher Michael Cosgrove. He used steel wool and iron filings with sulphuric acid to generate the hydrogen and the gas was forced into a balloon which had the name of the school and his name painted on it and a streamer attached so it could be more easily seen and identified.

Mr Cosgrove said James plans to launch more balloons in the spring. He hopes the balloon will return to earth and be found by someone who will notify him.

Fenelon Falls (PNS)—Mrs. W. B. Cunningham presided for the February meeting of the W. M. S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fenelon Falls, which was held at the home of Mrs. N. Tyndal.

The meeting was opened with two minutes of silence in memory of a beloved member Miss S. Haskell, who passed away recently, followed by a poem in tribute to her.

Mrs. C. R. McInnes gave an informative message on the study, which was read by Mrs. W. D. Murchison. Mrs. F. Brown read articles which dealt with Christmas work being done among university students.

Mrs. McInnes read an address by Mrs. J. W. Graham of the Christian Medical College in India. She closed the study period with prayer.

Reports were received during the business period. Roll call was answered, and the president gave a report of the Annual Presbyterial held in Lindsay, including an item from the address by Mrs. Kerr.

The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. Brown offered table grace, and the hostess served refreshments.

Bland—McGill Wedding

Omenee (PNS) — Trinity United Church in Omenee was decorated with flowers on Saturday, February 26, 1968, for the marriage of Marie Gail McGill, of Omenee, daughter of Mr. Edward Trippe of Omenee, and Joseph Henry Gordon Bland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bland of Ida. Rev. Crawford was the officiating clergyman, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Connell, of Omenee.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride chose a full length gown of silk tulle. The portrait neckline was outlined with sprays of lace guipure, as was the tiny waistline. The sleeves were lily point. The back was accented with a wattle panel and tail ored bow. Her headpiece was of tiny tulle, and held a sheer carried a cascade bouquet of red garnet sweetheart roses.

Miss Marlene Cox, of Peterboro, was the maid-of-honour, and Miss Brenda Tripp, of Omenee was the bridesmaid. They wore silk, powder-blue, floor-length dresses, with empire waistlines. The brides featured a lace insert, with dark olive bows outlining the empire waistlines. Their headpieces were petals, in matching colours. They carried lily white sweetheart roses, with white 'mums in the centre.

Mr. Ken Tully, of Ida, was the groomsmen, and Mr. Robert Lock, of Peterboro, was the usher.

For the reception, held in the basement of Trinity United Church, the bride's mother received, wearing a turquoise suit, with a white velvet hat, and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua suit, with a fur hat, and a corsage of white and pink carnations.

frank about sports

Lindsay Merchants had Aurora Tigers by the tail in Bradford last night, but their hold slipped a little in the last eight minutes.

Merchants had a 3-2 lead going for them with the third period over half spent before the Tigers could muster an effective attack and tie the score. Rick Purdy, George Graham, and Wayne Mike were marksmen for the Merchants.

Halliburton Huskies kept their foot in the play-off door at Stouffville last night when they edged the Tigers 6-5. The Huskies had a 4-2 lead late in the third period, and after a flurry of goals by both teams, the visitors came out on top by forcing a tie-out game to win.

Stouffville leads the set two games to one. Next game is slated for Halliburton Saturday night.

Little Britain Minuties scored three goals in the final 90 seconds of their O. M. H. A. game with Halliburton to take the first game of the set 6-3. The second game will be played in the third night, Halliburton Saturday night.

Elmhurst Juveniles twice clipped Little Britain Juveniles by 7-4 scores to eliminate the Marjona Juvenile "D" entry. Reports indicate two or three Collingwood Junior "D" players performed for Elmhurst.

Little N. H. L. Bantam Turnover goes to Little Britain March 6. Eight teams, ten games, championship and consolation play.

Oakwood Area officials plan to start installation of an artificial ice plant by May 1st. Three hockey games and a couple of draws Saturday night kicked off the financial campaign. Oakwood novices, pee-wees and midgets dropped goals to Etimlake and Millbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scott of Kinmount were special guests during the evening, and the member referred the first hockey game.

High scoring records seem to be coming our way lately. Bob Wyle of the L.C.V. basketball seniors has joined the honored 70, 147 points in eight games against senior teams and he does not measure seven foot four.

Midtown "Tigers meet Burnt River Beavers to night at nine here.

Meanwhile, the state of Maine has backed away from being host to the fight. Louisville, Kentucky, appears to be the number one alternate choice.

The first witnesses are expected to be called today in the trial of Wisconsin's anti-trust suit against the National League and the Braves. The trial in Milwaukee resumed late yesterday afternoon after a day-and-a-half recess during which lawyers marked exhibits.

Attorneys for both sides launched fiery opening arguments. A Braves lawyer declared that the states anti-trust suit could lead to the utter destruction and ruin of baseball. He said it could be a death knell of the game.

A special counsel for Wisconsin said the states anti-trust suit was moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta because the city's new owners had to make money in a hurry to pay off a three-million debt which he said they had created.

WARP and WOOF by SCOTTY

A WONKY KIND OF POEM

We're seeing the scene thru the floor-through glasses And what do we see? We're one with the masses
Of people, who cough, and sneeze, and have colds
And in a humour not quite with the lark.

It's white pills, and blue pills, and pills of all colours,
Our day grows not brighter in fact it grows duller.
We try his cure, and our cure, and your cure, my dear
And you two were here!
We're happy to say there's one bright spot looming — On our drearier today flowers are blooming.

An anniversary arrived in spite of red noses.
So we peer at, and sniff at — one dozen red noses.
With spirits uplifted though cough is still "barky".
We're happy the old lad is still feeling "sparky".
So with lotions, and potions, and more cures to try.
We'll get rid of this flu and live 'til we die!

It is possible for all of us to give the gift of time — the time it takes to do our work conscientiously. The Time it takes to offer a sincere compliment. The Time it takes to think twice before we say an unkind word, and then not say it at all.

Ready or not —
The Joke Plot
A teacher annoyed by his clock-watching students, pasted a cardboard sign over the clock which read, "Time will pass. Will YOU?"

"Iceland is about the same size as Siam," said the teacher.
"Iceland," wrote Charlie on his test paper, "is about the same size as my teacher."

The last word: A psychana-lyst is a person who will listen to you as long as you don't make sense.

Gentility
The final test of gentility is the ability to disagree without being disagreeable.

Orton Guard

Orton Hubert Guard of 104
Russell Street West, Lindsay, entered into rest at his late residence on Wednesday, January 12, 1966. He was 71 years old.

Born at Oakwood, Ontario,
Orton Guard was the son of the late William Guard and Mary Hooper, and was the beloved husband of Charlotte Adella (Della) Harrison. Mr.
Guard had just moved to Lin-say after residing on his Oakwood farm for over 40 years.

He had been in ill health for ten months.

Mr. Guard is survived by his sorrowing wife, Della, and one daughter, Mary (Mrs. Bre-thour) of Scarborough, and three grandsons. Also surviving is a sister Mrs. Adelle Griggs of Little Britain, and three brothers, Marley of Little Britain, Frank of Oakwood, and James of Lindsay.

Mr. Guard received his education at Oakwood, and was a member of the Oakwood United church. He served overseas in World War I.

The funeral service was held from the Stoddart Funeral Home, Lindsay, on Saturday
January 15th, at 2:30 p.m. Rev.
P. Brown and Fred Lane conducted the service with temporary entombment at the Riverdale vault.

The pall-bearers were six nephews, John Guard, Marley
Griggs, Don Anderson, Easern
Harrison, Ted Folan, and Ralph Martin.

Friends and relatives attended the service from Guelph,
Toronto, Midland, Alliston, Cannington, Little Britain, Ma-lini, Beaverton and Oakwood.
The many floral tributes bore silent testimony of the respect in which he was held.

On The Main Street

MOYNES

From time to time, "Main Carakete" "Daddy" Brampton, remembered by many, as a man short of stature, with white hair and a kindly disposition. Some of the teachers included Miss Ward, Duncan McGough, Samuel Armstrong, Norman Black, and the principal for Lindsay schools at the time was Gideon Brodrick.

The old Union or Grammar school was later occupied by the Manufacturing and Brass Metal Works, a firm which later on occupied a concrete block factory immediately to the west of the present Queen Street United Church.

The addition to the present
Central School was built some four years ago and another addition is to be erected in 1966.

It is interesting to note that three of the students at the first school on Albert Street, were Eustace Hopkins, Richard Bryson and Franklin Crandall.

It is understood that Victoria School in the East Ward is now the oldest. The original first south ward school, the original north ward school and the old Francis Street school have long since disappeared.

The Town of Lindsay will be receiving, indirectly, some fine publicity in forthcoming years. Brian O'Neill of Montré, who has been named the president of the N.H.L., the National Hockey League, is a resident of Lindsay. Brian O'Neill will be the Business and the natural successor to the presidency.

District 2 of the United Co-operative of Ontario has formed a President's Club and the first meeting of the new club was held at the Masonic Lodge

Lindsay this week. Fourteen presidents and vice-presidents of Co-ops in the Lindsay area met to discuss mutual problems. The purpose of the club is to provide fellowship and a common meeting ground for those responsible for the effective functioning of their new Co-operative, said United Co-op public relations representative Ivor McLeod.

Mr. McLeod said future meetings will include discussion of topics such as parliamentary procedure, planning for the future, conduct of annual co-op meetings. Those who attended this week's meeting discussed director-manager relationships. Officers were also elected at the meeting. George Morris, Uxbridge branch UCO, was named chairman; Mel McKewen, Campbellford Co-op, vice-chairman; and Harvey Malcolm, Lindsay branch UCO, secretary-treasurer.

SILVER SPOONS
(CP) — Four dated silver spoons—given her when she was a child—helped Mrs. Eva Hackmeister prove to Social Security officials that she is at least 65 years old. The clerk's office in Albany, New York, had no record of her birth. But medicare officials said the spoons were acceptable. Mrs. Hackmeister said they prove she is 73.

COMPUTER CUPID
(CP) — The Eastern College idea of using a computer to match boys and girls of similar interests for dates has spread to Texas. And Robert Schneider of San Antonio College hopes it's going to finance his way through graduate school. Charging small fees—three dollars for boys and two for girls—he says he did well at several Texas colleges last fall. And he's branching out now to schools in Tennessee, Georgia and Florida. But Schneider says competitors to his business are spring up. And he adds "pretty soon everybody will be cutting their prices".

PROGRAMME CHANGES

The entire Boy Scout programme in Canada will undergo exciting new changes in the next couple of years if a programme now being tested proves successful.

Studies made over the past two years by a Boy Scout Sub-committee headed by the Rev. Stanley A. Smith, of Carp, Ontario, have resulted in a new programme with changes ranging from revised badges to modified objectives and organization.

The completely new programme has been adopted, on a test basis by Scout troops in Peterborough with spot tests of specific aspects also being conducted in widely separated communities throughout the country.

Mr. Smith says it will be a full year before any significant evaluation of the Peterborough project can be made. However, some parts of the scheme will be approved or modified as the tests progress and full approval of the programme, with any required modifications, is expected by the fall of 1967. Implementation on a national basis will probably not be completed until mid-1968.

Scout officials, while recognizing the outstanding achievements of the Boy Scout programme in the past, feel the introduction of new schemes and objectives will give Scouting a stronger appeal in today's space-oriented society and Boy Scout recruitment should increase considerably. Present recruitment is almost entirely from the Wolf Cub section, with only about seven per cent of Boy Scouts coming directly off "the street".

Mr. Smith says he hopes the new programme will increase this figure considerably. He explained that one of the limiting factors now is the present badge and award system which makes it necessary to progress step-by-step through the entire Boy Scout programme, thus requiring every year to be in the most junior level in spite of his age and school-grade level.

"Under this new programme, however", he adds, "a boy can come into Scouting without previous Scout training and start working for the same badges and awards as any other Scouts in his age group. Achievement badges will be awarded according to age."

"Under the new programme, a boy aged eleven, for example, works for green stage badges that will qualify him for a "Pioneer Award", while the twelve year old works for bronze stage badges and a "Voyager Award", and the thirteen year old works for silver stage badges and a "Faithfinder Award". None of the badges or awards are prerequisites for the others.

Patrol structures, too, have been modified. Where each group in the present system is age-graded, with the oldest boy acting as leader and progressively younger boys occupying less senior positions, patrols under the new programme will be composed entirely of boys in the same general age ability and interest group.

Leadership too, will undergo revision. Patrol leadership instead of being the responsibility of one boy, will be shared by every member of the group. Adults will serve as counsellors and resource people.

Today in Peterboro, 550 Boy Scouts in 27 troops are following a programme which may lead to the first major change in scouting since the early Scouts were formed 59 years ago.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY VUE MILLER

FACIALS KEEP SKIN YOUTHFUL: A lovely ask: Do facials make a lasting improvement in the skin? Can you give yourself a satisfactory facial?

The Answer: Yes, on both counts. Given on a weekly basis, facials act to keep the skin deeply cleansed, alive, moist and toned. This aids to preserve the complexion. To give yourself a proper facial, you need a quiet hour. The steps are three:

1. Cap hair in net and band hairline. 2. Apply cream or lotion liberally from base of throat to hairline, using gentle but firm upward and outward strokes. (Use same strokes throughout.) Rub off cleanser and gently. Let strokes throughout. Rub off cleanser and gently. Let strokes throughout. Rub off cleanser and gently. Let strokes throughout.

3. Cover face and throat with cosmetic mask, one suited to your skin type. Lie flat on bed, cover you with herbal pads, and relax for 15 minutes before removing mask. 5. Dumpers absorbent cotton paper with chilled astringent lotion and repeatedly "pencil" skin. Let air-dry. 6. Film on moisture lotion or cream.

The main difference between this and a salon facial is the relaxation provided by the latter. Since relaxation rests the face and gives it new life, aim to drop your cares during a home treatment.

What will the pay be?

by Captain Charles Woodland Salvation Army, Lindsay

Some time ago a young man was being interviewed for a job, the interviewing officer asked him his qualifications were, the young man replied, "Before we discuss that, what will we be getting for the job, he didn't get the job."

Paul in writing his second chapter of the Bible, gave his credentials as a servant of God.

We are the imposters who speak the truth, the unknown men whom all know, doing we still live on, disciplined by the fact we are not done to death; in our sorrows we have always cause for joy; poor outcasts, bring wealth to many, penniless, we are the world (N.B.S.).

Paul has no illusions as to his position, his only concern is his qualification for the task, on being true to his word and DEDY and then co-operating with God, who is his great employer, "Shakespear's evil genius" called but men do lives after them, the good is often interred with their bones."

As a Christian people we must then be prepared to live our lives in spite of the difficulties, to be true to our friends and foes alike. Few men have been as vehemently opposed to the religion of St. Winston Church. As a young man entering politics, he had few friends, but on one occasion in parliament he said, "I listened to my closest friends, and I listened to the portals of this House." It was well for this man, for he was not a fool, and obeyed only the burning conviction of his heart.

As a Christian here, I urge to preserve. One of the qualifications needed, is to be true in WORD and DEED.

We are living in the age of the personality cult. Pop stars and sporting personalities are the attention and following. Each becomes an idol. Someone to be worshipped, to be placed on a pedestal. Everyone is trying to be different, and the end product is by common identification all look alike.

Paul here suggests that as a "nobility" he is himself, and very much in the public eye. As employees of God, we are expected to be different. People are forever watching for a sure foundation to life. We are very much in the public eye. We must find that there may be, Christ, only always, living in me. We have established our lives on that "Sure Foundation" which is Jesus Christ, we will have to see the effects of the Christian Life.

"Dying we still live on, suffering by suffering, we are not done to death; in our sorrows we have always cause for joy, poor outcasts, bring wealth to many, penniless, we own the world."

The Main Street

Many active business men have left the pursuits and the pursuit of a hobby or hobby, especially when they are old, prize for the day, the old time auction of fancy articles shows, prizes, prize lunches.

A few nights ago dinner was tendered C. B. Cyril Bruce Symonds, a member of management and administration of the Bell Telephone Company's operations in Lindsay and district.

His main devotion through the years has been his, and his pet hobby, handicraft in wood, he will pursue at his new and well appointed home just east of Lindsay on Highway 7.

Apart from his devoted attention to business, in his local field his membership in the Rotary Club proved to be an outlet for extra energy. In this particular field of endeavour he was particularly helpful in a project connected with the Canadian Institute for the Blind.

C. B. Symonds was born in Orillia where his father for many years was a member of the printing and newspaper fraternity. Following his graduation from high school, C. B. linked up with the Bell Telephone Company in the telephone city of Brandon, and he advanced on the ladder of success. His duties took him to Peterboro, Toronto, and then to Lindsay and Lindsay. As a telephone executive he was particularly well known for his transfer to dial system. He proved of valuable assistance in this project.

Mr. Symonds' long service of 38 years as a Bell man was only interrupted once, and that was when he transferred to the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Locally, Mr. Symonds is a community minded citizen, interested in municipal and service work activities.

Mr. Symonds is one citizen who has been called "hail fellow well met".

Kwanitow threw his eyes scanning the papers for news concerning the annual appearance of "Spring Thaw" Versluis Township in 1968.

The show has been playing to capacity crowds in Winnipeg, the home of many musical theatre productions including ballet, "Spring Thaw" will have a three week run in Toronto starting March 21st.

Other theatre news of interest to Lindsay people comes to the forefront in Toronto where the show "Oklahoma" is on a week's run, the same story which was produced by the Kwanitow Club last fall.

Many suggestions are being made regarding Centennial celebrations in the City of Lindsay which has been mentioned as a possibility for the Chamber of Commerce to be the sponsor of the celebration, to be one time to the Chamber of Commerce or some recognized authoritative group.

Several decades ago, as many will remember, the Lindsay Advancement Club under the C. C. of held successful winter carnivals. The programme that they had was well emulated as a Confederation project.

It consisted of horse racing with cutlers and with racists on Kent Street from Lindsay Street west to the Lindsay Avenue; a band parade including race bands and people in costume, and a market at the town square of dressed and undressed poultry, a sale of good old fashioned butter and eggs.

KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D., F.A.C.P.
Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

KILLING WAR WE MUST WIN
Americans at last seem to be aware of the devastating war they've had on their own doorstep all these years.

For the past month or two I have been reading editorials on the need for government intervention to lessen death and destruction on our highways. For example, the beginning of the last editorial of one newspaper:

"Americans concern themselves every day with the prospect of an undeclared, expensive and often fatal war in Viet Nam. But, for the most part, the average citizen seems to care not that 1,000 of his fellow men die every week in accidents on the nation's highways. 'After Viet Nam,' says President Johnson, this is the present problem before the nation."

This awakening on a national scale is especially gratifying to me. Readers of the "Column" may recall that I have been fighting for years to arouse the populace against the enemy within the automobile. Until now, it has seemed a fruitless and completely frustrating battle.

Now I see signs of a turn towards victory. But it will only come, as I have been saying for over 15 years, when the national government takes over. As if it were fighting a major war. Forgive me if I quote from my columns of the past years. You will understand Why I am so concerned by the apparent surge in interest to neutralize needless deaths on the highways.

Over 15 years ago I wrote a special article for the Hartford Courant called: "Hot War: Auto Accident." Some excerpts: "As a doctor, I consider auto accidents our most flagrant and fearless enemies. We fight disease, but stupidly accept accidents as inevitable."

"We get all 'hot up' about the world conflict, yet we read in the newspapers about needless accidental injuries and deaths as if we were casually examining a weather report. We accept accidental annihilation (of the other fellow) with surprising equanimity."

ALWAYS AROUND THE CORNER

"Not until an accident hits the frightful price Americans pay every day in mangled and dead bodies. . . . Wars come and go but auto accidents are always around the corner. . . . Under present conditions, every time you climb into a car there are menacing odds that you may have to be carried out of it on a stretcher."

"There are two ways to look the problem: First, recognize your own physical and emotional limitations so you can better combat any tendency toward auto accidents. Second, shout and keep shouting for a national referendum which requires all states to keep ex-mining all would-be drivers and all vehicles."

From another column I wrote a few years ago: "If auto kill and maim more than I read wars, why can't the government take over? . . . I'd like to make a prediction here. But what I say probably won't come true until many more hundreds of thousands of Americans have been slaughtered and many millions more have been maimed in auto accidents."

"One day in the not-too-distant future a national referendum or new amendment will bring into effect a uniform law in all 50 states. This will prove to be protection for you and me for yours and mine. . . . Car manufacturers will constantly improve the safety factor in their vehicles. . . . A hand-signal will turn in Texas into a law in Florida, speed limits will be uniform under specific conditions, drunken drivers will suffer such penalties as jail, prison and loss of license; there will be fewer circumventions of justice."

Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

EFFECT OF CIGARETTES (Eaton Administration Hospital, on CORONARY ARTERIES East Orange, N.J., reported Dr. Dr. Steinbock has found evidence that smoking cigarettes is a major cause of coronary artery disease.

INCREASED PATTY-LIVING The doctors were interviewed about the effect of cigarette smoking on the coronary arteries. They found that the more cigarettes a person smokes, the more the coronary arteries are narrowed. The more they smoke, the more the arteries are narrowed. The more they smoke, the more the arteries are narrowed.

Among them aged from 45 to 65, the narrowing of the arteries was most marked in the group aged 45 to 65. The narrowing of the arteries was most marked in the group aged 45 to 65. The narrowing of the arteries was most marked in the group aged 45 to 65.

It occurred in 10.4 per cent of those who smoked less than a pack a day; in 24.6 per cent of those who smoked between one and two packs a day; and in 32.5 per cent of those who smoked more than two packs a day. The narrowing of the arteries was most marked in the group aged 45 to 65.

So there you have a report, based on the results of a study of 100 patients who had heart attacks, that cigarette smoking is a major cause of coronary artery disease. The narrowing of the arteries was most marked in the group aged 45 to 65.

DIZZY SPELLS Dr. Dr. Steinbock has found evidence that cigarette smoking is a major cause of coronary artery disease. The narrowing of the arteries was most marked in the group aged 45 to 65.

It's more likely that the trouble is in the inner ear. In each ear is what we call the vestibular apparatus. There are a series of canals filled with fluid.

When they become septic, they can cause dizziness, vertigo, and other symptoms. It can be quite stubborn, although new medications and surgical treatments often promise happy results.

Many patients with dizziness, which persists, deserves a complete examination by an ear specialist and a neurologist in addition to his family doctor's check up. It's not at all ways that too many cooks spoil the medical broth.

Exhaust Fumes

As far as we know, it is against the law to permit a motor vehicle's engine to run while being idled, although it is prohibited in many countries. Many countries insist that as well as having the motor stilled, all cars be extinguished while gas tanks are being filled. These are wise precautions and should be insisted on in Canada.

The Imagery of Stamps

What image of themselves do newly designed stamps — or for that matter those that have long been independent — like to project to the world on their postage stamps?

This thought occurred to him, said Anthony Schoelling in the BBC World Service programme 'Here and Now', when he was admiring the colourful display of Malaysian native history shown in the complete new Malaysian issue which came out last November. Accordingly, he went from the Queen's Gallery where this issue was on display to the offices of the Crown Agents who act for overseas governments in handling business with printers, and deal with stamps for some seventy countries, most of them past or present British territory.

Schoelling was dazzled by the variety of the stamps in the huge albums they showed him. "Stamps showing animals and fishes, local crafts and industry, airports and stadiums, soldiers and presidents and ships. For instance, Nigeria has groundnuts, pottery, a coalminer, a camel train, and a stamp symbolizing adult education. Among the Chandanias: two hippopotami, in a river, a secretary bird, a grey parrot, and one of Albert Einstein.

Had to They'll Do It Every Time

Formidable Task

It will be called upon to supply about $15,000 units of blood to our hospitals. This means collecting a unit of blood every second of every working day.

It takes thousands of volunteers, hundreds of skilled persons and millions of dollars to complete this formidable task, but it means that hundreds of thousands of sick and injured Canadians will stay alive.

In Canada, hospital patients do not pay for blood. They receive it as a gift from volunteer blood donors.

The Red Cross is the agency responsible for finding blood donors, collecting and processing blood and delivering it to hospitals.

This vital community service is very worthy of our support. It not only helps to save the lives of our families and friends, but gives us the opportunity of sharing our good health with someone who really needs it.

March is Red Cross Month in Canada. Help keep our Red Cross continuing to flow—ready for tomorrow.

Stanford Pitts named Citizen of the Year

"We hope our labour force will not be misled by irresponsible union leaders within the plant. We have found the United Rubber Workers of America to be very responsible people and very fair to deal with. We do not fear their action, only those few individuals," said D. Morgan Firestone in his address to the Annual Chamber of Commerce Dinner last night.

D. Morgan Firestone, vice president of Firestone of Canada, was guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce fiftieth annual dinner, and was introduced by Lindsay plant manager Charles Breece, as the grandson of the founder of Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

Mr. Firestone told an attentive audience that this year it is expected the Lindsay plant will generate in wages alone $1,000,000 worth of locally purchased supplies and services, into the Lindsay area economy.

He said Lindsay was considered as the site for their automotive products plant, not only because Lindsay made attractive to the Company, but mainly because of the available work force in the area.

"Our great need is for labour and management to work together, our survival in Lindsay depends on it," the youth full vice president said.

In order to be successful in Lindsay, we must be competitive and productive of our work force. As production increases wages must increase.

Mr. Firestone said the Company has dealt with the United Rubber Workers of America union over the years and found their leadership to be very responsible. "They are dependent on us and we are dependent on them," Mr. Firestone said.

He said the plant at Lindsay was the way the company turned-over for a new plant, and the Company was now in the business of negotiating a contract with the United Rubber Workers of America.

"Definitely loaded in favour of Canada," was the way the guest speaker described the Canada U.S. trade agreement.

He said in 1964 the Firestone Company of Canada had a real estate market of parts for 100,000 cars and trucks. He said since the trade agreement has removed duties, their market target has increased to 1,000,000 cars and trucks.

"Two men, we feel at this moment, have given their due recognition because of their outstanding efforts in the community. These were not winners, but once again we feel that we feel deserve honourable mention. They are Mr. Herb Simpson and Mr. Parker," Mr. Gleason stated.

The Firestone executive said the Lindsay plant has the technical know how, the right equipment and a large market opened up by the Canada U.S. Trade Agreement. He predicted an enlargement of the Lindsay plant, in part possibly within months. He said markets have opened up for several products which may be made at the Lindsay plant, and he felt confident they have a productive labour force.

Mr. Firestone said it was a compliment to the local business workers when the Lindsay plant received a contract from the Ford Motor Company for $1,500,000 worth of one certain item. He said U.S. plants were making in bulk, over and over, or better, rubber air springs, and other products that with compression can be produced at the Lindsay plant. He said in the six months since production started at the Lindsay plant, only one work stoppage, and the aim of the Company was to provide good working conditions.

Stanford Roland Pitts, second after hearing the announcement, his emotions ran the gamut from shock and surprise to a deep sense of deep humility.

"What can I say? What would I have had happened to me since he came to Lindsay at the age of 17. 'A lot of things have happened lately,' he continued, adding that he had always been a real Lindsay booster, and "I make no apologies for that."

"I hope I may justify the honour in the future, and with God's good grace perhaps I will wear the crown with dignity," Mr. Pitts concluded.

In reporting for the judges' committee, Allan Gleason said over 70 nominations were received, "all except one nomination that pointed out us the fine works and commendable actions of these people."

Firestone plant at Lindsay generates wages alone $1,700,000 for area

"I feel we have the right people and we are going to be successful in Lindsay. We are going to increase wages as profits increase, we desire to produce good working conditions in our plant, and we have a tremendous market to aim at," Mr. Firestone said in closing.

NO HEADLIGHTS ON SNOWSTORM — DRIVER FINED FOR CARELESS DRIVING

Driving a car west on Kent Street without headlights was fined at seven p.m. January 7, 1968, and was convicted by Magistrate Ian Munro and fined $40 and costs in Lindsay police court Wednesday.

The driver, one George St. Pierre, Auto Body on Ogilvie Street, told the court he was proceeding home from work and had stopped on Victoria Avenue south at Kent Street waiting for traffic to clear when he got out of the car to cross Kent Street at the east end of Victoria Avenue when traffic had cleared, and he had proceeded on the side of Kent Street, it was said. He said it was snowy and blustery at the time but he did not see lights of any approaching vehicle as he looked at both east and west when crossing Kent Street.

Magistrate Ian Munro identified the accused as the person who stated that he was the driver of the westbound car, and that he had caused damage to the car.

On cross-examination Norman Burns said that he was the driver of the westbound vehicle when he was on the east side of Kent Street, and that he had caused damage to the car.

Plan world tour

Halliburton (PNS) — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dumsore of Burnaby, B.C., are planning a world tour, on the luxury liner, S.S. "Canberra" on March 4. They will be visiting the U.S.A. and the past month, visiting places of interest that include London, Paris, Rome, Naples, and the "Petrified Forest", "Disneyland" and Los Angeles.

They hope to fly to Norway, then to Great Britain, and home on July 1.

Defence counsel James McQuinn suggested that three independent witnesses stopped on the west side of Victoria Avenue could see the westbound car, possibly Mr. Burns did not keep a proper lookout as he crossed Kent Street.

Magistrate Munro ruled that Mr. Burns was observing the law and had entered from the west side of Kent Street. He said a vehicle approaching from the north, with headlights on, and vehicles in the intersection, and registered a conviction. Costs amounted to $39.00.

No. 19 Darkroom Space

Instead of buying your printing frame, paper, developing and fixing chemicals and other equipment separately, you can buy developing and printing OUTLETS the contents varying according to price. They can be obtained in a very elaborate set containing a printing box, darkroom lightfast, all necessary chemicals, and a variety of paper, or you can get sets of chemicals, paper and a small printing frame, at a very low cost. As a starting set, one around $17.50 should give you all the tools you need, although you could try a smaller one if you liked.

If you want to try your hand at doing your own finishing, but are not sure you will want to continue doing it, a smaller set would be the best for you. Then, if you decided it was as fascinating as most people do, you can replace the used materials with larger amounts, and can add to your equipment as you need it. If, on the other hand, you feel disinclined to go on with it, the experiment has cost very little.

Now, as to the room in which to work. For developing films, if you have a tank, as you should have, the only operation that must be carried out in total darkness is load- ing the film on to the spiral, and placing it into the tank. From there on, everything is done in ordinary room light in this case a clothes closet would suffice, provided that all light could be excluded, as would a broom closet if you could get into it.

For printing, though, more room is needed, as there must not only be room for all the equipment, such as processing trays, printing unit (whether contact or projector), paper and negative bench, but also room to move around. A bath- room seems to be the most favoured place, possibly because there is water there, and usually a small window that is easily covered. A wooden top for the bath tub suffices as a work bench. However, it must be remembered that it IS a bath room, and it may be in demand off and on during the evening printing.

The kitchen is another fairly popular place, and offers advantages over the bath room. There is generally more room in the kitchen, so it is easier to work in, and the table and benches already there save making the top for the bath tub. However, precautions must be taken to ensure that all food is put out of range of any splashes of chemicals, so must all utensils used in the food department. The benches should be covered with several thicknesses of newspaper around the working area, and the floor should also be covered. Even with very careful attention to not splashing chemicals around, there is always the chance that some drops of developer or fix will find their way to the protecting papers.

One big disadvantage of using either of these two rooms, is the necessary removing of the photographic gear, gathering up the papers, wiping the benches down, and returning the normal furnishings to their normal places.

It is much better if a space can be found where the set up can be left ready for next session of printing. In most houses a spot in the basement could probably be taken for this purpose. If a corner can be used, it will save work in the building of the walls, because the two outside walls are already there, and you need only two more. However, make sure that the outside walls do not become damp, before you start partitioning them off, because dampness can play havoc with chemicals, papers and equipment — and also the operator.

A couple of dollars worth of a basement waterproofing cement, such as can be obtained from hardware stores, may save many dollars worth of materials, if spread on the inside surface of the outside walls where the darkroom is to be. Ventilation should be provided, either by a special ventilated fan, or by a set of double louvers near the floor on one wall, and near the ceiling on the opposite wall. A sink, or what photographers call a "wet bench" should be installed for added convenience. A wet bench is simply a shallow sink in which all developing, fixing and washing operations are carried out, the size depending upon your method of washing, and the size of the trays being used.

Water over the sink is the greatest asset, and if there is no other way of getting it, why not run the garden hose in for washing? Improving a darkroom calls for a great deal of planning — or scheming — but it is surprising just what can be accomplished by a bit of scheming and a little cash.

THE TOP BUTTON...
Should it be buttoned? The traditional 3-button coat is usually worn with the middle button closed. The lapel is often rolled to the middle button, suggesting that the top button be left open.

A simple rule is to button the middle, never the bottom, and the top button is optional.

The two-button coat, however, is always worn with the top button closed.

frank about sports

Don't look now, but there could be a bit of skulduggery going on out on north York Square. Ontario Tiers are engaged in a 2-3 tie in the Newmarket Redmen at Newmarket has night. This puts the pressure squarely on the shoulders of the Newmarket Redmen to survive the round robin play-offs with two games left with Newmarket. A split on the pair if the win was decisive could give Lindsay a berth in the group finals, but two wins would remove all threat. First game here tonight.

Woodville Maroons and Robcaygeon Tl-Gals are having a see-saw battle with each team looking at home to tie the series at two games each. If past performance counts, Woodville has the extra away game, but the trend could change. Woodville goes to Robcaygeon tonight and the teams return to Woodville Saturday night in the best of seven series.

Haliburton Huskies will have their backs to the wall again Saturday night when they meet Stouffville Clippers in the fourth game of their best of five set, at Haliburton. Another win by the Huskies will force the fifth game at Stouffville.

Perhaps we could call it a back-and-forth finish at the Walker appeal at the Peel Street ice sheets Thursday evening. At least it was hair-raising with only two points separated the three top teams. Mrs. Kate Kay's rink had three wins and 47 points. Mrs. Charlotte Stoddard's rink from Woodville won three and picked (CP) - The Montreal Junior Canadiens pulled into a tie for second place in the OJA Rangers edged Boston 5 - 4.

Canada means Poland tomorrow in the second round of the world hockey championships at Ljubljana, Yugoslavia. The Canadians defeated the United States 7 - 2 in yesterday's opening round.

James Hamilton's Edmonton, Alberta, rink finished the Canadian women's curling championship in Vancouver underdog, after winning the title on the eighth round. Mrs. Jamie-son whipped Renee Snow of Halifax 11 - 4 to gain the title, then edged Mark Cooke of Vancouver 11 - 10.

The Casuals Club - Ernie Terrell heavyweight title fight might and up to Peterborough, Quebec, just outside Montreal. The Montreal Athletic Commission last night put several road blocks in the way of plans to stage the March 20th fight in the city.

The Toronto Maple Leafs have pulled into a third-place finish with the Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League by whipping the Montreal Ca-

On Wednesday, March 9, the Lindsay Ladies Curling Club will play host to eight championship rinks who will compete for the coveted Ontario Ladies' Tankard and trophy for the Norbly trophy.

This premier curling event will bring together rinks from Scarborough, Richmond Hill, Unionville and Scarborough. It will be a double rink competition, two rinks from each of the four clubs and the total scores of the two rinks will decide the winners.

The executive of the Lindsay club has had a bid in for the event for three years and local clubs are excited to have the opportunity of accommodating the visitors and at the same time pay due recognition to the president of O.L.C.A. Mrs. Glad Laidley. First draw will start at 9 a.m. and the second round will start at 2 p.m. Arrangements and handling of events are in charge of the following committee: Mrs. S. R. Pitts, general chairman; Mrs. W. Walker, social; Mrs. Geo. Williamson, transportation; and Mrs. Art Woodrow, reservations.

up 46 points, and Mrs. Jean Woodard's rink finished with three wins and 45 points.
Lakewood Intermediate teams are in their final series, with Uxbridge and Cobourg looking in their best of seven round robin "B" set, and Port Perry at Little Britain Saturday night will start the best of seven intermediate "C" final.

Lindsay Gyro Sliding Club is busy preparing for their carnival March 28th in the morning and evening. Most of the props are built and skating routines are smoothening out under the watchful eye of club professional Dennis Whitely.

Help for Crippled Children

The Easter Seals that help crippled children will be sent to more than 2,000,000 homes in Ontario in a few days. The mailing of the Easter Seals is one of the biggest voluntary projects undertaken in Ontario in the interest of children. In 231 cities and towns the members of service clubs such as Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Elks and others will see that envelopes are addressed and letters and seals are sent to all the people in their community, inviting them to help.

In the forty-four year history of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children and its association with service clubs, there have been thousands of children who have overcome their physical disabilities or have made such great improvement that they have carried on a normal existence. The public's support to the Easter Seal campaign has made additional services and expansion of the same possible so that the Society, through its field offices, is continually reaching out to help children who have a physical disability and need assistance.

Rehabilitation for crippled children can very often be a lengthy and expensive programme, but when the results mean some children will eventually be independent in movement and speech, the time and cost is not important. It is important to know that every Easter Seal gift will be of benefit to a child.

This year the Easter Seal campaign must raise at least $1,000,000, to guarantee that the care and treatment needed by more than 16,000 crippled children will continue to be met.

Today In History

(CP)—Today is Wednesday, March 29th, the 60th day of 1956. There are 297 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On this date in 1951, the Commons approved incorporation of a company planning a $100-million, 250-mile-a-day natural gas pipeline from Alberta to Montreal. The line was designed to follow an all-Canadian route from Plumber Creek, Alberta, to Montreal, possibly stretching later to Quebec City.

On This Date:

In 1796, Napoleon Bonaparte married Josephine Tascher De La Pagerie, in 1862, during the American Civil War, the Union's Monitor defeated the Confederacy's Merrimack at Hampton Roads, Virginia. In the first battle of the Ironclads.

In 1916, Pancho Villa attacked Columbus, New Mexico.

In 1928, the first telephone calls were made between Vancouver and Halifax and London, England.

In 1948, the Pro-Greek Cypriot leader, Archbishop Makarios was arrested as a terrorist and deported to an Indian Ocean island.

In 1961, the Russians launched and recovered from orbit Sputnik Nine with its cargo of a dog and smaller animals.

First World War

Fifty years ago today, in 1916, the Germans attacked Fort Vaux, a key strong-point at Verdun: HMS Connetta and a British torpedo boat hit mines off the English coast; British troops occupied Chala and Taveta, Tanzania.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today, in 1941, Britain rejected former President Roosevelt's request to set up soup kitchens in Belgium: London was heavily bombed for the second successive night.

Why I want to be a Pilot

The following was written by a ten-year-old school boy and was first published in the Baguette (Quebec) Beacon. We found it republished in the Canadian Forces Sentinel.

I want to be a pilot when I grow up because it's a fun job and easy to do. That's why there are so many pilots flying today. Pilot's don't need much school, they just have to learn numbers so they can read instruments. I guess they should be able to read road maps so they won't get lost.

Pilots should be brave so they can't be scared if it's foggy and they can't see, or if a wing or motor falls off they should stay calm so the pilot and I know what to do. Pilots have to have eyes to see thru clouds and they can't be afraid of lightning or thunder because they are closer to them than we are.

The salary the pilots make is another thing I like. They make more money than they can spend. This is because most people think flying is dangerous except pilots don't because they know how easy it is. There isn't much I don't like except girls, like pilots and all the stewardesses want to marry pilots so they always have to chase them away so they won't bother them. I hope I don't get any air sickness because I get car sick and I get air sick I couldn't be a pilot and then I would have to go to work.

Some serve them cold and some serve them hot, but deviled eggs—forget them not! These picnic-time favourites take on party airs when crumbled blue cheese and sour cream are added to the devilment. Served hot in mushroom sauce and spooned over hot joints, deviled eggs are a sunny addition to springtime menus.

"Hard-boiled" has replaced the phrase "hardboiled" in egg cooking terminology. Cooking the eggs in water, boiling temperature as versus tender whites and avoids discoloration around the yolk. Best results are obtained by placing the eggs in a saucepan containing enough water to cover them to 1 inch. Heat the water until it begins to boil rapidly. Turn off the heat, cover the kettle and allow it to stand 15 to 20 minutes. Then drain and turn cold water on the eggs for a minute or two so they cool.

Deviled Eggs in Sauce:
Yield: 4 servings
4 hard-cooked eggs, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon horseradish, 1 tablespoon crumbled blue cheese, 1 tablespoon dairy sour cream, 1½ oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup to cup milk.

Slice eggs in halves. Remove yolks and mash with a fork. Mix in salt, horseradish, blue cheese and sour cream. Refill whites with egg yolk mixture, heaping it lightly. Blend together mushroom soup and milk. Heat serve as a sauce over the deviled eggs.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean carpets that are faded and dusty?
A. Use a mixture of equal parts of cornmeal and part of flour. Place this mixture and the drier together over in a bag, and shake thoroughly. Usually does a fine job.

Q. What is a good way to clean lint from a clothes washing-machine area?
A. A metal scouring pad good for this—or some coarse steel wool.

Unit now you choose your fruit and grade in the size that came nearest to fitting you, which was the best provided you were a perfect 34-A or B or C or D. But you're not! Most women wear in size even without a gain or loss of weight. You may find that fat in a 34-B size and wish you were wearing a 34-C tomorrow. Now you can! Between these two new undergarments from a secret skin over your figure, expanding as you expand... contracting as you contract, resulting in the most wonderful freedom of all! Indeed, the secret is the new "Chemical-free" "C-C" fabric—a new, high quality fabric—of nylon and spandex that expands without binding and contracts without pinching. We can't possibly describe the heavenly feeling when these Daisy Fresh undergarments you simply must try them on to believe that a revolution has taken place in foundation design. Morton and Park commanded both in their treatment of residents and assistance rendered when required.

Judge Richardson reported that he had determined that no wrongful situation has or does exist in the care of the residents in the home with the exception of the incident, as a result of which the Nurses' Aid responsible was discharged by the then superintendent, R. Cross. The report indicates that no resident or residents have been injured as a result of the incident.

I was treated by a member of the staff, save as aforesaid, and the person referred to in the exception was discharged.

Judge Richardson said he felt obligated to make the following recommendations, although they may be outside the terms of reference.

Judge Richardson recommended that safety glass be installed throughout the special care wings. That James Gowden be permitted to visit his brother or any other person, only in the first floor visiting lounge, and then only in the presence of his nephew, Robert Gowden, or his niece, Mrs. Laidley.

Judge Richardson reported that Mr. Gowden was of the opinion that all residents of the Special Care Wing were normal mentally. The judge said it is not without significance that two of the alleged victims could be led into the widest families by the power of suggestion, the third victim, although gravely handicapped, is a constant reader and fairly alert.

The report states that it is obvious that Mr. Gowden was enjoying the limelight and he was most anxious that his newspaper clippings be returned to him. His desire for publicity was indicated by his action in releasing the accusations to the press and radio at a time when an appointment had already been made by Warden Cammack for his appearance before the Board of Management.

In summing up, Judge Richardson said that Fred Gowden has never committed any crime with his brother, his son or his daughter or to the Judge of any mistreatment and he denies having seen any of the incidents to which his brother alleged him to be a witness. The judge said he was confident that had Robert Gowden or Mrs. Laidley provided any credence in their uncle's charges they would have removed their father from the home with dispatch.

The judge noted that "it had been indicated throughout this report that the type of care required by some residents demands almost superhuman patience and understanding."

"No pile of bricks, glass and mortar, however triumphant architecture will ever be adequate unless it ensures to

The Victorian Order of Nurses which faced disbandment this week, the second time in two years, will continue for another year in Lindsay.

Archdeacon Harold Cleveland, a member of the Ontario VON told a meeting of 50 local supporters last night he was shocked when he read a newspaper advertisement which announced last night's meeting and said it was to elect new officers or disband.

Archdeacon Cleveland said people should go to VON meetings and support the organization. If the VON is to continue in Lindsay it must have a group of supporters who will say what they think, he added.

Mr. Cleveland said, "We are well into the second half of the 20th century and we must look forward."

Lindsay's VON nurse, Ruth Sales told the meeting Canadians were lucky to have the VON because if it were not for its existence it would have to be formed now. She said a visiting nurse service was essential with the demands being made on hospitals.

A supervisor of the Ontario VON, E. Catherine Medford said the VON had a great part to play in the health complex of service. She said the VON was established in 1897, had 100 branches and the organization was formed because need for an expressed need for the type of services it offers. Unlike other organizations, she said, it was first formed on the national level and then spread to the municipal level.

Mrs. Medford said each branch of the VON is responsible for its own financing. The home nursing service reaches 75 per cent of the Canadian population.

CLARIFICATION

The parents of Alan McLean 78 Queen Street, Lindsay, have advised "The Post" to make it clear that he is not the youth mentioned at Lindsay court on Monday as a theft charge. The Alan McLean charged resides at 88 St. Patrick Street.

"The Post" regrets any embarrassment inadvertently caused Alan McLean of Queen Street.

Bethany

Mr. and Mrs. Penny Clearwell and their family, of Detroit, Mich., were weekend guests with Mr. Dr. B. Fox and family in the death of his wife on Thursday, March 27.

$350 DAMAGE

Total damage of $350 resulted from a rear-end collision yesterday afternoon on Queen Street.

URGENT EXPANSION

Although the VON in Lindsay appeared to be on the verge of folding, both Miss Medford and Archdeacon Cleveland recommended expansion of the service in the Lindsay area.

Miss Medford said the service which now includes Lindsay and Ops Township should be expanded to meet the needs of people in other townships around Lindsay. She said other areas should be examined to see if they need the service and the board should use its initiative to put the service in other areas where needed.

Neither Miss Medford or Archdeacon Cleveland said whether they felt additional staff would be required if services were expanded.

Both urged the citizens of the town to meet the challenge of maintaining the VON in Lindsay.

The VON was saved when 50 interested citizens, attended the annual meeting last night. It was about four times the usual number at an annual meeting.

In 1965 interest in the VON in Lindsay was at the verge of folding in 1964 but in September of that year a number of Lindsay residents asked to have the service continued.

Art authority to address Guild

An art student since childhood, and a graduate engineer, Stephen Robb, will address the Lindsay Art Guild in the board room at the L.C.V.I. on "How to approach and appreciate paintings."

Stephen Robb was born in England, and although he has a degree in engineering, he continues to pursue his early interest in art. He is the owner of Sobor Art College, Cumberland Street, Toronto, and will tell something of the monetary value of paintings and will also discuss what to avoid from the dealer's viewpoint.

Victoria County Milk Producers meeting

An important meeting for all milk producers in Victoria County will be held in the Ontario Government Building, Lindsay, on March 14th, 1968, at 1:30 p.m.

Delegates appointed at Cattle Breeders Association dinner

Fourteen delegates were appointed at the Annual meeting of the Victoria County Branch of the Central Ontario Breeders' Association held at the L.O.O.F. Hall Thursday night, to attend the Association annual meeting at Maple, Ontario, March 22nd.

Well over one hundred members and their wives attended the dinner, and enjoyed dancing after the business session.

Several representatives from the head office at Maple, Ontario presented reports on the various phases of the C.O.C.B.A. activities which were well received. The Association president Craig Reed of Halton County spoke to the gathering along with manager Dr. Reed, and field supervisor Stewart Dyson.

Lindsay veterinarian Dr. A. F. Codlin chaired the election of a director to replace James Walker of Lindsay, who found it necessary to retire to attend to his own farm operation. Robert Reed of Beato was elected by acclamation.

Woodville area director Clifford Lillico chaired the annual meeting and commended the three County technicians for promoting the good turn-out.

Request for sign to be considered by Fenelon council
Fenelon Falls council last night asked a spokesman for the L.C.B.O. to submit another request for permission to erect a pedestal sign in front of their establishment.

Arthur Pogue, speaking for the establishment, asked for a reading of the bylaw pertaining to erection of signs in the village. He said he did not understand why a former request for permission to erect a sign had not been mentioned in the minutes of the meeting but the establishment he represented had been notified by letter that the request was denied. In answer to a question by Mr. Pogue, the meeting was told the L.C.B.O. paid a grant of $733.74 in lieu of taxes last year.

The reeve, Rev. J. B. Harrison asked Mr. Pogue to submit another request including a sketch of the proposed sign and a list of hours during which the sign would be illuminated. Mr. Pogue had told council the illuminated sign would be turned off no later than 6:00 p.m. Councilor Reg. Dunning said the residents in the area have to be considered. He said the sign was on until late hours at night.

(GENERAL CONTRACTOR)

On The Main Street

In the rapidly revolving cycle of time there are a number of residents of Emily Township who graciously trace their ancestry back through four generations.

Peter Callaghan is one of these gentlemen. He and his sister reside on the same one hundred acre farm on which his great-grandfather, his grandfather, and his father tolled and hewed and eked out a good living. The original log house, long ago covered with clap-board, on lot 7, concession 7, has withstood the test of time and is one of the fine comfortable homes in the old Township of Emily, located on a stretch of highway between Omnesme and Downeyville.

The four generations of Callaghans were named Patrick, his son was called Michael, the latter's son was named Patrick, followed by Vincent.

Just a year ago, Mr. Vincent Callaghan disposed of a fine old log barn to a cottager on the lake, who used the logs in the construction of a large dock or wharf.

Except for three years spent in the Canadian Army, with the 109th Battalion in England and France, Vincent Callaghan has been a real home bird. He came out of the first World War with a few scratches, but as he remarked, "They are nothing compared to the scratching I had to do after the war, when I bought stock at a high price and was forced to sell on a sliding down market. However, there is a lot of personal satisfaction

In knowing that I stuck to the farm and it is still in the family as you see." Great grandfather Callaghan was one of several hundred sons of Ireland who embarked from Mulose in the County of Cork, and sailed across the ocean in 1925 as part of the Peter Robinson Immigration when over 2,000 Irish people were practically driven from their native shore by deprivation and destitution. Several boat loads of immigrants spent thirty days on the ocean — a long and perilous trip which was accomplished after many hardships. It is reported that as many as 11 people on a boat, mostly children, died almost daily of dysentery, gout, and other ailments.

Great grandfather Callaghan arrived at the port of Quebec and finally, after many days, reached Kingston, and later reached Port Hope.

Mr. Callaghan recalled his initial facts regarding the expedition. For instance, the Peter Robinson Immigration transported hundreds of Protestant Irish families to the north side of Emily Township, some ten miles from Cavan. Another few hundred Irish Catholic families settled in the northern part of Emily, north of Omnesme, and around Downeyville which place at the time was not called Downeyville.

The immigrants travelled up and down hill and dale from Port Hope to Emily. They had been granted Crown Lands free, but a certain amount of clearing and building had to be undertaken. The British government gave the immigrants a start by furnishing them with food, clothing, cooking vessels, an axe, a hammer, nails, and some tools. From there on, the Callaghans and others had to work almost day and night to clear land for their cabins, burn off the forest, and get on for living.

The death of great grandfather Patrick Callaghan was shocking and tragic. He is reported to have been seriously hurt when a huge boiler he was burying in a hole in the ground rolled, pinning this pioneer farmer. Patrick Callaghan never fully recovered from this accident.

"To-day we do not know what real hardships are," said Vincent Callaghan as he recalled the stories told by his grandfather and father. "To-day, farmers in Emily Township are almost plagued by deer."

"The deer roam all over the farm and I think it would be well to have a short open season for deer in Emily. In pioneer days however according to what I was told, farmers and their families had to contend with wolves and bears, but the hardest task was in clearing the farm."

HUGE STONES
According to our narrator, the fields were later covered with stones and rocks. The stones were too big to be hauled away to a fence corner, and a farmer had to dig large holes and tumble the large stones into these holes.

The name Downey was and still is one of the best known in the township, and this is one reason for the naming of

Then on the following Wednesday night, the bride and groom of 50 years ago were guests of honour at a surprise turkey dinner at Calvary Temple, Glenora Street West, put on by the members when about 100 members were in attendance. ## Fenelon Falls to appoint planning board

"There is no purpose in us starting something that may be thrown out next year," observed councillor T.C. Godier during a discussion on appointing a planning board for the village of Fenelon Falls at the village council's meeting Monday night. Continuing, he said he had no objection to planning boards or chambers of commerce, but "if we cannot solve our own problems at the local level it was learned that Fenelon had better stay out of it" he said.

Council members learned it would cost up to $500 for an expert appraisal of the village area, plus an additional $5,000 to $6,000 to implement the plan, and approximately $500 a year to keep the plan up to date, but it was pointed out that "concerning the plan, one cannot have a zoning by-law."

A Fenelon Fall resident, Alvin Godier, said he would need someone on the planning board who could devote months and months of study to it, then "say the best advice you can buy, but find out what you can't find."

Continuing, Mr. Godier suggested council appoint a planning board which will think, and find, and find the answer.

Is new garbage truck needed more than a new fire truck?

"I know you seem to me getting into discussions" said Reg. Gunning asked the chief of Fenelon Falls taxpayer Albert Godier, who suggested Fenelon village council should consider other needs of the village before deciding on the purchase of a new fire truck at the March meeting of the council on Monday night.

James Curtis, Fenelon Falls fire chief, outlined to council items for consideration by the council. Two items suggested were a tank truck and a new fire truck. Chief Curtis said the fire truck was becoming obsolete, and outlined advantages of a new fire truck, including additional water supply. He suggested the portable pump be replaced by a new pump and truck used for street cleaning.

Curtis also suggested consideration of a fire alarm system in the village. The present alarm system is not reliable, he said. Under C.M.O. regulations a new alarm system would be substituted at an expense of 15 percent of $100,000.

Chief Curtis said the fire truck was becoming obsolete, and outlined advantages of a new fire truck, including additional water supply. He suggested the portable pump be replaced by a new pump and truck used for street cleaning.

Curtis also suggested consideration of a fire alarm system in the village. The present alarm system is not reliable, he said. Under C.M.O. regulations a new alarm system would be substituted at an expense of 15 percent of $100,000.

"Has council considered Albert Godier," who suggested Fenelon village council should consider other needs of the village before deciding on the purchase of a new fire truck at the March meeting of the council on Monday night.

James Curtis, Fenelon Falls fire chief, outlined to council items for consideration by the council. Two items suggested were a tank truck and a new fire truck. It was learned that would village council's meeting Monday night. Continuing, he said he had no objection to planning boards or chambers of commerce, but "if we cannot solve our own problems at the local level it was learned that Fenelon had better stay out of it" he said.

Council members were told that a previous application had been turned down by the community planning branch when it was learned that would Township was not willing to be included in a planning project at this time. The letter went on to state that the village as an independent planning area was not feasible.

But Mr. O.M. Hennessey in explaining a letter he had submitted to council, pointed out that he was not taking approval of employing a planning consultant. Mr. Hennessey said he only urged the approval of a planning consultant, who could pursue the many facets of the proposed plan.

Councillor Reginald Dundas moved a motion that a six man planning board be appointed. Mr. Hennessey suggested members to act. The motion passed in council.

Mr. Godier said that the council should consider the village planning board of the Ontario Municipal Board was offered.

Nuclear Accidents

It appears likely that the missing nuclear device, still the object of an intense search by 20 U.S. Navy ships off the coast of Spain will stay put. The missing bomb is possibly sunk in the muck of the Mediterranean, perhaps 1,000 feet deep. Hydroacoustic-gauging devices can only penetrate a few inches into the muck. The bomb was lost after a B-52 collided with a tanker plane during refuelling and plummeted to the earth in a rain of flaming fuel and four bombs, near the village of Palomares, Spain.

It-bombs have been lost before. One is believed to be buried in North Carolina where a bomber crashed in 1961 and others are reported to have been jetisoned or lost at sea. Fortunately the advanced search devices have prevented a nuclear explosion. A story in the Toronto Telegram this week reported that an examination of a nuclear device jetisoned in North Carolina in 1961 showed a 4 or 5 switches through the mishap and the one remaining switch prevented a possible explosion. The incident gave new evidence.

A Tale of the Times

A short story released five years ago came to light recently in a new newspaper clipping.

A man known to the Ontario Safety League recently crushed out a life on a road trip around the world. He was driving home from work on a bright day and along the way, children were playing on the roadside. The road was wide and there were no traffic.

Suddenly a small figure darted out. In an unthinking hopeless attempt to cross the road he was hit. The driver was travelling within the 30 minutes to safety research. Unarmed Nuclear bombs have blown apart following crashes by their conventional explosive charges and plutonium and uranium has been scattered by the crash.

What of the future? Will bombs jetisoned in the sea eventually erode and contaminate water? Will other nations developing nuclear bombs imitate on as many safety features as the U.S.? Will a jetisoned bomb or device in a crashed airplane explode through a mechanical failure one day? Around the clock around the world bombers of the U. S. Strategic Air Command fly carrying nuclear weapons and planes of the United Nations are doing the same thing. It is likely that some hundreds of nuclear devices are being transported around the globe at any given time.

The danger of an accidental explosion may be negligible but it does exist. Even without the horror of a war, this globe may yet see vast nuclear devastation somewhere.

Perhaps the most terrible, accident as it would be, would serve as a grim lesson to the nations of this earth.

miles per hour speed limit, but his foot came not reached the brake before he felt the thump of his wheel passing over the little boy.

The newspaper editor showed the body on the road, lying motionless and twisted. The driver suppressed his first instinct to stop and gave the victim. He drove on slowly, with sweating palms and a sick feeling inside.

It was a squirrel that had run out to its death under his wheels . . . but it might easily have been a child.

The Heart Of A U niversity

"Just as it is the scholar's basic job to be a scholar and pursue learning, so the student's job at a university is 'learning'—learning, money, knowledge—even if at first he is only learning to learn. This does not mean cutting out vocational education or forbidding the joys of youth. Perhaps there never was a majority of dedicated students at any university. But it does mean that unless, at the heart of university life, there exists an intense concern for learning for its own sake, then the university has lost its essential raison d'être."—David Thompson, Master of Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge.

Wright Brothers era

In about 20 years the man on the street will be able to go on a sightseeing trip around the world. S. S. Armstrong, Frank Borman during the weekend in Australia. He said space flight of today, although more sophisticated, could be compared to the development of the airplane in the Wright Brothers era.

Unquestionably 20 years ago and compares the airplane flying then and the airplane flying now, we are at the Wright Brothers stage of development."

omment," he said. Tips to the moon seem fantastic now, but he said the idea of jet flying seems fantastic in the twenties. The miracle of today is commonplace tomorrow.

At a time when old world needs to be now is get to the "Wright Brothers era" in matters of slum clearance, food for the starving multitudes of the world and the treatment of disease to become worthy of the honour of travelling in space!

Crosswalk Safety

Some thought should be given to the creation of crosswalks in various parts of downtown Lindsay. For instance, a pedestrian crosswalk should be provided on Kent Street close to the Loblaw's store where traffic is heavy, another should be provided on Kent Street near the Dominion Store.

Undoubtedly the best type of crosswalk, particularly up near the Loblaw store would be the traffic signal type created by a pedestrian. With this type of signal, a person wishing to cross the road presses a button and their crosswalk on a green signal. The mechanism is so arranged that a certain amount of time must elapse before the signal can be activated again.

The Toronto style zebra crosswalks have received a considerable amount of criticism. Basically the system is used

In many countries, however often with refinements.

In Britain zebra crosswalks have black and white poles each side of the road surrounded by large orange coloured globes which flash on and off. These "Belisha beacons" as they are called are seen clearly, even at night, as a warning of danger.

In Japan some crosswalk areas have receptacles containing flags. Instead of a pedestrian "pointing the way to safety" with an outstretched hand, a flag is held up and carried across the road to the other side as soon as the traffic stops, and is deposited in a receptacle for future use. These flags are easier to see than a pointing hand.

The matter of crosswalks in busy sections of Lindsay might well be given consideration.

Better View

A Liberal provincial premier whose mother tongue is French, has given a sensible and effective reply to the Canadian Union Liberal Federation, which has demanded that the Queen be no longer recognized as the monarch of Canada.

Premier Louis Robichaud, of New Brunswick, committing on the Liberal students' pro-republican resolution, has declared, "The Crown is a force for unity and equity in a world that is much in need of both."

Premier Robichaud has shown that, in the field of Canadian constitutional Canada, like the rest of the Commonwealth, has never been in need of the unity and sanity, and indeed the constitutional stability, which the monarch, even in absentia, has afforded (at little cost to Canadians) ever since English-and-British-speaking Canadians began their efforts in creating one nation two centuries ago.

"Wales for Ever"

"Why, asked a plaintive reader recently in a Toronto newspaper, are the Welsh forgotten? St. Patrick is praised on the 17th of Ireland, Scotland is lauded on St. Andrew's day and on Bobbie Burns birthday, while England gets a nod on St. George's day."

Yet nobody seems to wear a daffodil (or leaf) on St. David's Day. Toronto we notice the proud new subway has a St. Patrick's St. St. Andrew's and St. George's station—but no St. David's!

Yet, this sturdy race of songsters has done much to develop the Commonwealth countries.

So when we give a thought to the people and races of the 'old country'—let us remember too the Welsh.

Recipe for Newsprint

The following was "lifted" from the December issue of the Resource Range, a house journal, "lifted" from the magazine of The Ontario Paper Company Limited . . . "The Observation Post," (and we "lifted" it from the Credit Valley Conservation Authority magazine). Actually there are two recipes . . . one for a small home-made batch and the other in larger quantities in case you happen to own a paper mill.

First get yourself a few handfuls of sawdust, and a handful of shavings. Dump them into a pot of boiling water. Boil and stir. Boil and stir again and again. Add a bit of molasses. Boil and stir some more. Soon you will have a mess of soupy pulp on the pot.

Meanwhile, get a window screen and lay it out on a couple of chairs. Do this quickly. Riffing and rifling the pulp aside and gently pour the pulp as evenly as you can on the screen. When the water has dripped away through the screen, the pulp is nearly dry, peel it carefully from the screen. There you have your sheet of paper.

Take it back indoors and put the sheet on an ironing board. Pass a warm iron back and forth across the sheet. It will dry many times, first and then the other. This dries and polishes the sheet. This recipe makes about one square foot of lumpy, dum-coloured paper.

If you happen to have a paper mill handy, you will need the following for each ton of newsprint you want to make: 6.5 cords of pulpwood (peeled); 60 pounds of limestone; 40 pounds of sulphur; 30 pounds of alum; and a pinch of blue dye. And you will need about 1500 kilowatt hours of electrical energy (that's more than two-month supply for your house), about 60,000 gallons of water and about 45 gallons of fuel oil, plus other lubricants.

Industrially, to create a ton of newsprint manufacturing capacity requires a capital investment of about $125,000.00 not counting power and wood supply.

Dog wanted to ride in cruiser court told: charge dismissed

A charge of driving while impaired against John Cecil Hyler, 50, of Bobcaygeon, was dismissed in the Lindsay police court Thursday afternoon.

The charge was dismissed after Crown witnesses testified that the accused's manner of driving and walking was quite normal.

Hyler was charged after an accident on January 20 on Highway 121, north of Kilmory, at 7 p.m. William Edward Dugan of R.R. 1, Minden told the court he was following the accused, and said the Hyler vehicle was proceeding normally on the highway and then pulled out onto the shoulder.

The accused and a defence witness said Hyler pulled out into the road and was having trouble with the dinner switch in his car.

Dugan said the accused's car came back onto the highway after he passed it, and the accused's car was part way into it, but he increased speed to get out of the glare of the headlights.

"NAUGHT FOR YOUR COMFORT"

by Rev. Ronald H. Hunt, B.A., L.S.T., B.Th., Chaplain, Ontario Training School, for Girls

The following are some of the problems in many parts of the world, are still with us. However, they change to such proportions, that it might be hard to find circumstances in South Africa now, as Father Huddleston describes them. NAUGHT FOR YOUR COMFORT raises a deeper question: What is a Christian's attitude to life in the world around him? A question involves him immediately in the issues and content of the world.

Father Huddleston is described as a man of great compassion and love for his fellow-men in "distress".

With this concern he does not help bring down into the circumstances which took place in South Africa. In April 1967, Father Huddleston was recalled to England to take a post in his order. Since that time he has taken part in the world's press, television, radio and television broadcasts and continues to lecture to the people from all walks of life.

In many places in the world, these new few represent what is called the Season of Lent. This is a time of preparation for Christians who are preparing to share in the Easter-experience. It is a time to see again morally of daily living in the Light of the Cross and to seek after the Source of authentic Christian living.

Perhaps, during this Lenten season, the message in "NAUGHT FOR YOUR COMFORT" might serve to help the Christian's evaluation of his pattern of daily living and challenge Christians to seek the Source for truly concerned and committed living.

The principle in NAUGHT FOR YOUR COMFORT has been the author's own life story from which it is taken. Indeed, the problem in the world around him is a question involves him immediately in the issues and content of the world.

ARE YOU PHYSICALLY UP FOR SCUBA DIVING?

Dear Dr. Steinhilber: My husband, a former college athlete, has now become a scuba diving enthusiast. I am not for anything he likes, except I'm worried that at 42, he's a bit old for this sport. Aren't there certain rules for against participation?

Mr. T.

Comment: There are certainly stop signs, Mr. T., but age itself is not one of them. Many over 40 can scuba dive, but there is one essential step to take before they do: have periodic physical examinations which indicate fitness for the sport.

Millions who are now enthusiasts attest to the fact that it can be safe. But the many fatalities (over 50 fatalities in the past four years, in Florida alone) indicate the need for being as sure as one can that one is physically and emotionally up to par for the job in hand.

A self-contained underwater breathing apparatus diving is strenuous exercise. In a recent paper in the Journal of the Florida Medical Association, Douglas E. Williamson, M.D., of Venice, Fla., made some pertinent points. Blood pressure should be normal; 145 systolic or 90 diastolic. No gastrointestinal disease. No genitourinary disease or active venereal disease. No acute or chronic skin disease. No oropharyngeal disease of the nervous system. No neuropsychiatric disorders. No history of epilepsy. In short, in making an animate of your fitness for diving.

It's important to know if you have suffered from any of the following in the past: Hay fever or sinus trouble. Difficulty in breathing through the nose, discharge from ears, mastoid, or a broken ear drum. Asthma or shortness of breath after moderate exercise, chest pain or persistent cough, peptic ulcer, kidney or bladder disease, arthritic, dry spells, tinea, sea or car-sickness, alcoholism or any drug habit, jaundice or hepatitis, diabetes, tuberculosis or anemia.

Your vision should be acceptable. Some have been known to surface and have difficulty finding the boat or find or even the shore. Dives and bridges must be satisfactory so they can grip the mouthpiece of the diving apparatus. The ears and ear canals must be in good working order.

There should be no obstruction to breathing and no signs of chronic sinusitis. The lungs should be normal on physical and X-ray examination. There should be no significant abnormality of the cardiovascular system. Blood pressure should be normal; 145 systolic or 90 diastolic. No gastrointestinal disease. No genitourinary disease or active venereal disease. No acute or chronic skin disease. No oropharyngeal disease of the nervous system. No neuropsychiatric disorders. No history of epilepsy. # KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter A. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.
Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

THE PROBLEM OF FATIGUE

What are the most common problems in the doctor's office? What does he hear most about after day after day? Cough? Constipation? Pain? Acids? Sleeplessness? Indigestion? Nervousness?

I admit that these symptoms can't be left out of any representative list of the most common patients talk about. But there is one which belongs somewhere near the head of the list: fatigue. Sometimes it is the only complaint. At other times, it is tied in with some already recognized illness. For example:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: For months now I have been having nervous exhaustion. I feel so physically sick at times, but what bothers me most is fatigue. So far the tests and X-rays have not turned up the cause. Have you any suggestions—Mrs. F.

Comment: When a patient complains of fatigue as the presenting symptom, the most important job the doctor can do is to try to make the diagnosis, try to find the actual cause. Here you have a patient who says your doctor is already on the diagnostic trail with X-rays and other tests. That is of the utmost importance. We must make certain that the underlying trouble isn't some serious organic disease. It's necessary first to rule out such conditions as the various anemias, tuberculosis, low functioning thyroid ad-normal growths, and scores of other potential causes of fatigue.

NERVES MAY BE THE CAUSE

If an test is negative and the physician is quite sure there isn't underlying organic disease, it's quite important that he make careful inquiry into your emotional life. Just plain "nerves" are one of the most common causes of extreme fatigue.

It's not easy to discover what is causing "nerves"; nevertheless, it is an essential part of the examination. Some times it's worry, resentment, boredom, loss of sleep, or being in a job that one actually hates. There are scores of other reasons, too.

As I cannot make your diagnosis, these are my suggestions. Don't be content with negative tests and a diagnosis that "it's only your nerves." Only! Anyone who has suffered from nerves and fatigue knows that's putting it mildly. What's causing "nerves" and fatigue is the problem which needs to be solved. Otherwise, taking all kinds of tranquillis, vitamins and tonics on a hit-or-miss basis are ineffectual.

WIGS AND HAIR GROWTH

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is it true that wearing a wig will run one's own hair, causing it to fall out, without new regrowth, regardless of how little it is worn?

My hair dresser told me this

Special meeting held in Fenelon

Fenelon Falls (PNS)—Mrs. John Bell was speaker on Friday, February 25th, when the women of Fenelon Falls met in the Salvation Army parlour to observe the World Day of Prayer. A prelude of soft organ music, by Mrs. M. W. Robson, was played while the members representing the village churches assembled.

Mr. C. Clerk, of the Immigrant Baptist Church gave the call to worship. Other leaders during the service were Mrs. W. Straley (Salvation Army); Mrs. Hugh Hargrove (Anglican); Mrs. W. D. Marchison (Presbyterian); Mrs. Mrs. Sturgeon (Lutheran); Mrs. W. Barrett (United); and Mrs. G. Bell (Evangelical Baptist).

I wear my wig about three evenings a week. My hair is very fine and thin. Since she told me, I imagine it is getting thinner—Mrs. B.

Comment: Unless scalp treatments have come up with some recent information which has escaped me, I think it's safe to say that wearing a wig as you do is no threat to your own hair. Enjoy your wig. From what I've heard and seen, wigs are like a gift from heaven for many women with hair like yours.

KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Steinbohr, M.D., F.A.C.P.
Author of "The Doctor Looks At It"

WOMAN NERVOUSNESS IN CHURCH COULD WELL BE CHRONIC ANXIETY

Dear Dr. Steinbohr: I am 29 years old and have three children who are 8, 6, and 3. Ever since I can remember I have been nervous in church. I just seem to fall apart. I actually shake all over.

If you ask me to see a doctor I'll say I did. When I asked him why I was so nervous in church he said "What's the matter with you? A gully conscience?"

Maybe that's true, but that answer certainly didn't help me any. I just don't want to go to church any more, but every Sunday I tell myself this is stupid and I'm going to get over it, but each Sunday I'm just as nervous as the one before.

I make it pretty good most days but when we have to stand up and sing I get short of breath and can't even sing, and then I start shaking. I've read a lot of books for months and I've never read of a problem like mine. Or perhaps I've misread it. Can you help?

Comment: I think most readers will agree that you've missed the clue. I've written about chronic anxiety, for that's what I believe you are suffering from. Only a guess, mind you. Another doctor's opinion based on careful examination and questioning will give you the real diagnosis. It may or may not be anxiety. Do our guess that the reason

My doctor thinks I ought to have an operation on my heart so they can put in a new aortic valve. But I prefer to put that off and have the hial hernia fixed. Perhaps that will help the fainting and shortness of breath. What do you think, Mr. A.

Comment: I can't even think, only guess. I doubt that repairing the diaphragmatic (hial) hernia will prevent the fainting attacks. These are usually associated with Stokes Adams syndrome. And I doubt that hernia repair will help the shortness of breath. I believe that the combination of heart and brain disease are reasons enough for this symptom.

But things first. And I think your doctors have made the sensible, and only selection: repair the heart before engaging in any other operation. Meanwhile, it will help to take off quite a few of those extra pounds. Best wishes for a good recovery. (Released by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

THE DOCTOR'S DILEMMA, HYPOCHONDRIAC OR NOT?

One of Aesop's fables should be on the most reading list of every physician. At least once a week he should read it. I remember it. The one in which the crow of Voltaire was made in jest. Then, when a wolf really came snoring along, the desperate cry of Voltaire went unheeded.

Why should we read it? Because it is only human to be somewhat complacent, hearing hundreds of patients complain of something they consider serious only to find that their trouble is entirely emotional or imaginary.

The table will keep reminding us physicians to respond to every call for help as if the wolf or disease were really menacing the patient. It's so easy to say, "It's only your nerves." It's more difficult to keep looking and sympathizing and protecting the patient. Too many patients wear the unfair label, hypochondriac. Dear Dr. Steiner, I read with interest the letter printed concerning the woman of 35 who had suffered fatigue and continual decline in strength. Six years ago, I, too, suffered identical symptoms each day I had to drag myself out of bed and to my place of employment.

DIAGNOSED TROUBLE AS EMOTIONAL

No doubt my co-workers considered me a hypochondriac. I went to a doctor for a

MYXEDEMA

Psychotic behaviour which mimics actual mental disease can occasionally be due to trouble in the thyroid gland. There have been cases reported in which the confused and hallucinations, and actual delirium were said to have been caused by myxedema (seriously underactive thyroid gland). I recall one such lady who recovered completely on taking a few grains of desiccated thyroid daily. (This is but one more example of the truth that the good diagnostician must not take any diagnosis for granted.)

We Thaw but were not Conquered!

We Thaw—but were not conquered! "Spring Thaw '66" which appeared in Lindsey last Monday "succeeded in offending the reviewer for the Lindsey Daily Post" notes Alex Harris in his column in Thursday's "Toronto Telegram". Mr. Harris quotes a portion of the review in his column.

Our reviewer called Spring Thaw "a rosy affair with a warm in it," and since its publication we have had a round down coming from the review. This year's Spring Thaw seemed unduly preoccupied with sex. In previous years the revue provided tart comment on politics, the world of entertainment and business, the latest scapdals of government and lampooned TV commercials.

Last year's Spring Thaw was full of fun and even the memorable Tom Jones scene was delightfully amusing. This year the cast came, we saw, but they did not conquer. Too many of the skits including the satire on Batman, the go-go dancer, the woman in the book shop, A Trial of Palenice and others were objectionable to many viewers.

We hope next year's show, if it returns to Lindsey, will revert to taking healthy satirical swipes at all Canada's sacred cows, without fear or favour, and without being obsessed with sex.

Today In History

(CP)—Today is Friday, March 11th, the 70th day of 1966. There are 295 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:
On this date in 1885, a blizzard swept most of the eastern seaboard of the United States, claiming some 200 lives. In New York City, snowdrifts 30 feet deep blocked Herald Square, thousands were marooned in their homes, the stock exchange shut down, telegraph communications were halted and railroads ceased to operate.

On This Date
In 1760, the Daily Courant, London's first daily newspaper, first appeared.
In 1810, Napoleon Bonaparte married Marie Louise of Austria.

In 1906, Sir Wilfrid Laurier created the National Bilingualism Commission, largely to prevent the Plains of Abraham from falling into the hands of speculators.
In 1931, a steamer exploded on the Yangtze River in China, killing 300.

In 1955, the Bank of Canada opened for business.

Banquet held in Cannington

Cannington (PNS) — On Thursday of last week at the Cannington United Church the Ladies Banquet was held at the February meeting catered to by the men of the church.

Mrs. Wm. Wakelin, acting president in the absence of Mrs. J. Pipper, introduced the head table, and welcomed the guests from the local churches and the surrounding villages.

Mrs. E. Ruth, of Lindsay Presbytery, responded, then the meeting retired to the church sanctuary.

Mrs. F. D. Farwell was in charge of the devotional, and sang a hymn, with Mrs. N. McPharlane at the organ.

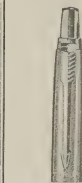

Mrs. M. Shaw then gave a commentary.

Mrs. J. Bain offered the prayer and the devotions were closed by the singing of a hymn. Mrs. Murray from the Board of Women reported briefly on a conference held in Chicago.

The audience was favoured with a solo by Mrs. Colby of Unbridge, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Bryan.

Mrs. Scott Brandon, introduced the speaker of the evening Mrs. Ben Garrett, wife of the Rev. Garrett of Lindsay. Her talk was most interesting. Mrs. Lloyd Beatty thanked the speakers and soloist.

A short business meeting was held with Mrs. Southern, the recording secretary, giving the minutes of the January meeting. It was decided to have the March dinner, but the date to be decided later, but

The Wonderful World of Women

A little of 'this and that' by Helene Scott

We dropped into the newly-renovated Bonfire Restaurant Friday afternoon for a free cup of the Bonfire's coffee and a doughnut. Actually, we didn't go for the coffee, but to have look around at all the many changes that have been made in the past months. We were pleased with what we saw, as were the many other visitors who came in to congratulate Jack and Eileen Beal on the Bonfire's "new look."

A separate dining room, called "The Victoria Room," has been added to the restaurant. It is a lovely large room, with wall-to-wall carpeting, beamed ceiling, and appropriate lighting. The tables are set with snowy white napery, and gleaming silver, each table centred with a bud vase with flowers. The dining chairs have upholstered seats for added comfort. The Victoria Room fills a place to go for a special occasion, a family dinner, or a place to take a business acquaintance out to lunch.

The decor of the main restaurant has been completely changed, and was well-complemented on opening day, with many beautiful bouquets from well-wishers.

Downstairs the Kawartha Room has been enlarged, which will enable them to cater to larger parties, banquets and wedding parties. The Bonfire has always been famous for its meals and excellent coffee. Under new ownership this trend will continue with many more extras for your dining pleasure.

Today, as we all know from studying the international situation, a diplomat is a gent who can be screaming even though his country isn't.

The Scarborough Curling Club not only took home the "Tallard" in last week's bonspiel, but each member of the rink also received a lovely covered silver casserole. The runner-up, Kitchener, received silver Slant Bells.

The Norther trophy winners received silver trays and the runner-up silver cake dishes. The general convenor was Mrs. Stan Pitts who was assisted by her committee: Mrs. Ann Walker, Mrs. Grace Worslow, Mrs. George Williamson and Mrs. G. Edwards.

The many guests present were 3 past presidents of the Ontario Ladies' Curling Association: Mrs. Robinson of Toronto, Mrs. Gooch of Hamilton, and Mrs. Dulmage of Peterborough. These three ladies have been associated with curling for many years, and it was a pleasure to welcome them to this year's tournament at the Lindsay rink.

The Human Touch. The human touch is much in that count. The touch of your hand and heart is the most precious.

Than sheller and bread and wine. For shelter is gone when the night is over.

And bread lasts only a day. But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice Sing on in the soul again.

—S. M. Free. Have a favourite short poem send it in. Original poetry most welcome.

Isn't it strange how some people get discovered, while others just get found out.

Capital punishment is when the government taxes you in order to get capital to go into competition with you, and taxes the profits on your business to pay for its losses.

Now don't worry if Ottawa takes the shirt off your back; they've got a bureau of some kind to keep it in.

Taxes are like golf. You drive hard for the green and end up in the hole.

Fashion Avenue. From Walker's soon coming to Lindsay Fashion Avenue Spring '68 is a two-way street called Fashion Avenue. On one side fabrics range forth in a great and glorious array, ranging from shirts to rustic weaves. On the other side, corsairs tread as Spring time and clear as a summer sunrise will reside. Both share equal road space — and put together have inspired all the fashions in the following editions that we shall try to show you about.

Helene Chatten With her husband she came to Canada in 1908. For some years she resided in Onemore and her sister, Mrs. Harriet Chatten, and following her sister's death, had resided in Peterboro.

She is survived by two sons, Jesse of Fawcett, William of Onemore, and three daughters Mrs. Fred Connors (Bliss), of Bruce's Point, Mrs. Kenneth Boyd, (Gladys), of Peterboro, and Ed. Seagrath (Daisy) of Peterboro. One sister and two brothers are predeceased. Also surviving are 27 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

The late Mrs. Chatten was Anglican and regular attendant of Christ Church for many years.

The late Mrs. Chatten resided at the Rehill Parlor, where many friends gathered to pay their respects, and the many lovely floral offerings testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Service was held from Christ Church on Monday, Feb. 26, at 11 a.m., with the Rev. Mr. Urquhart officiating.

The funeral service of Nancy Boyette Farrow of Victoria Road was held in the United Church here on March 2nd, with a very large congregation in attendance to pay their respects to the departed.

Nancy passed away as a result of injuries received when she was struck by a car while walking on the Highway 1/2 mile south of the village on the evening of February 27th.

She was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, by ambulance, then shortly after to St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto in the same manner. Very shortly after arriving there she died.

Nancy was sixteen years of age, attended Fenelon Falls High School and was in Grade 11. She also at one time attended Kirkfield Public School as well as Victoria Road P.S. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farrow ran the White Rose Garage here in the village prior to its changing hands recently.

Of a quiet disposition, Nancy was very kind and friendly and many friends witnessed her activities took her. She was very popular with her school chums and she was respected by all. Nancy was very studious, not liking to miss even a day of school. She aspired to follow the teaching profession had she lived. The many floral tributes in the church were a reflection of the esteem in which Nancy Farrow was held.

She is survived by her parents, a younger sister, Joan, and an older brother John. The late Miss Farrow resided at the Slodgett Parnell home in Woodville, then to Victoria Road Church. Temporary interment was at Lakeview Cemetery Kirkfield.

The service was conducted by Rev. Harrison of Cobcocks assisted by Rev. Bradbury of Kirkfield.

The colours are as varied as a kaleidoscope: Spring, navy, camel, jade, beige, white and pastel. The fabric story — novelty weaves, wool, bubble, bubble, camel hair and wool, laminated cotton and wool mixtures knit and Tattersall plaids.

Juneville We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jack Hanna is ill in hospital. Friends and neighbours all wish her a complete recovery.

Mrs. Robert Wright, Mrs. Westley Johnson, Mrs. Crawford English and Miss Donna English attended a miscellaneous shower in Lindsay for Miss Sandra Mackin, prior to her marriage to Mr. Raymond McGill.

The members of the W.I. sold a luxury party at the home of Mrs. Walter Walker on Friday evening. The present went to the following: the men's high Mr. Bert McMillen, the second high to Mr. Newton Armstrong, the woman's high to Mrs. George Brown, the second high to Mrs. Bert McMillen. The hostesses served a delicious lunch.

Personal Mr. and Mrs. Leland McIntyre of Cameron, presently in Florida on vacation visited Helen's Car of Yesterday and Music Fair in Sarasota this week. The attraction features a million dollar automobile show of more than seventy five antique and classic cars dating back to 1897. Each car has been authentically restored.

Music Fair showed mechanical music makers of every description for the world's largest collection.

Missionary is guest speaker. Fenelon Falls, (PNS)—Mrs. John Bell, a former missionary in China, was the special speaker at the regular meeting of the W.M.S. of Fenelon Falls Fellowship Baptist Church which was held at the home of Mrs. C. Martin.

The president, Mrs. W. Webster, presided, and following the opening hymn, led in prayer. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. A. McGee. Fifteen members answered the roll call with a verse of Scripture.

Minutes were read by Mrs. G. B. Dalby. Correspondence, which included letters from missionaries Della Watson, Edith Milroy and others, was read and discussed.

Miss Margaret Sawyer gave thanks for the lunch and closed the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. M. Dewitt. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. McLeod and Miss M. Graham, and a social time enjoyed.

SCHOOL SPIRIT WEEK
AT LCVI
Last week was School Spirit Week at LCVI. It was a well planned and colourful week. On Monday afternoon there were three assemblies taking eighth period for all grade 10's, Pritchard and Don McArthur.

who sang a ballad of a young saleswoman Blaise V. I., a very amusing song. Bob then introduced Mr. Pritchard who explained of our job to us, selling chocolate bars. Carol Bellamy then explained what the student council planned to do with the money.

Some of the items that they want to get are a piano for the Academy and organ for Mrs. Sims, track suits for the girls, football for the team and to support our little orphan in India.

Mary Thurston told of all the wonderful prizes that were possible to win. First prize a $25 voucher from Bays Williams for the lucky boy and a $25 voucher from Pulvers for the lucky girl. That is for telling the most chocolate bars. Second prize consists of L.P.s by Herman Hemmils and if you add 12 bars or over you get a chance to win a Honda, the biggest prize of all.

PELLER-REPELLER
On Tuesday it was "Peller Repeller Day". This was a day where no girl could speak to a boy. If a girl spoke, she had to give her badge to the boy she spoke to. The boy who got the most girls to speak to him received a prize. Also the girl whose name was drawn for not speaking to a boy all day received a prize.

Tuesday night there was a slave auction in the cafeteria. Several boys and girls were auctioned off to the highest bidder.

On Wednesday it was Slave Day. Each one of the slaves auctioned off on Tuesday night had various jobs to do for their masters. They had to shine eyes themselves.

who sang a ballad of a young saleswoman Blaise V. I., a very amusing song. Bob then introduced Mr. Pritchard who explained of our job to us, selling chocolate bars. Carol Bellamy then explained what the student council planned to do with the money.

Thursday was school colour day. The kids dressed in all sorts of different variations of our red, blue, and old gold school colours. Some girls wore boys football sweaters which had all of the colours on it while others wore a blouse, skirt, and sweater combination of the colours.

On Friday, School Spirit Week was closed off by a Diptomat Day. This was a day when everyone was to dress in their best clothes. Unfortunately the council did not make it clear to the students (especially the new ones) that it was to be their best clothes and not just anything. Some of the kids dressed somewhat as they did on Slave Day, and School Colour Day.

All in all it was a wonderful week and everyone seemed to master. They had to shine eyes themselves.

Council meetings

The Municipal Council of the Village of Cannington held a special session last Tuesday night with Reeve Silver presiding. Present were councilors Gordon, McPhail, Wright, and Patterson, also in attendance were Mr. L. G. Bryck and Mr. Karl A. Reickert of the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the results of the test-pumping of test well no. 159 and to discuss the proposed study of sewage disposal needs in the village.

Mr. Bryck said that the results of the test-pumping of test well no. 159 showed that the new well and the original well could be used at the same time even though the original well may go dry in the dry weather. He agreed that the amount of water the municipality may be assured of at the present time is a minimum of approximately 120,000 gallons per day throughout the year, provided well no. 159 is brought into use.

Mr. Reickert suggested that the cost of developing well no. 159 may be between $2500 and $4000 depending on the size of pump required and the building and fittings required.

The Clerk read a letter from the Ontario Water Resources Commission advising that the Division of Project Development has been authorized to engage a consulting engineer to prepare a functional design on a proposed sewage treatment works in Cannington. The Commission stated that the cost of the study would be borne by the Commission if the municipality did not plan to go ahead with the project after learning the cost.

Council moved and seconded that the village council with the procedure outlined in the letter to develop a proposal for the O.W.R.C. to construct a sewage system in the village. Mr. Reickert suggested that the development of well no. 159 be discussed with the consultants who will be in Cannington to prepare the design for the sewage works.

Minister calls for "fair fight" on question of the hooteenanny

(Rev. Merv Eversall, c/o The Post.

Dear Sir:

I have waited to see if my newspaper, in defense of my first would be printed in the letters to the Editor section of the Post. It seems that the Editor chose not to share this with the readers.

My minister, and I have written this brief note to you as you give evidence in your Feb. 23rd column "Off the Cuff". I am disappointed that you were able to conveniently defend your position in your own column, while I was not even able to answer the misguiding accusation of the "Ed's" note which followed my letter. The Editor missed one very important point from "our" side of it—"paddy-daddy's", nine out of ten, were associated with women in the lengthy column of the 23rd.

Now I'm not going to cry in my milk or blow a gasket, but the fact still remains, that although the editor tried to make the hooteenanny appear as an insignificant addition to the YOUTH-ORAMA, it was featured in a column of advertisements made regarding the evening. I may live many miles from Lindsay, but I am not a stranger and I have opened for years to the contents of the announcements for the hooteenanny.

If your programme, including the hooteenanny, is being projected in front of the hooteenanny, then don't let the editor mislead the readers by the audience and I hope supplementing my letter. Be honest enough to let everyone know the true significance of the "added attack" of the worship service.

Of course I have no objection to the YOUTH-ORAMA itself. What I pastor with the religious is the supplementing my letter. Be honest enough to let everyone know the true significance of the "added attack" of the worship service.

Early Settlers in Emily Township

Dear Sir,

The first white men to build a shanty (not a house) in the area where Onneme, is today, were Andrew English and his wife, Mary. They came to Canada (America) it was called then) in 1789 and 1800, so I'm told.

Cottingham, evidently, even more popularity than the Englishs, and therefore his name, Cottinghamville, was the first to identify the Hamlet. After many changes, was to be known as Onneme, which is an Indian word, meaning plough. There was a time when 90 per cent of the real estate in Onneme was owned by Englishs.

My Grandfather, the late young McCullen, who I am a namesake (lived on 5, con. 14, Emily Township, and in hope of getting relief, moved in 1874 to 5, con. 6, Somerville township about 60 miles north of Lindsay.

My Grandmother, English, was left behind temporarily, with some of the children. She fractured her arm doing farm chores, and no longer was able to take care of the farm. So, away she went, enroute to the new farm, carrying a babe on her back, and some personal belongings; she made Bobcovegen the first day, and the remaining 12 miles the second day, along a brush road; and they were the first settlers to own a farm for people called early settlers to own a farm of about 1888-7, and walked to horses in the Township of about 1888-7, and walked to

Frank about sports

The Lindsay Merchants got a bad game out of their system at Bradford last night, as eleven hungry Tigers almost devoured our boys with a 3-2 score.

Lindsay Merchants now have their backs to the wall but good when they beat the Tigers here Friday night in the fourth game of the best of seven series.

More ice time seems to be the main need of the Lindsay Minor Hockey Association come another year. Discussion at their annual meeting centered around need for ice time for practice sessions for house league teams and all-star teams in the midget and juvenile categories. L.M.H.A. objectives is another short of ice, we are not complaining about the share of ice time they are awarded by Kiwanis Arena officials.

George Babcock kept his shooting iron in shape by shooting in Galloway's 5-0 over St. Catharines Blackhawks in Junior "A" quarter-final play last night. The Generals now hold a 3-2 lead in the Hawks grabbed a couple surprise wins early in the series.

One Bodnar had the Marlies purring last night when they made the most tight moves to edge the pennant winning Petes 3-2 at the Memorial Centre. Coach Bodnar seems to have the Marlies hitting their peak at the right time, and a Marlboro win at Maple Leaf Gardens Thursday night would seal the Leaf-robin in the semi-finals.

The big upset of the Junior "A" quarter-finals is the downfall of the Niagara Falls Flyers before the Kitchener Rangers. Rangers only need a tie game to win the set. It appears tail end finishers at the end of a schedule sometimes come up with the big games but cause they are relaxed. Nobody would criticise them if they did lose.

HOOTENANNY

(CP) — Peterborough — The Toronto Marlboros scored two goals in the third period and defeated the Peterborough Petes 4-3 to take a 3-2 lead in their Ontario Hockey Association playoff elimination game last night. The Marlies now need only one more victory to win the best-of-seven series and move into the semi-finals. The sixth game is slated for Toronto on Thursday night.

BORED GORILLAS

(CP) — Gorillas in New York's Bronx zoo are bored. In an effort to entertain and pacify the cranky beasts, zoo officials thought of television. For a while, posters and age dance programmes seemed to satisfy the minds of the apes.

WARP and WOOF by SCOTTY

Top O' The Morning to you all tomorrow, St. Patrick's Day. — To be Irish is to have the sturdiness of a shillelagh, a wisdom as old as the hills of Killarney... a bright wit and a ready laugh... and a heart as warm as a glowing peat fire. All the Irish, the part Irish, and the would-be Irish are invited to a St. Patrick's Concert and Dance at St. Luke's Parish Hall in Downesville, to be held Friday night, and again on Saturday night. There will be lots of Irish songs, and a play.

For all you travelers — Be sure and take with you the latest in foreign language phrase books if you want to be natives to know how you really feel. A five-language instant dictionary is about to come of the presses in England; it promises to be the first handy pocket guide ever designed exclusively for tourists with lost baggage, mixed-up hotel reservations, cold breakfast, terrible service, padded bills and ratty old customs inspectors.

Carry the insult dictionary with you at all times, and even if it won't starve off disaster, it will at least help you snarl at the natives firmly and nastily with lovely French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian epithets.

— To be Irish is to have more blessings than there are shamrock leaves that grow.

— The more good things you have in your head, the less room there will be for bad things in your heart.

St. Patrick was a Christian missionary in Ireland in the fifth century, and he founded many schools and churches.

The shamrock symbol comes from the fact that the leaves of the three-leaf clover are the best of the leaf to explain the Trinity.

St. Patrick, the patron saint of every Irishman, was not a native born son, but was born in either England, Scotland, Wales or France... of course we prefer to think he was born in Scotland, and we could be bragging a wee bit of green on the day.

Signs of Spring: A young man's fancy. Saw a younger man driving a convertible with the top down and a younger man's fancy riding his little wagon down the middle of the street.

Money doesn't talk these days — It just goes without saying.

Scientists tell us: "As the reaction moves closer to the surface of the sun, the temperature has soared to a most springlike degree."

The Shukler-Cramer Grandsons' Heaven: I've often heard my grandson say:

That little angel's breeches would need a going over some. And she would play the stitches. For Heaven to her would be a dream.

And send her "all to pieces." If he had to sit right put. Nor run out the crates. Of this one's robe or this one's gown.

Of this or that mentioned: If no such work be found for her, Grandma'll be disappointed.

Keep your heart free from worry, your mind from worry. Live simply, expect little, give much. Fill your life with love. Scatter your sins. Forget self, think of others. Do as you would be done by. Try this for a week and you will be surprised.

Will also move outward, forcing the sun to expand, and the total amount of radiated heat and light will increase. The sun will then become a giant red star like Antares. It will blow up like a monstrous ball of extremely rarefied, red-hot gas large enough to engulf Mercury, Venus, the earth, and Mars, the four nearest planets.

When will the sun reach this stage? — It may take another five billion years!

Finally when the sun's hydrogen has been converted to helium, the sun will cool and shrink, ultimately becoming a white dwarf no bigger than the earth but weighing several tons per cubic inch.

Most Canadians are proud to be paying taxes in this country... but chances are they could be just as proud for half the money.

March is Milk Month... so don't forget that milk is the food that not only adds years to your life, but also adds life to your years!

Hold on, here's the joke! Pot again!

The sun who settles the case out of court? said Irish judge to the litigant before him.

"Sure, that's what we've done" sir, when the police came along and interested."

Now don't stay awake nights worrying how to succeed — Just keep awake during the day.

The Nation's Business

by William Scott M.P., Victoria

The price of prosperity today in Canada is far too expensive for most of us. We are entering a period of inflation whose effects are seeping daily into many sections of our economy.

This inflation, besides creating higher prices at home, undermines our export programme. No longer are our manufactured products as saleable on world markets — they cost too much.

A recent paper entitled "The Relative Position of Canadian Agriculture in World Trade" pointed out some interesting facts. The economists stated that our competitive agricultural advantage relative to the rest of the world has declined greatly during the last ten years. This they say "was due to the rising costs induced by rapid overall economic growth and continued technological progress to offset these influences".

In relation to the United States the competitive advantage is unstable especially in such areas as eggs, apples, potatoes, slaughter cattle, hogs and a variety of meats.

My main complaint is the indifference of our government. Only the other day in a television interview the Minister of Finance told us he wasn't too worried about the situation. Maybe Mr. Sharpe doesn't do the weekly shopping — neither do I for that matter — but I make it a point of keeping in touch with price increases. Besides, my wife keeps me pretty well informed, especially when she finds her housekeeping allowance isn't stretching as far as it should.

During recent weeks she, and many millions of housewives across Canada, has had to pay more for hundreds of grocery items. Among those that have gone up since the beginning of the year have butter, pork and other basic items.

These are not the only prices that are rising as evidenced by the continued rise in the consumer price index. If this rise continues, and all indications and predictions by our leading economists say it will, workers will need and demand higher wages. Old age pensioners, at I mentioned last week, will be the first to really be hurt. It will become more and more difficult for them to live on $75 per month. They will not live in the true sense of the word, only exist.

When the time comes for unions to renew their contracts they will be asking for higher wages right across the country. Already, with this year only two months old, we've seen higher wage demands. These have directly resulted in strike action by teachers, truckers, and newspapermen.

What are the solutions? I think we must strive to give our Canadian manufacturers a definite awareness of the value of exports to the whole economy. It's no good just telling them to export; we must take them and show them specific areas of the world where their commodities are really wanted.

We should also create more job opportunity by cutting down on the export of raw materials. A piece of lumber that has been "dressed" creates more jobs at home than the log that's shipped abroad in its natural state.

It looks to me as if the government might just have seen handwriting on the wall, since they have suddenly and drastically cut down on their Ottawa building programme. A cutback in this area points to a downsizing in the economy. Many builders who don't go in for long term contracts are going to find work scarce as the year goes on.

VOL. 32, NO. 47

In "Incessant and unnecessary" County Councilors had mixed views

Was a judicial inquiry into allegations of brutality at the Victoria County Home for the Aged necessary or necessary?

A county finance committee of the whole meeting Tuesday morning the inquiry was called necessary, a waste of $18,000, so some councilors came out in favour of the inquiry and said it was necessary.

The first remark on the inquiry came from Victoria County Clerk Frank Walton when he commented on the amount of paper which had been required to print the 300 House documents, which he called "necessary".

Emily Townshend, Reverend Crawford, said that the cost of the inquiry would be available.

Mr. Walton told them that the county would know the cost when they had received the bills and so far they had only $18,000 for the inquiry. He said the inquiry was the cost of getting witnesses and setting up the inquiry. He said that the inquiry would include the judge's fee, court reporters' fees, witness fees and other expenses.

Reeve Lowes queried why the court reporter should get the witness fees and court reporter, because she was on salary.

Mr. Walton replied the judge was also on salary but he would require fees.

Both Reeve Lowes and Emily Townshend, Campbell questioned where a radio commentator Gordon Sinclair could get the cost of the inquiry if the court did not even know the cost.

Mr. Walton explained he didn't know what Mr. Sinclair got his information from but he probably got it from the cost of other similar inquiries. Mr. Walton added that he didn't know if the court did not even know the cost.

Reeve Campbell suggested the council should pay the legal fees for orderly Mr. Morgan. He said that the council should pay the legal fees for orderly Mr. Morgan. He said that the council should pay the legal fees for orderly Mr. Morgan.

inquiry the board of management would not know whether the charges had been valid and it was something which had to be cleared up.

Former Warren Robert Cannack came under fire from Reeve Campbell who said Mr. Cannack should have looked into the matter as soon as he heard of the allegations.

Reeve Lowes said it was unfortunate the situation arose and he was sorry it had arisen, but it was well handled by Judge H.E. Richardson.

Reeve Lowes said the county should try to make progress and inform people of what it was doing but he said "the press should put our work in a good light".

Lindsay Reeve George Piny spoke in favour of the inquiry, said, "the inquiry was necessary."

"In my estimation," he said, "the inquiry was necessary. It still didn't appear satisfied but the county went as far as was necessary." "Anyone who has been to the hospital has the report are wishful thinking," Reeve Piny added.

Charges of careless driving laid in Victoria Road fatality

A 44-year-old Toronto man, Charles Clarke, who was the driver of a car which struck 16-year-old Nancy Farrow, was charged with careless driving, Lindsay County Attorney Lorne Jordan said Monday.

Miss Farrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farrow, died in St. Michael's Hospital Tuesday, after midnight on February 27 after she had been struck by a car on Highway 295, a half-mile south of Victoria Road, about 6:30 p.m. that day.

The girl had been rushed to St. Michael's Hospital and transferred to the Toronto hospital, where she reportedly died 10 minutes after arrival.

Miss Farrow, her 14-year-old sister Jo-Anne and a 15-year-old companion, Sharon Liscombe, of Cobocook had been walking south on the shoulder of the road with their backs to the traffic when the accident occurred.

Crown Attorney Jordan said no inquest would be held in the girl's death because charges had been laid.

Victoria Milk Producers elect committee

A ten man Milk Producers testing laboratories would be needed.

Glen Cole, 1st vice president of the Dairy Farmers in Canada outlined the aims and objectives of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

Mr. Cole said the board would work toward the creation of two milk pools in Ontario, a group pool to include up to 100 producers and a group 2 pool to include up to 100 producers.

In regard to pricing, the Milk Producers intend to establish one uniform price throughout southern Ontario, and co-operate with Ontario Milk Producers and the Federal Government to achieve a substantially higher producer price.

The board will attempt to gradually reconcile the marketing of fluid milk with the present fluid milk sector to more nearly reflect the actual production patterns of producers, and will attempt to co-operate with milk transporters to achieve greater efficiency in the transportation of milk from the farms to the city of first sale.

Aims for improving the milk marketing picture in relation to direction, quality, quantity and through the relations were also noted by Mr. Cole.

ADELAIDE STREET NORTH RESIDENTS PETITION AGAINST STREET WIDENING

A petition signed by twenty residents of Adelaide Street North was presented to Lindsay County Council Monday night by Dr. D. C. Pitt, opposing the proposed widening of Adelaide Street north from Kent to Colborne Streets.

David Logan told council members the plan to widen Adelaide Street north was passed by council in August 1965, and had received the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board.

He said the original plan called for widening of Adelaide Street north from the present 20 feet to 32 feet, but later decision reduced the ultimate width to 30 feet.

It was planned to extend the pavement seven feet to the east and three feet to the west, which would only remove the west boulevard.

Seven points were listed on the petition opposing the widening. The petitioners contended that there are sufficient main arteries to carry through traffic in the area, and as Adelaide Street is predominantly a residential street, it widened it will be used for purposes of through traffic rather than local traffic.

The petitioners contended that the designated widening of the street is going to be paved the paved surface and curb so close to the existing street that it will be a hazard to property, and to some garage as to cause a traffic hazard.

The petitioners suggested when the street is widened it will be used, especially in the vicinity of the L.C.V.I. for parking when proper street parking should be provided. They contended that traffic presently using Adelaide Street north is not increased to create a safety hazard great enough to require widening.

If the street is widened the petitioners said it will increase both the speed and traffic on the residential street.

Dr. Pitt said he was determined to widen the street to provide a parking lane, it would be a waste of money as the parking on the street is insignificant at present.

In conclusion, the petitioners stated that if Council is determined to widen the street then widening predominantly on the east side would cause an excessive hardship to those on the east side of the street, and a more equitable method of widening should be considered with a reduction in the degree of widening.

Councillor Logan moved that the petition be referred to the Board of Works for study.

In reference to the parking situation at the L.C.V.I. Mayor John Ekins said it was most unfortunate that the school property is not adequate for the loading and unloading of pupils.

He suggested that possibly some of the students who should travel to school by bus were driving, and thus adding to the congestion.

Hockey player breaks leg

Popular baseball umpire, hockey player, and Christie County resident, Shirley Norton, suffered from an unfortunate ankle Saturday night, about five minutes after the break in work and they would only submit a bill for one lawyer.

Mr. Norton said Mr. Morton's fall was a judicial inquiry into the charges.

Mr. Rogers told the committee if there had not been an injury the board of management would not know whether the charges had been valid and it was something which had to be cleared up.

Former Warren Robert Cannack came under fire from Reeve Campbell who said Mr. Cannack should have looked into the matter as soon as he heard of the allegations.

Bomb Disposal teams busy

LONDON (CP)—Twenty-one years after the start of the Second World War in Europe, there is still so much live ammunition stored around Britain that the Armed Services Corps disposal squads get the thousand calls a year.

They are even called to detonate 60-year-old First World War grenades and shells.

They are also the most dangerous brought back by British troops from the Western Front.

So dangerous is some of their work, even for experts, that they are given the go-ahead to leave barracks every morning for operations like one in early February. A 500-pound incendiary bomb, which was set off after 26 years ago was lifted from the bottom of the Thames River.

The work that dramatized the work that became routine for hundreds of men in the disposal squads. This bomb hoisting required a 90-minute closing of the Blackfriars Road and rail bridges across the Thames, used daily by thousands of commuters.

A team of Royal Navy experts diverged to the bottom of the river and managed to free it, then it was lifted in a crane into a rubber dinghy and towed slowly down the Thames. It was exploded at sea, where navy teams also detonate an occasional German mine found afloat after a quarter century.

Big German bombs of the 1914 years are found most frequently in London's financial district around St. Paul's Cathedral during excavation for new buildings. The removal jobs get the headlines. Not all the explosives are German, as an army spokesman says: "We had a lot of troops stationed in England during the last war—Canadian, American, Australian, Free French, Polish as well as our own—and they left a lot of ammunition. Some of it got lost and buried and now is worked to the surface by plows, excavators or other means."

"At the First World War start—the zepplins didn't drop only explosives. Their ammunition included huge iron darts designed to crash through the roofs of buildings. These probably are still some of those rounds."

Many British Tommies returned from the continental trenches after the First World War brought home grenades or small shells for souvenir purposes. Some of them on the way home to display, "a disposal man" said, "but one day Mom gets nervous and calls us to fetch the thing away."

Two or three people have drawn to our attention the fact that "The Queen" was not played at "Spring Thaw" or at other theatrical performances held recently at the Academy Theatre.

Both at the beginning and the end of "Spring Thaw" introductory music starting with an anthem-like rock caused members of the audience to comment on their feet and then find they had been fooled (no doubt deliberately). This manoeuvre was greeted with some laughter and some annoyance.

"The Queen" is to be played at theatres and at cinema houses, so that, we feel, be played at the start of the season. The Queen is not playing, even on the radio, and when impatient patrons are starting to leave.

Many feel the playing of a national anthem before a show or game is a point-blank.

Brutal Truth

"I think there's too truthful. For instance, I have to go to my doctor, and tell him I have fibrosis to come in to see him. With your new constitution, you'd be rid of it in a week. But he doesn't; he says 'Well, what do you expect, your age?' and then he says, 'You know, well-known BBC broadcaster."

Microscopic Perfection

"The smallest insect in the world is sort of fairy-fly and its body is only a fifth of a millimetre long; one can only just see it with the naked eye, almost like a speck of dust. Transparent and like a green fly, and little combs on its legs for preening itself."—Ted Ellis speaking in the BBC programme "Nature Postcard."

The big fellow is particularly about the fish, however, and barnacles, sponges, oysters and tiny snails like quite common in the flutings of the ocean's outer shell. Colonies of shrimp find the sheltered darkness of the clam's roomy, water-filled body a more than adequate home.

But the giant clam, like all clams, is more than just needs the eye. There's a lot of it, and it's big, but it's not a clam. It has a stomach, intestines, a liver and even a heart and kidneys. Brains are another story. The creature has hardly any brain at all.

Muskoka's Hidden Valley

Time was when ski fans looking forward to a weekend in deep powder kept one ear tuned to the radio and an equipping eye scanning the newspaper for the latest news on the slopes.

Like the Go cars, water weather has changed along with the decades. In the past years have been really thrown snow lovers into the despair twist. Not that we don't seem to get snow, -- it just doesn't stay around long enough to be cut up by a crowd of weekend skisubmersors.

Skied areas who depend on snow will be wading or wading in the weather, have long since given up on the weatherman in favor of a sure bet -- artificial snow.

Outside ski areas have already installed the magic neon-like pismo and more are planning the move for next year.

One such area, Hidden Valley near Huntsville in Muskoka now lays claim to the title of Ontario's biggest snow machine, with a total of seven artificial frozen pleasures. Some 12,000 ft. of piping covers this whole ski area, sending down a veritable blizzard of snow on command to make the place ably every weekend and almost every day of the week.

Two downhill trails can be hidden in a few hours with cool, fast flakes about 15 hours.

Two huge Curtis Wright hydrazine compressors transform Pen Lake liquid into four or five inches of snow from each outlet and the whole snow, Chief Snowmaker, Bill Waterhouse, makes snow in 48 hours with just one effort. One bill can be made ready in 15 hours.

Officials at Hidden Valley have added about 10 inches of artificial snow to Muskoka's natural snow cover, making it a little less freezing, -- an degree above zero in ten degrees below zero is best, the snow goes into making the difference between the best and the worst of the weather's best predictions.

After the shouts of pleasure skiing have died from the slopes and the cool stillness of a northern night settles on the ski area, the dull roar of the artificial snowmaker sounds like Niagara dropping into the frozen gorge.

Good things come in small packages and mechanical snow is no exception. Unlike dirty snow, the artificial variety is clean, three times as deep and holding and melting quality due to its density.

With temperature differences in Muskoka, anywhere from ten to fifteen degrees below zero, the ski areas, Hidden Valley at Huntsville and Rainbow Ridge at Bracebridge with its artificial mechanical snow, make a mockery of weather reports much to the delight of skiers. Muskoka resort operators add measure of support for their guests unless the weather is totally impossible even for artificial snow.

Hidden Valley's equipment is fully automatic and will shut down at any signal of trouble. One man can control the whole booming, silencing and two men are used on the late snow to provide company and protection against the cold.

Old Jack Frost finally has some real tough competition and skiers are the winners. Snow reports, often hard to get, are now a breeze. The weather is changing extremes of weather after reports have gone in. One snow machine is now receiving a lot of support thanks to the scientific advice of the space age. If you plan to ski this weekend and you can't see snow, call Muskoka on the air, "Warning is believing for fogging" -- phone the nearest snow reporting office who now report the index of the snow also.

National Anthems

less and unnecessary ritual. Perhaps so, but we personally do not object to the few minutes spent paying homage to our monarch whether at a show or ball game, nor would we object if O Canada were also played.

As long as we have no Canadian national anthem but we are content to stand for The Queen and for O Canada at the theatre, at service club meetings and anywhere else it is played and do not consider it either demeaning or anachronistic.

Happiness

Happiness is much more equally divided than some of us imagine. One maybe shall possess most of the material, but little of the things; another may possess much of the thing, but very few of the materials. —Colton.

Guidance

President Johnson in Washington appears to be trying to "guide" the newspaper correspondents. Editor & Publisher has noted that "what the president means is that he does not want to write a story unless you clear with Johnson; the reliability of any other source as far as Johnson thinks or does is questionable; don't try to speculate or interpret as to what he has done or might do; and that we get guidance." Prominent politicians invariably are sensitive about what newspapers say or might say about them. The members often are wrong in the opinion of the politicians, but the public is safer with newspapers that make mistakes now and then, they would be with a pro "guided" out of its spirit.

He called the withdrawal of the Liberal government's resignation in connection with the Victor Spencer spy case a "disgraceful political maneuver."

CONSUMER PRICES RISE

(CP)—The Dominion Bureau of statistics reports that consumer prices rose last month in all 12 Canadian cities regularly surveyed. Increased costs were the main reason for rises in city indexes from January to February ranging from 0.1 per cent to 0.5 per cent. Greatest increases were in the prices of meat, poultry and fish.

The indexes are based on 1940 prices prevailing in the cities, except for St. John's, Newfoundland, where the base is June, 1961.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that it is the responsibility of government to all levels to continue to govern in an emergency, ensuring that their departments and services continue to function. Some people have the mistaken idea that a phantom army called EMO is suddenly going to appear out of the ground in an emergency and take over.

The typical example of this thinking occurred in the recent blackout. One brave Torontoian, who took his life in his hand directing traffic at a busy intersection, was asked why he did it. He replied, "Well, I saw this big traffic jam developing and looked around and couldn't see the police, so I parked my car by the side of the road and took over." It must be gratifying to Metro EMO to hear of such magical powers, but, as in other municipalities, they have their work cut out for them in coordinating the efforts of the existing municipal departments and services and supporting them where possible with trained volunteers.

In contrast to the fairly widespread activities of Emergency Measures at the municipal level is the relative inactivity of the activities of the Emergency Measures Branch at the provincial level. After several years of existence, it is still struggling with confidence that the EMB is going and going very well. This year we will guide and manage the spending of, on behalf of the Federal, Provincial and Municipal governments, a budget of 2.8 million dollars, spread over a wide variety of activities and programs. No less than 75 per cent of this money will go to projects at the municipal level.

It is our responsibility to strengthen their capabilities to operate under a peacetime emergency.

These, then, are some of the things that the Emergency Measures Branch is doing now. With the continuing help and co-operation of which we have been receiving from all Departments of Government, we anticipate a very active program in the months ahead.

As an employee of the Provincial Government, we should find out what is responsible for Emergency Measures planning in your Department, Division or Branch and have that part you are expected to play in an emergency in peace or war. As an individual, you should make plans for yourself and your family. There are excellent pamphlets on this subject, notably, "11 Steps to Survival." Ask your Planning Officer for a copy. EMO Office, 1000 Dundas Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M6H 1K4.

A little time and effort spent now in planning for an emergency could pay big dividends. Think about it, and then do something.

"Why the heck can't you get up with a hangover one in a while?"

Canadian Education Week

Education week was marked in Lindsay by "open nights" held at six public schools and at the separate school. The purpose of Education Week is to focus public attention on the needs, the problems, and the achievements of Education in Canada and to encourage constructive public action in support of education.

Lands and Forests Biologists Study Walleye Spawning Beds At Bobcaygeon

The Lindsay branch of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests began an experiment in Bobcaygeon Friday afternoon to determine the feasibility and possibility of establishing artificial spawning beds for walleye.

Jack Armstrong said the Department of Lands and Forests was setting out three treatments, and three controls. He said the treatments were 100-square-foot sections of two-inch to four-inch gravel stones and the controls were 100-square-foot sections of natural river bottom.

Mr. Armstrong said near the end of the walleye spawning season, the department will count the number of eggs deposited in the two types of sections.

The experiment is aimed at determining the effects of carrying out a large-scale deposition of gravel on the population of walleye in the area, which would depend partly on whether the fish would use the artificial spawning bed.

Much of the bottom of the Pigeon River is composed of limestone rock and Mr. Armstrong said studies in the United States had determined that this type of bottom is one of the poorest for the survival of eggs.

One of the best types of river-bottom is one composed of gravel ranging in size from two to four inches in diameter. In the studies referred to, much greater survival had been accomplished on the latter type of bottom.

Mr. Armstrong said if the experiment is successful, the Department of Lands and Forests would set up artificial spawning beds for the walleye.

Mr. Armstrong said there was no evidence that such an experiment would directly benefit the fish population of the area. He said they are trying the experiment to decide what course of action to take.

Union Carbide employees await Conciliation Board report

The Collective Agreement between Union Carbide Canada Limited, Plastic Products and the Printing Specialists and Paper Products Union, covering the production workers at the Lindsay plant, expired December 31, 1965. However, the Collective Agreement provides for the conditions to remain in force after the terminal date of the contract.

Negotiations between the Company and the Union have been progressing steadily. A Conciliation Board meeting was convened in Peterboro on March 10, 1966. The Conciliation board consisted of Mr. T. R. Smith, Toronto (Chairman); Mr. W. A. Sheffield, Lindsay and Mr. M. Tate, Toronto.

It is expected that the Conciliation Board report will be received by the Company and the Union within three weeks.

Councillors to receive booklet

A booklet on the duties and functions of a municipal council and municipal councillors will soon be released by the Ontario Municipal Association, according to a letter received by the Victoria County finance committee Friday.

Members of the committee noted that the booklet also explains the relation of county council to other forms of government. Warden George Pinner suggested the booklet would also be of great value to township council and other municipal council bodies in the county.

The finance committee decided to order a sufficient quantity of the booklets

Finance committee adjust salary

Victoria County Finance Committee Friday afternoon dealt with an application for a raise in salary presented by the committee by Miss Old Cook, assessor county clerk and secretary to the County Judge.

It was pointed out by the committee chairman that $1500 of Miss Cook's present salary came from Magistrate's court, the dollar of which have not been performed by Miss Cook since her illness. The County Finance Com-

Organizations qualify for grants

Financial statements from three area organizations that had requested County grants were received by the County Finance committee Friday afternoon, and the grants passed at the January session pending receipts of financial statements were recommended.

Area organizations that now qualify for their grants include the Woodville Horticultural Society, the Emily Graham Cemetery, and the Bobcaygeon Chamber of Commerce. No action was taken on a request for an increase in the grant to the Bobcaygeon Chamber of Commerce over and above the $500 grant passed at the January session.

A report was also received from the Maricay Dystrophy Association and the grant was approved.

The committee decided to recommend to County Council that Miss Cook's County salary be increased $1500 to replace payment received from Magistrate's court, when that payment ceases.

On the Main Street

Do you remember - James Keith a Scottish gentleman with a real burr to his brogue? He operated a seed store in the location now occupied by Lynn's Lunch on William Street. It was an old-fashioned store where bags of various kinds of seeds were strewn across the floor and two or three of the old type hand scoops were always in evidence.

This gentleman was also for some years Secretary of the Lindsay Fair. His name appears on the list of Lindsay Carriers away back and his son Alex Keith was also well known as a member of the Curling Fraternity in Toronto. A daughter, Joanne Keith, will be remembered by a few Lindsay people as a member of the office staff of the Dundas and Flavell Store.

Do you remember - Henry Cook Hamilton organist and choirmaster of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. He was not only an expert organist but also a composer of music. He collaborated with the late C. C. Forsythe who was at the time organist and choir-master of Cambridge United Church in the production of a number of musical instruments, some words including "We're British Still, O Motherland."

Do you remember Patrick Kenny? He had no particular occupation, but occasionally contributed a Dirge to the local press on events in Lindsay. He had a large family and one son was nicknamed "Trick" who had a colorful career with circus side shows. A daughter-in-law of Patrick Kenny will be remembered by many people as one of the entrants in the famous Miller Stork Derby, some years ago in Toronto, when prizes were given to mothers having the largest number of children.

Do you remember J. P. Donohue? He was bookkeeper for R. M. Beal Leather Company, an ardent member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, well remembered as a staunch advocate of Temperance and also as prolific writer of letters and articles for the Lindsay newspapers. Two of his sons became well known as Presbyterian clergymen.

KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Steinreich, M.D., F.A.C.P.
Author of "The Doctor Looks At Life"

CANCER NOT CONTAGIOUS: DON'T WORRY ABOUT MOVING

Dear Dr. Steinreich: I've heard where several families have moved to a house and about that, promotes procrastination that some of them got cancer while living there. Later they discovered that the former owner had cancer. My husband would like to buy a house but I'm afraid of it because the former owner died of cancer. Is this a silly fear?

Mr. X.

Comment: I think most doctors will say that your anxiety and apprehension have no basis in fact. (You'll pardon my stuffiness, but I relieve me from saying yours is a silly fear.)

X-RAYS SUGGESTED

Dear Dr. Steinreich: I have a friend in her early thirties who is beautiful and a picture of health. Her doctor has suggested that she have a chest x-ray taken as she may have tuberculosis.

Is that possible in a person who is so healthy? I would like to keep from getting fat? Besides every dollar counts with her. The X-rays would cost $40 and she has to take them. Comment: I am certain there are hospitals in your city of Los Angeles which will be happy to take chest films for fees that will fit your friend's pocketbook. There are also competent private X-ray specialists who will do the job for much less than $40. I stress this, as it is unfortunate.

County Council Pay Rise

Victoria county councillors yesterday voted themselves a substantial increase in their stipend for council and committee meetings. The current $16 a day for council meetings has been raised to $18 a day and the current $13 a day for committee meetings has been raised to $15.

When election time arrives, these representatives of the people should be the high taxes that are necessary, yet for the rest of the year they seem to spend money like water.

A 20% increase is an extravagance, considering the fashion in which the business is conducted during the sessions. As a frequent observer of the sessions we have found a great deal of time wasting.

The Canadian is likely to end up the worst's most over-taxed person if town, municipal, provincial and federal politicians don't soon pull in their horns.

Voyageur Canoe Pageant

Ontario is lavishing its best paddlers to take part this year in Trials for the 1967 Centennial Voyageur Canoe Pageant.

A two-day race in Ontario is being planned for May or June 1967 in select Ontario's towns under the direction of the Commodore for Ontario, Squadron Leader J. A. Mitchell, C.D. In August this year the National Trials will be held between Fort St. James, B.C. and Victoria and from Montreal to New York.

Organizing Ontario's team is the Ontario Centennial Planning Branch, Department of Tourism and Information. The main requirement for candidates is that they be Canadian citizens.

"The work is hard and working conditions are strenuous," Saunders Leach Mitchell says. "But the foot is good, and for Canadians with the courage to re-live the adventure of their forefathers, the rewards cannot be measured."

Canoeists can expect to paddle about 60 strokes a minute 12 hours a day, and experience all the conditions that the early voyageurs encountered: rough portages, turbulent rivers, and both the hardships and pleasures of outdoor living.

Ontario paddlers will join a 6-man canoe crew from each of the provinces in the 1967 Voyageur Canoe Pageant competition during Canadian Centennial observance. This Centennial Year Pageant will focus attention on historic episodes and adventures of early Canada when voyageurs were an essential part of life in a wild and sparsely inhabited land.

Contemporary voyageurs will start their trek at Rocky Mountain House, high in the Alberta Rockies, late in May next year. Their journey is scheduled to end in Montreal in early September. Canoeists will race the distances between major centres and then participate in short-sprint competitions at each stop along the route. Paddlers, clad in colourful costumes similar to those worn by the original voyageurs, will take part in local Centennial pageants and observances at the centres visited.

Further details about the Ontario Trials in '67 and the voyageur pageant in '67 are available from the Centennial Planning Branch, 186 Bloor St. E., Toronto, for Ontario paddling enthusiasts who want to be part of the big adventure.

Tillicum means Friendship

Can a nation-wide volunteer organization reach out and establish a meaningful working relationship with the Indian people of Canada?

Last year The Canadian Home and School Federation asked themselves just that — and the TILlicum project was born.

Spreading the Centennial project is Professor Max Bedford of the University of Saskatchewan, a deeply earnest fighter for a better understanding of the Indian.

"Tillicum is the Chinook word for friendship," says Mr. Bedford, "and we will extend the hand of friendship to Indians everywhere. Some 3,500 Home and School and Parent Teachers associations now work out of practically every community in Canada. Each group will receive a project kit which is mainly a study guide in depth of Indian life and on offer the reserve. But this is not a paper study. Our meetings will not only discuss Indian participation in the essential ingredients. It's the Indian viewpoint we want to hear — their outlook we need to share on study action work."

Mr. Bedford feels the real success of TILlicum could well stand or fall on the ability of the mixed groups to work together. One great unifying factor here is the universal concern for children.

"For many years Home and School has taken an active interest in the welfare of Indian children in an effort to uncover real problems and help work out solutions. Much remains to be done. Can you deny that integrated classrooms geared mainly to non-Indian children often completely frustrate Indian youngsters? And why don't most Indian parents have a voice in decisions affecting the education of their own children? The TILlicum idea is to sit down with Indians, work on these and many other live issues. Government leaders have shown they are open and sympathetic to realistic, carefully thought-out reform proposals."

Mr. Bedford encourages outside interest. "Understanding and support from the entire non-Indian world is vitally important to the Indian who yet must be free to decide his own way of life. A person or group can join TILlicum or simply make use of our study material. Write to The Canadian Home and School Federation, 370 Dundas Street West, Toronto. But get in touch with your local Home and School association first: chances are they could be deeply involved in some interesting work."

Victoria County councillors yesterday voted themselves 20% pay increase.

A motion that councillors raise which will give them a 20% average increase in their stipend for council and committee sittings when it comes into effect April 1.

The Woodville Reeve John Campbell initiated the move for an increase when he suggested a five-dollar a day increase for attendance at committee meetings. This would have given councillors $20 a day for council and $15 a day for committees.

Councillors currently receive $15 and $12 per day for council and committee meetings respectively. Fenelon Township Deputy-Reeve Mervyn Moore amended Reeve Campbell's motion to increase council fees by only 20 percent to $18 per day. The amendment was narrowly put through with a 13 to 12 vote. Councillors also received 10 cents a mile travelling allowance.

Reeve Campbell said the reason for the increase was that councillors could make more money on the farm than they could at county council, although not all councillors agreed with his statement that a man sit on council for $12 a day when he could make $25 a day on his farm.

Committee budgets include pay hikes

Approval of committee budgets including moderate pay hikes has been the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Victoria County council action meeting in committee of the whole on Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday.

Recommendations from the roads committee, the Library Co-Op committee, the county property committee, the county parks committee, the E.M.O. committee, the assessment committee and the finance committee were approved, some after considerable discussion. In each of these committee recommendations, pay raises for employees of the committees had been approved by the county negotiating committee.

A motion that committees that employ staff be permitted to negotiate salaries subject to the approval of the county council was approved. The county council was withdrawn and council decided to defer action on salary negotiating committee.

The K.L.T.A. booth, manned by executive members and directors of the Association, has been attracting considerable attention, the meeting was told. A miniature replica of the Ontario Theatre stage, created by Mrs. Doris Tait of Peterboro, and complete with a miniature grandfather's clock that runs, has been the point of the Show, and attracts much interest in the forthcoming Kawartha Summer Theatre.

"Eye catcher" and "crowd stopper" were terms used by directors that have manned the booth in describing the effectiveness of the display.

Finance committee to consider county library co-operative

The promotion of a County library co-operative was discussed at the County finance committee by Victoria County council members were told it is up to the municipal councils to pursue resolutions asking the formation of a County library, and this must be done by seventy-five per cent of the municipal councils.

Frank Weldon told the committee of the whole meeting on education committee to pursue the subject and report to the June session of County Council.

Resolutions from Mariposa and Carleton Place town and village council supported the discussion. County members were told that support of association libraries will decrease as will government grants to municipal libraries which are mainly supported by municipal grants and owned by the municipalities.

Under the County library system municipal committees will still own their local libraries, and be responsible for the maintenance of the libraries. The local committee will receive rent for the use of the libraries and pay all the costs including insurance, repairs and depreciation as well.

Any municipalities wishing to join the County system still could secure library services on a fee basis. Clerk Weldon said the County system would be the same as presently charged Haliburton libraries and the County system would be the same as presently charged Haliburton libraries and the County system would be the same as presently charged Haliburton libraries.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK

by Alex Carruthers, M.P.P. for Durham

The Sergeant-at-Arms, H. Grey, fingered his sword and walked out of the room. A tense atmosphere settled over the legislative chamber, and the situation was resolved.

The honourable member was Edward Sargent of Grey North. An aggressive, colourful individual, Mr. Sargent's personal ally has been for him the friendship of all members in the House of Commons.

Having risen on a point of order, he was questioned by the Speaker to take his seat when the House resumed its business. He refused to confine his remarks to the point in question.

The incident, however, was not the end of the matter. The Speaker's decision to allow the member to continue his speech was a breach of the rules of the House. The Speaker's decision to allow the member to continue his speech was a breach of the rules of the House.

The Prime Minister, however, crushed any hopes of the resolution passing, by rejecting the motion. The resolution was not given consideration to.

BETTER PHOTOGRAPHY

A weekly column
Photography especially written for "The Post" by
CLAUDE BELLWOOD

Last week we discussed the making of enlargements, and how "burning in" the high lights, and holding back the light from the shadow areas, could greatly improve the quality of most prints.

You probably ended up with a clean looking picture with pleasing blacks, lots of shadow detail, and with nicely modeled highlights. Even at that there were probably white spots or fine white lines showing up in the print, caused by dust particles settling on the negative, or by minute scratches on the back of the negative, and these blemishes must be removed from the print.

There may also be black spots or lines, due to scratches on the emulsion side of the film, as distinct from the white-causing scratches on the back, or there may be small pieces of the emulsion removed from the film by a dig from a finger nail, or by even a very sharp knife. Too much clear dust up an "air-bell" forming during the developing.

In the majority of cases these blemishes must be removed by etching, or light scraping with a very sharp knife. Too much pressure will most likely make a hole in the paper itself, so will prolonged searching for the spot. Sometimes the spot can be removed by spotting; glue in the solution of potassium iodide, on the end of a wooden tooth-pick. When the spot is lightened up enough, another tooth-pick is used to apply a plain hypo solution, which clears the iodine stain, and the silver that formed the black spot. If reduction is carried a little too far, it is very easily corrected as explained in the next paragraph. A solution of potassium ferricyanide and hypo, called "Farmers reducer" can be used instead of the iodine, but the iodine method is the best chemical means.

The white spots are simpler to cover than the black ones. A selection of lead pencils, ranging from "B" to "4H" will take care of practically any spotting to be done on a paper that has a sheen on its surface. This excludes glossy or varnished prints. A set of Kodak Spotting Colours, or a similar product, is useful for the matt surfaced prints, as they dry with a dull finish. They come in three colours: black, white, and sepia.

Any shade of grey that can be found in a black and white print, can be mixed with the black and white colours, and are applied with a "spotting brush" gradually building up the light spots until they are of the same density as the surrounding area. "The Scratch" is used to fill them. Some workers find an application of pure white Vaseline serves the same purpose. Whatever is used must be cleaned off the negative as soon as it is removed from the enlarger. After wiping off as much as possible with a clean tissue, or piece of soft cloth, give a final wipe with a cloth moistened with carbon tetrachloride, or better still, one of the anti-static film cleaners on the market.

The hard pencils are used on areas where the tone is light grey, or where the spot itself is not white, but greyish, in which case the softer, blacker leads would be too heavy and appear darker. There are a number of spotting and print retouching outfits, and preparations on the market, any of which should do a good job if used according to instructions.

Of course, it is better to make prints without the blemishes, and this can be done by making sure the negative is absolutely free of dust particles, paying attention to those that may have settled on the film while it was drying, and so be stuck to the soft emulsion. Also see that there are no clear spots where there should be black. These should be filled in with the spotting black, or grey, to as near the correct density as possible.

If there are scratches on the back of the negative, a preparation such as Edwal "No Scratch" should be used to fill them. Whatever is used must be cleaned off the negative as soon as it is removed from the

MANPOWER MOBILITY PROGRAM

Widening the Employment Horizon—for job seekers

The primary purpose of the Manpower Mobility Program is to provide financial assistance to Canadian workers who are unemployed and find it necessary to move to other areas in Canada of greater employment opportunity. The program is national in scope providing for loans or grants to workers and their families to cover the cost of moving and resettlement when it is clear that the move is in their own and the country's best interests. The Manpower Mobility Program is an important part of the Government of Canada's over-all manpower program which, within the framework of general economic policy, is designed to help maintain full employment and make the best possible use of the country's manpower resources.

Q. Who is eligible for a loan or grant?

A. You are eligible:

- (a) if there is little or no chance of getting a suitable job in your home area.
- (b) if there is suitable employment available elsewhere for which you will be better, and a shortage of qualified workers.
- (c) and if there is a good chance that the new job will result in your permanent employment.

You are ELIGIBLE FOR A LOAN—

if you are either unemployed or under notice of permanent leave for 30 days from the day you leave.

You are ELIGIBLE FOR A GRANT—

Are a key skilled worker needed by an employer who received a development grant under the Area Development Incentive Act.

Q. How do I apply?

A. You apply at the nearest office of the National Employment Service, the Department of Manpower and Immigration, and they will relate your experience and training to available job opportunities, train locally and then in other areas.

Q. How much of the cost of moving will a loan or grant cover?

A. For a worker with dependent, a loan or grant will pay for the actual cost of transportation of himself and his dependents, including meals and overnight accommodation. Also moving costs of the cost of outfitting most household and personal effects.

Q. And the cost of resettlement in the new area?

A. For those with dependent, resettlement allowances are $200 each for the worker and his wife and $100 for each additional dependent, up to a maximum of $1,000.

Q. What about a worker without dependents?

A. For a worker without dependents actual transportation costs are paid but loans and grants do not cover the movement of household and personal effects.

There is a maximum allowance of $100 for those receiving loans. These receiving grants can also receive this resettlement allowance as a loan, see a grant.

Q. How is a loan repaid?

A. Normally, in not more than 20 months payments beginning four months after the date of loan.

Q. Is there anything else I should know?

HATS ON!

The proper hat style can make the short man look tall and the stout man look slimmer — the thin man look thicker.

The proper hat selection can accent the positive and soften the negative in any man. It is all in the choice of crown, whether flat, wide, deep or rolled, and many other variations which we will gladly explain to you.

Worn slightly tilted, the right hat imparts a jaunty confident air, and enhances as the appearance of any man.

The common course of things is in the favour of happiness; but happiness is the rule, misery the exception. Were the order reversed, our attention would be called to examples of health and competency, instead of disease and want.

BILINGUAL ISSUE FLARES UP ANEW IN THE COMMONS

(CP) — Bilingualism has been a thorn in the side of parliamentarians for some time. The heated debate over the issue flared up anew in the House of Commons.

The furor came during debate on a minor government bill to incorporate the Ottawa Terminal Railway Company.

The heated debate was sparked by a motion from Liberal Alexis Caron, the member for Halifax. He proposed an amendment to the bill which would require that at least two French-speaking directors should be included in the railway company.

Many MP's supported the motion, although others pointed out it would be a serious step to write into a statute that appointments are to be made on the basis of which language or racial group an individual belongs to. Debate on the bill was suspended indefinitely until the government can draft amendments.

Lindsay's Junior "C" Merchants have come a long way in the tough Central Ontario hockey league since the schedule began in November. Starting out with a dozen new rookies, plus a smattering of experienced help, the Merchants gained the finals against Metro area teams, no mean feat in their first year together.

Historically, the Merchants have been in the playoffs in both Junior "C" and Junior "D" circles a team from the Central Ontario League has been in the playoffs since last year.

Lindsay Merchants are now in the Central Ontario League finals and need only one victory to move them into the playoffs. They must win against Aurora Tigers at the Kiwanis Arena tonight or hang up the gear for another season, so let's give the Merchants the type of boost tonight that helped them to the Ontario finals the past two seasons.

Bobocaygon T-Gate and Etouville Clippers meet in their third game of a best-of-seven Junior "D" league final series at Bobocaygon tonight.

Officials of the Oakwood Community Centre believe in keeping the puck bouncing, and are planning a series of summer activities to keep up interest in their recently expanded arena and community centre. Plans have now been formulated for the promotion of an active financial campaign for the artificial ice installation at the arena this fall.

Many offers of cash donations prompted the arena committee to set up a voluntary subscription plan over the next month, and cash donations will be gladly accepted by the treasurer, Murray Squires, or any member of the arena committee, said the chairman Lloyd Graham.

Qus Bodnar is wielding his magic wand again, and his first pass boosted the Toronto Marlboros to four straight wins over the league leading Peterborough Petes. Next competition for the Junior Leafs will be either Niagara Falls Flyers or Kitchener Rangers.

The fifth game of the Aurora-Lindsay series is slated for Sunday at either Newmarket or Bradford.

Teenagers Live In Uncertain World

Speaker Blames Adults For Troubles

Teenagers are afraid of the future and adults are afraid of teenagers and want nothing to do with them, a meeting of the Lindsay Kiwanis Club was told on Tuesday.

An LCVI teacher, ordained clergyman and youth-worker, Mervyn S. Eversall told members of the club what he had learned about teenagers and their attitudes and the attitude of adults toward the younger generation.

Mr. Eversall was curate of St. John's Anglican Church in West Toronto and spent a year at Fort Nelson before coming to Lindsay, where he became an English teacher at the LCVI. He also assists as a clergyman at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Lindsay.

Mr. Eversall called today's teenagers "babies of war and disaster generations." He said teenagers live in a different world today — a world of uncertainty in which they don't know when "that button is going to be pushed to set off a hydrogen bomb." He said they may not put on a tough front on the outside but inside they are scared of what the future holds for them.

Mr. Eversall said teenagers also live in a world where they are given more than they used to because their parents went through war and depression, and are determined to give their children more than they had.

He said it was not easy for adults to get along with teenagers and this made it difficult to get youth workers who were necessary to act as mediators between the world of adults and teenagers. Mr. Eversall said, "Teenagers," he said, "want to be part of the adult community or administering control."

DRIVER OF ACCIDENT CAR FINED FOR CARELESS DRIVING

A 42-year-old Cavan man, Lloyd S. Groszelle, who was the driver of a car which struck down an 85-year-old Omomee woman, Mrs. Mary Streater, on November 20, 1965, was fined $30 and $33.00 costs in Lindsay magistrate's court today or 15 days for careless driving.

Lindsay hospital authorities reported it today in hospital that Mrs. Streater is still in satisfactory condition.

A 15-year-old Omomee girl, Peggy Earle, told the court she saw the accident which hospitalized the elderly woman that misty rainy November day. She said Mrs. Streater had been crossing the main street of Omomee near the post office, when she was struck by the car.

An employee of the post office at Omomee, Marion Pogue, said she was going to work just before 3 p.m. She said it was raining and visibility was very poor. Suddenly she heard a scream and when she looked up she saw Mrs. Streater in the air, she related. Mrs. Pogue said Mrs. Streater was a very close friend of hers and she ran to help the elderly woman who was thrown to the pavement. "I knelt beside her and she made herself comfortable against me until the ambulance arrived," Mrs. Pogue testified.

Lindsay OPP Constable Robert McGregor said he found Mrs. Streater lying on the pavement about eight feet from the car, when he arrived. He said the car had sustained $25 damage.

Constable McGregor said Mrs. Streater told him, "He hit me then — I was flying through the air."

Mr. Groszelle told the court he was driving between 20 and 30 miles per hour when he saw the woman standing on the road. He said she had walked for her car to go on after it had passed she remained standing there.

"I thought she was waiting for me to pass also," said Mr. Groszelle. "As came up to the woman, within five to seven feet of her, she took a quick step in front of me. I felt the

Two weeks vacation after three years

Toronto (CP) — Beginning July 1st of this year, every worker in Ontario with three years of continuous service with the same employer will be guaranteed two weeks paid annual vacation.

The minimum vacation requirement is contained in an amendment to the hours of work and vacations with pay act introduced in the Ontario Legislature today by Labour Minister Rowntree.

Mr. Rowntree said the new legislation will raise the vacation pay credits to four per cent after three years continuous service. However, firms and unions using this system will be allowed to arrange further increases of accumulated vacation days.

Kitchener (CP) — The Kitchener Rangers despatched their Ontario Hockey Association Junior A Semi-final series with the Toronto Marlboros at one game each with a 4-3 victory Tuesday in Kitchener.

A goal by Walter Tkaczuk with 25 seconds remaining in the game gave the Rangers the victory. The teams will now move back to Toronto for the third game in the best-of-seven series Wednesday night.

Three times earlier in the game, the Rangers had taken one goal leads and each time the Marlboros had tied the score. The Rangers led 1-0 after the first period and 3-2 at the end of the second.

Gord Kanaagelsaer, Don Luce and Jim Krulicki scored Kitchener's other goals. The Toronto scorers were Mike Corrigan, Terry Caffery and Gerry Meshaan.

The Rangers outshot Toronto 38 to 25.

The Montreal Junior Canadiens defeated the Ottawa Generals 2-1 last night in Ottawa to square their best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association semi-final series at one game apiece.

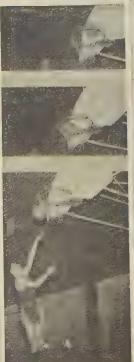

Captain Jacques Lemire scored both Montreal goals, one in the first period and one in the second. Ottawa's scorer was Bill White in the second period.

The Junior Hawks threw up a tight defensive wall in the third period, which was scoreless.

The third game in the series will be played in Montreal Wednesday night.

Over 200 attend UCW St. Patrick's Day supper

Zion-Peelson (PNS) - Zion United Church U.C.W. held their annual St. Patrick's supper on the birthday of the Patron Saint.

The weatherman was very co-operative, favouring with a perfect day and the attendance was quite gratifying. Supper was served to about 200 people.

A short programme was given afterwards which included the church quartet under the direction of Mrs. C. Sims, offering two numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lovering projected slides of their trip to the Bahamas islands. The Rev. Mr. Snelgrove acted as chairman for the evening and expressed thanks to the ladies of the U.C.W. who responded to his request. The entertainment was pronounced by the minister, followed by 'The Queen'.

Truscott book a best seller

Toronto (CP)—A paperback book which sells at $2.50 a copy has become a Canadian bestseller, although it's just been published.

The book is "Isabel Lebourdais: The Trial of Steven Truscott" published by McClelland and Stewart. The book contends that Truscott was innocent of the murder of 15-year-old Lynne Harper for which he now is serving a life sentence. When he was convicted in 1959 he was 14 years of age.

A spokesman for the publishers says a second printing of the book of more than 15 thousand copies has already been ordered.

Gorda in Detroit!

(CP)—Officials of Canada's 14th and newest Travel Bureau outside of Canada are still scratching their heads. The bureau was opened in Detroit Tuesday night and some 200 guests signed their name in the guest book.

Among the official guests were External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, Minister Without Portfolio John Turner and the Canadian Consul in Detroit, E. H. Maguire. The 60th name written in the book was that of Gorda Munstinger. Her home town was correctly written as Monich.

One official says no one knows who wrote the name in and as far as is known Mrs. Munstinger isn't even in the country at this moment. She is the object of a parliamentary inquiry into alleged indications by cabinet Ministers.

Pioneer Jim on the trail

Nestleton (PNS)—Nestleton was treated to an interesting night Wednesday. Pioneer Jim with "Patience" and "Tristation" two zebra mules, a friendly dog "Patience" an Appaloosa horse and a much autographed covered wagon spent the night in the village.

The Pioneer Trail is being developed by Pioneer Jim and a group of partners called Pioneers Inc. It is a non-profit corporation with educational purposes in mind. The Pioneer Trail is actually the trail of Pioneer Jim, a Texas cowboy, pioneering in human relations, by rounding up 100 million friends.

The Pioneer Trail is 10,000 miles long and is being developed as an Educational and Recreational Trail. He left Texas April 1963, arrived at the World's Fair in 1964 and is covering Canada in 1965 and 1966 on his way home to Amarillo, Texas.

The Canadian Red Cross supplies material, financial and technical assistance, valued at nearly $800,000 to about 50 countries each year.

WARP AND WOOF by SCOTTY

Now we must not wax too lyrical about Spring spraying — even if that 61-degree temperature one day last week was very easy to take. The Lion may just be having a summit meeting with the lamb, and if things don't go just to his liking, he could go out with a roar, taking the lamb with him.

Since Easter, and flowers are in the air, here is a legend about the Veronica flower. When Christ was labouring beneath the heavy cross, He faltered, and a maiden, St. Veronica rushed forward to wipe the perspiration from his brow. The impression of his face was found upon her napkin. Literally the name is derived from (vera) true, and (tonica) face, signifying the true face of Jesus. Such is the story of St. Veronica, and because the markings of some species of Veronica resemble a face, this flower is called after St. Veronica.

Don't speak ill of the 20th century, we're not halfway through it yet and already had two Wednesdays.

To mark Canada's 100th birthday, Comm. Early Senization Mixed has been chosen by the Canadian Seed Trade Association as Canada's Centennial flower. It will grow anywhere in Canada and is hardy, free-flowering and not subject to any special bugs or diseases.

Canada is the world's fourth largest producer of silver.

Canada is the world's leading producer of platinum-group metals and production increased from $22 million in 1963 to $25 million in 1964.

In 1964 iron ore ranked first in Canadian metals production at $402 million.

Canada is the world's leading producer of nickel and in 1964, Canadian nickel was second on the list of domestic metals with production valued at $382 million.

Copper was probably the second metal used by man, perhaps as early as 7500 B.C. Today, Canadian copper production — $328 million in 1964 — is close behind nickel in value of output.

Canadian zinc production increased in 1964 to a new record high of 682,000 tons.

Uranium — Canada is one of the leading world producers and has substantial reserves.

Canada is fourth in world production of lead with an annual production value of $53 million.

Canada has long led the world in asbestos production. In 1964 Canada's production was valued at $14 million, about 96% of which was exported.

Potash — Canada has the largest present known reserves of potash.

The Sho-In Corner
Have you noticed in the twilight of the early spring — a faint blue light sheds beauty over every living thing — the leafless trees that wait the signal of warmer days — are caught up in the nameless magic of this drifting haze? No matter how the icy winds of March come howling round — I know that life is stirring in the dark and frozen ground. I've seen the blue light in the streets, and on the distant hills — and soon my little garden will be gay with daffodils.

Ambitions to become an artist in his younger days had to be laid aside until retirement years, by L. G. Churchill, of 9 Sunset S. Lindsay.

As a young boy in Portsmouth, England, his artistic ability was well-established and he made sketches and drawings and sold them to tourists in his home town. At the age of 11 he won a country-wide competition for drawing.

Mr. Churchill came to Canada in 1912 but returned for the war of 1914 - 18, returning to Canada in 1919. He worked for 12 years with the C.P.R. and C.N.R. Joint Communications Office in Simcoe, Ontario.

When the depression came he was bumped from this railroad position. It was at this time that he entered the steel fabrication business where he learned a great deal about metals. For instance, he learned that spilled molten metal could take on interesting designs.

Mayor to discuss urban renewal

Lindsay Mayor John Ekins said he will call a press conference this week to discuss the town's efforts to introduce an urban renewal programme. Mayor Ekins said Monday afternoon there have been a number of questions on urban renewal in Lindsay since the subject came up last year and he would call a press conference to explain what urban renewal was and what it would entail.

The mayor is expected to make reference to a minimum standard maintenance and occupancy bylaw, which a member of the Lindsay Planning Board, Mr. J. C. Gill called for two weeks ago.

On modern art, Mr. Churchill says that great deal of it has become nothing but colorful dross, and an affront to the intelligence of the viewer in general. Sculpture, in his opinion has become largely shapeless, ugly masses of metal and rock which should have been fed back to the crusher or smaller before it was ever exposed to public view. He admits that this stuff sells at outrageous prices and agrees that the sellers at least have the art of selling.

The review first noticed Mr. Churchill's work in Walpole-Archery Store, where Mr. Walpole makes space available free of charge, to Lindsay artists. A number of Mr. Churchill's Metal-Art pieces are also on display at Lindsay Glass and Mirror. It is reasonable to predict that Metal-Art will quickly gain a top spot in the art world. It is original, unique, striking and, as modern, in a different way, as the day after tomorrow.

Mr. Wilbert Worsley visited council and asked that something be done about the Township dump. It was agreed to pay Mr. Worsley $40 per year for the caretaking at the dump for the duration of its use.

The Clerk was instructed to advertise for a Warble Fly Inspector, Truck and Driver, Truck Driver for the 1956 spraying.

It was agreed by the Council to reimburse Mr. Herb Worsley $200 for his assistance in doing the road books.

The Clerk was asked to arrange a meeting with the Public School Board in the month of March.

On motion of Council the Clerk Mr. Manley Mayhew was engaged to look after the road books for the Township at a salary of $600 per year.

Omemee UCW hold Quilting Bee

Omemee (PNS) — Trinity United Church Women met on Tuesday, 15th March with Mrs. Leslie Casey presiding. It was decided to hold a Spring Tea on April 20th, with the usual sewing, baking, plant and candy tables. The annual Easter handkerchief meeting was held by April 19th and members were urged to come and bring a piece.

Mrs. Ruby Vaughan, social services convener, thanked the members who participated in the Quilting Bee, where four quilts were sewn for the missionary bales.

Mrs. H. H. McKee assisted by Mrs. Brad Roberts and Mrs. Jane Bradley presented a work shop service on the theme of "Self-examination". The usual passages, dealing with Christ's temptation in the desert during forty days, were read.

Mrs. T. A. McConnell continued the study of Trinidad, dealing with education problems there. Insufficient schools and teachers deprive so many eager children of an education she said.

Mrs. Bill Mahood on the accordion and Mrs. T. A. McConnell on piano played a selection of favourite gospel hymns. The Benediction closed the meeting and lunch was served.

Imagination and ingenuity very often play an important part in the life of humans. One of the finest examples of a gentleman who has applied himself to the job of making good living from his bush and timber with which he has been associated practically all his life.

Recently he was in Lindsay and in the course of conversation it was learned that several years ago he sold quantities of a certain kind of wood to the Armburg Candy stick factory which was located at the east of the present building in Cambridge street north, now occupied by George McCombe, tobaccoist and billiard parlor proprietor.

Many thousands of these candy sticks were turned out and shipped to various points in Canada. Previously, the factory was the home of the D. J. McLean wheel works.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Hargrave for some years had been engaged in selling fine moss off his land. Large quantities have been sold to florists for greenhouse purposes. Furthermore unlimited layers of peat were noticed and Mr. Hargrave turned this type of soil into profit by disposing of it to peat firms who were interested in floriculture, vegetable growing etc.

In some parts of Ontario peat is used as a fuel. Another sideline developed by Mr. Hargrave is the manufacturing of a distinctive type of box or crate which he disposes of to the owners of the extensive vegetable field at Holland Landing, near Toronto.

There are all kinds of ways to make a honest living in this fine country.

A former Lindsay man, a graduate of L.C.I., was in the news recently. W. Ross Strike, C.E. is retiring as chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission which he has held since 1961. He was named to the Commission in 1954. Ross Strike is a son of the late Rev. J. Harvey Strike, a former minister of Queen Street United Church. For years he lived in Bowmanville. He is a lawyer by profession and his brother Glen Strike is a magistrate in Ottawa.

In the passing of a very fine business, the late Stan Francis of Toronto, whose business has lost a man of many parts. His last performance was with the McKeen Orchestra in Toronto recently. Stan Francis will be remembered by many as the hard worker in the one time well known "Treasure Trail" production, a production which several times filled the Lindsay armouries to capacity.

Remenber when the Lindsay fire hall was located on Kent Street in the vicinity of the Star Cafe (formerly the Big 20)?

It is reported that there was a fire bell in a short bellify at the roof top. Remember the fire bell at the top of a tall frame structure at the corner of Kent Street east and Lindsay Street north, immediately north of the theatre? Remember when there was a fire bell on King Street near where the Northern Cash Company factory stands today?

Do you remember the Fitzsimmons Auto Body Shop. In the days of World War I Jim and Joe Fitzsimmons moved to Lindsay from Cannington and erected a cement block factory on Wellington Street, near the south side of the bridge, a property now owned by Queen Street United Church.

The brothers were clever artists and business during the year 1918 was good, especially when the demand was for army trucks. The firm also made ambulance bodies. The designs were appropriate and the workmanship was good.

As time went on Joseph Fitzsimmons and his brother (now Mrs. Meta Powers) moved to Buffalo. The business venture was successful and the work of manufacturing motorized buses was undertaken and it was during the latter part of a four year residence in Buffalo that Joseph Fitzsimmons passed away.

Later James Fitzsimmons left Lindsay and continued the Fitzsimmons factory at Buffalo. He will be remembered by some people that another brother Zeke, started auto

Toronto art dealer addresses Guild

"Art should be for all of us. The mark of an artist is sincerity and sacrifice," said Mr. Stephen Sobot, whose own Gallery is on Cumberland Street in Toronto. He was addressing the Lindsay Art Guild at its March Meeting in the Board Room of L.C.V.I.

Mr. Sobot was a good example of his definition as he moved and stood as his art-loving hearers. He brought with him an exhibition called a cross-section of works with which he likes to surround himself, paintings by artists who are expressing themselves. "A form of expression," the speaker confessed, "which helped me to find myself."

Describing Rembrandt, the great 17th Cent. Dutch painter, as a realist, but without his realism, he said the artist later wanted to express his feelings, and so drew less and less from nature and more from himself. The expressionist, he stated, has been in reality, while an abstract painter's work is a philosophical expression of his feelings. He expressed the mood he feels at the time. A work of art, however, is judged by the test of time. History makes the painter, he said, adding, "One of the artists whose modern works are already considered timeless is Marc Chagall."

The sacrificial side of Mr. Sobot's character was shown by his love for a large original by the 19th century Russian painter, called Spring. Mr. Sobot risked bringing this extremely valuable picture in his car, to show the Lindsay group.

A good water colour painter knows one thing, the source of texture is in the paper itself, he noted. An example was a spontaneous painting called mother and child by George Fargie, a young modern constantly winning awards at water colour exhibits.

Many of the pictures showed new techniques. Bruce Hend used ink in many colours on paper mounted on masonite. John Elphinst's Autumn Hill side made use of the swirling fibres of rice paper in his composition, a montage. Some artists used new plastics such as acrylic polymer. A structure of aluminium in related blocks on wood, created fantastic shadow patterns, Mrs. Logan admitted.

A serious artist must have the integrity to use good materials, and he should be a draftsman before he ever attempts an abstract painting, the speaker said.

One specimen of surrealism was a blow-up on a feather, done by young Barrie McKay. The sensitive speaker was able to convey the emotion of the boy who had spent a year's confinement to bed with asthma, feeling the importance of the smallest detail, as he painted from the model.

President Nellie King thanked

Alma Austin

Haliburton (PNS — The funeral of the late Alma Florence Austin, dear wife of the late Henry J. Austin, took place on Thursday March 17th from the John Welch funeral home and was largely attended.

She was in her 92nd year. Rev. Mr. Patrick of the Haliburton United Church officiated and spoke comforting words, the faith, the trust and hope she had for many years during her long illness.

Mrs. Austin was loving and kind and her family helped along at the home. She loved flowers at home and her garden was always a picture.

Born and raised in the country that she loved with her family ever near she enjoyed every hour.

Flowers were sent in abundance from friends far and near. Besides her many close friends she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Jean Melville of Toronto, Mrs. Audrey McIntyre of Haliburton, Glenn and Boyd Austin, Haliburton, a brother, Bruce Kellett, Bobovogov, and her brother-in-law, Harold Giles, Haliburton.

The late Mrs. Austin was laid to rest in the Haliburton Evergreen cemetery, Haliburton.

ed Mr. Sobot with the enthusiasm all shared at this outstanding meeting. A refreshment period arranged by Mrs. Logan and committee, gave members a chance to study the pictures at close range.

"Programme Priorities" topic at UCW meeting

The U.C.W. Thankoffering meeting was held on March 15 at 8:15 P.M. in the sanctuary of Cambridge St. United Church. Led by a choir of seven women, the meeting opened with a hymn followed by the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Martin, president of U.C.W., welcomed visiting members from Queen St. United Church and other churches in the Lindsay area.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Bradburn and Mrs. Henry, the Queen St. United Church took charge of the worship service. This service consisted of repeating in unison a General Thanksgiving, a hymn, Scripture reading and a commendation for the resurrection. A duet, "I Waited for the Lord," was rendered by Mrs. Torrence and Mrs. Freeland. A prayer and hymn completed the worship service.

Mrs. Garrett introduced guest speaker, Miss Dorothy Young, programme chair-lady tried to heckle him. He shouted, "control yourself sir or madame-as the case may be."

SQUELCHED!

A STRIPED TIE ON A STRIPED SHIRT?

Yes, it is perfectly acceptable... but use a wide-striped tie on a narrow striped shirt or vice versa.

A basic rule — the tie should always overpower the shirt, hence with a strong striped shirt, the tie should be a bold solid color.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kelly spent the weekend in Toronto visiting with friends.

Over-all tie patterns and some patterns will go well with mildly striped shirts — but avoid conflicting colors and patterns.

Mariposa School area board reviews insurance policies

Fingerboard (PNS) — The regular meeting of the Public School Board of the Township School Area of Mariposa met in the Oakwood School with all Board members present.

W. E. Weldon met the Board to review the school insurance which he carries. It was decided to drastically reduce the Fire Insurance on the Township Area schools which have been obtained. On several of the "Open" schools the coverage on contents was increased as, at present costs for books and equipment, it was felt that not nearly enough insurance was carried. The question of Liability and Compensation in an accident was gone over fully.

Herb Simpson presents request for Arena budget

Former recreation commission chairman Herb Simpson presented what he termed a realistic and economy minded budget for the operation of an all-around recreation program in Lindsay in 1966, in the absence of chairman Robert Payne who is in Florida. While the budget he presented calls for considerable increase over the 1965 figure, the former chairman pointed out that increased facilities, more participants, and additional help justified the additional expenses.

In the face of additional costs, the 1966 budget predicted a slight decrease in revenue from the combined arena and recreation program. A decrease in Junior hockey receipts with the season already over, compared to play-off activity until early May last year, was cited as one reason for the predicted decrease. This condition was also reflected in the predicted revenue from the ice shaver and floodlight has been on a rental basis for the past year.

He pointed out that with the purchase of the floodlight, ninety per cent of rental money paid out during the past year were applicable as a down payment and the multiple purpose machine saved hiring an excavator. Recreation programs full time employees.

for Arena budget

The minor increase in administration costs, Mr. Simpson said, were to cover part of the salary of a full time secretary who would in addition find other duties in the recreation program.

The total budget figure to be raised by taxation is approved by council amounted to some $23,000. Recreation commission member Dr. Fawcett questioned the recreation director as to actual receipts from minor hockey and figure skating ice time on a hourly basis. The director, Harry Johnson gave a rundown of the additional costs and total fees paid by the two organizations which averaged about $2.50 per hour for ice time use. He said, in effect, the minor hockey and figure skating programs were being subsidized by the taxpayers, "a condition which is normal in most towns of this size."

In arriving at the 324 total jobs authorized by council and planning board, the chairman noted that there were 110 lots to be serviced in Northlawn Park, 135 lots in the Oakwood Hills subdivision, 30 lots at Greenlawn, 83 at Orchard Park and the six at Warner Subdivision.

Dealing with some of the planning board's development in Lindsay, Mr. Truax Bowers and Cocks made their first submission for 440 lots plus six apartment blocks. He said their second submission for 127 lots and six apartment blocks has received tentative approval, and a draft of the plan has been received from the Department of Municipal Affairs.

In Northlawn Park there are 31 houses in the subdivision. There are 44 lots fully serviced and the plan also has 76 unserviced lots.

Orchard Park subdivision consists of 83 lots and the completion of an agreement between the town and the developer will allow services to be installed and houses to be built. Mr. Truax said.

He said Green Lawn subdivision has 30 lots abutting on George Street and is ready for installation of services. Polito's Avenue abutting Polito's Avenue north of the Finger Street and has 201 lots, the chairman noted in addition a request for re-opening of the south-east corner of Angeline and Kent Streets to permit building an apartment building by planning board and council, but nothing official has been received. He said the project is of the House Woolsen Mill property.

Mrs. Dorey Fulton of 51 Francis Street will be one of the performers at Gloria Barrett's talent revue March 26th. Mrs. Fulton who has played since most of her life will be playing well-known selections on the organ in the show. Mrs. Fulton comes from a musical family. # Wend inspector receives increase "Wend conditions in the workable land in the County are improved but the pasture area still present a problem," stated County Wend Inspector Elmer Evans in a letter to the County Council report to the committee on the whole on finance Wednesday. Mr. Evans thanked the council for a raise in pay granted last year, but stated in his letter that he was the lowest paid county employee, suggesting a $1.50 per day increase. Mr. Evans also receives a mileage allowance in addition to his per diem rate, councillors were told.

Deville Steve John Campbell suggested the job be combined with that of county road foreman.

"He is running a round like an astronaut, he could combine this work," said Mr. Campbell. Mr. Campbell added that he was not criticizing Mr. Evans' work, "I just thought we were getting too many chiefs and not enough Indians". We do not have a need inspector at the moment, but if one comes in and does a good job," he noted.

County councillors were told the job of road inspector was a seasonal one, sometimes less than the 180 days necessary to complete the road, pavement, and maintenance insurance, and on motion of Opp. Steve Milburn seconded the motion.

Deputy reeve Peter Knox, the per diem increase was approved.

Tourism department in marketing field. Auld tells Conservatives

"In tourism, as in the field of education, highways, health, economics and development, and other departments of government in Ontario, the last few years have been years of leadership that we have in our Prime Minister, John Roberts," the Honourable James A. Auld, Minister of Tourism and Information for Ontario told a gathering of about 80 persons at the Victoria-Halliburton Progressive Conservative annual meeting on Saturday.

"It had large scope to fill," said Mr. Auld. "While the exciting vehicle that is being piloted by Mr. Roberts is now in operation, it was a few years ago that the platform for this launching was being constructed by men of great vision. There can be no question that it is due to the vision and leadership of the Hon. Leslie Frost, who had the vision to set up the first Department of Tourism in Canada, coupled with the vision of the present administration has applied, that we are today seeing Ontario move ahead with a charge of leadership and with rewarding results," said the minister.

Auld told the meeting that the tourist business of today is in a stage of profound growth brought about by the men of great vision. It is a sure time, more money and increased mobility.

A number of operations of a tourist department, as reported the market said Mr. Auld had the vision to set up the Department of Tourism and Information as a major Canadian Marketing organization, and he had the vision to make sophisticated travel programs in North America," he said.

The minister said the department provided the link between many groups and associations and municipalities and with Ottawa, so that all factors can be blended to the benefit of the province as a whole. He said the department was also in the business of conservation of records of history, and of giving the public a sense of food to the traveller. "It is indeed many hats that we must wear," he said. "The minister said the similarity between marketing work the department is doing and that which is done successfully by industry. "We are in fact doing the tools of industry to promote the tools of industry to the proven tools of industry and selling".

"In our province of Ontario, we have a billion dollar industry that is what tourism brings to the province and a half billion dollars," he said.

No industry of this size can afford to be complacent. He pointed out that Mr. Auld said, "It has been said, 'We have to be the Canadian Tourist Association that the remark was made, that research in travel today is rough on the province. The current research at the turn of the century 'Travel research stands at the same position as agricultural research did at that time'."

The province of Ontario is moving away from hit and miss promotion, "we are concentrating on fire power which we know we will hit targets. That is what research does for us."

"As a friend in the travel business said in Toronto just this week: 'You gotta' shoot where the ducks are'."

Travel surveys Mr. Auld reviewed the work of the Travel Research branch and the use of detailed travel surveys. He said that during the last year, the branch has twenty-five million domestic and foreign tourists.

CAR FOLLOWED MOTOR-CYCLE TOO CLOSE, DRIVER FINED

A charge of careless driving grabbed, causing the car to go against an 18-year-old IR 4, out of control.

Magistrate Jan Munro said he had no doubt but the motor cycle and the car were breaking the speed-limit in a built-up area.

The accused had told the court he thought he was driving 50 miles per hour.

CYCLIST HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

A 10-year-old Lindsay boy who was injured when his bicycle was in collision with a street-van at the intersection of Queen and St. Streets Saturday morning was reported by Lindsay Hospital to be in satisfactory condition following treatment with abrasions and contusions.

Lindsay Police Constable Robert Keizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Keizer of 85 Sussex Street was riding his bicycle north on St. Paul Street at 11 A.M. Saturday when he was in collision with a vehicle driven by 38-year-old Peter A. Bakogeros of 253 Kent Street West, which had been east bound on Queen Street.

Two hospitalized following crash

Two people were hospitalized following a one-car crash on Highway 7 west of Omemee Saturday night when a car in 31,000 damage.

Rose Memorial Hospital authorities reported 19-year-old Colin Pritchard, driver of the car, was in satisfactory condition with minor injuries. A 34-year-old passenger in the car, 43-year-old Clayton Hunt was reported in satisfactory condition with minor injuries.

The tourist minister reviewed the work of the Tourism and Information branch and the training seminars operated by the department in conjunction with the Canadian Tourist Association, regional tourist association and chambers of commerce.

"The programme of grants to regional tourist associations continues on the same basis as last year. While there are certain problems inherent in the organization of the councils, we found that this has been outweighed by the gains."

Mr. Auld spoke of the work of the information set up in Ontario and concluded: "I know of no state or province that has the same coordination between advertising, development and promotion as we have in Ontario. The people of the province as we know it are top on Ontario. We are top on that totem pole at the moment, and we intend to stay".

Cannington Lions induce new members

New members (PNS) — At the regular meeting of the Cannington Lions Club, held recently in the Queen Mary Rebekah Lodge Rooms, Rev. C. W. Coleman and Mr. Sid Barr were inducted into the membership by visiting officers from the Sunderland Club.

A committee, which had been appointed to approach the local Council regarding the numbering of the houses in Cannington, reported. The Council gave authority to the club to undertake this project after submitting a plan which would involve the use of the "unwed father".

I realize that in this day and age, sex sells, magazines, newspapers, television, radio and even advertising agencies are willing to draw the line somewhere. The speaker of the evening was Captain James of Port Bolster and his subject was "Earthworms". The speaker Port Bolster and his talk was most interesting and amusing without having to worry about whether or not it is suitable for the club.

Smut is not funny. In most cases the snuff can be removed and the picture would be just as good.

Dialogue Rises A Success

Last Monday's success of the "Dialogue Rises" meetings between the men of Cambridge, Street United Church and St. Paul's Anglican. The meeting was designed to help the men of both churches to understand the open house, at the new C.I.A. offices at Belleville on Tuesday evening.

The inter-church gathering in his address was proven by the questions to Capt. Misiener after presenting his remarks.

Janetville

Mrs. Donna Genge, accompanied by Miss Betty Ross of the Belleville, attended the open house at the new C.I.A. offices at Belleville on Tuesday evening.

Several important questions were raised from the floor of the assembly but the general impression was that the meeting of the faiths of both congregations are a problem. The main issues will probably be the forms of service and the differences in emphasis that are to be found between Anglican and United Church services.

I thought that the meeting could have been a little more lively than it was. The meeting was a success, and it is really difficult what was on their minds. Perhaps it might have been found better to have a free discussion over coffee had

Spring Thaw / 'Bus'

The annual Lindsay "Bus" of this popular show stirred up more than a little rain. Several people have mentioned to me that they did not like the sexual undertone of the show.

I know that there are many people in our society who are shocked even when they see the word sex, but the citizens of our fair town have had made their thoughts known to me are not "prudes" in that sense of the word. They were just plain ordinary family folk who were many think that Spring Thaw 1988 was a family show.

One man told me that he went to go to burlesque show in his younger days that were pretty raw but they had nothing on some of the scenes and some of the jokes that were part of Spring Thaw.

Three of the scenes were particularly mentioned as being offensive for family entertainment. The scene in the show where the male book seller was subjected to the sexual amours of a harem of women was particularly offensive. Another was the one where the principal of the high school was seduced by a teacher, leading by placing his hands upon two prominent parts of her anatomy. And, of course, there was the "unwed father".

I realize that in this day and age, sex sells, magazines, newspapers, television, radio and even advertising agencies are willing to draw the line somewhere. The speaker of the evening was Captain James of Port Bolster and his subject was "Earthworms". ## Family Burned Out

A mother and her three children had a harrowing experience on Howard Avenue last week. A fire destroyed many of their personal belongings and forced them to take up residence elsewhere.

Where it is a real going to be for the family. The fire was caused by the purchase of new furniture and other personal articles following the fire. Mrs. Don Gassien, a neighbour of the Bertrands, embarked on a drive to raise some money for the unfortunate family. She informs me that she has collected some sixty dollars and her three children had a harrowing experience on Howard Avenue last week. # OFF THE CUFF

by MERV EVERALL

At the cost of living is now at its highest point ever and shows no signs of diminishing. The unfortunate state of it that has jumped so much, at once, in recent weeks.

Prices are getting higher and higher in all areas of the country. The cost of purchasing houses keeps rising. The Ontario Sales Tax is coming up very soon and we have been promised higher Federal Income Taxes shortly.

While the prices of butter, milk, bread, gasoline and other staples have been going up the wages have been jumping slightly too. But, there is no doubt in my mind, that the wages are not increasing as much as the cost of living. Sooner or later something has to break — and then what?

Perhaps we should all begin to save money by being less and purchasing the cheaper brands of all products. We may not like the quality as much but at least we can show the producers and manufacturers that we are not willing to buy the best of everything. It would help our pocket books too.

CLOSE HARMONY WITH ADELINES

"The old songs, the good old songs for me, I love to hear the old songs give good close harmony," have been the key words sung for years by many male singing groups. Those who attended the entertainment at the Academy Theatre last Saturday night were not old songs of listening to a large group of female "barbershoppers" from Oshawa.

About 250 people turned out for the performance. The group served a much larger audience. People who delight in barber-shop harmony and missed the Saturday night show, missed a real treat.

The vivacious variety, escorted by the band, sang the syllables were so delightful to the musical ear that little more is left to say.

SON IS ALLERGIC TO HORMET STINGS

Dear Dr. Steiner: My son is allergic to yellow jacket stings. He turns very dark, he comes unconscious and his blood pressure gets so low we can't feel his pulse. He is 35 years old. Is there some kind of medicine he can carry that he can take as soon as he is stung, so his life is in danger, he will be appreciated—Mrs. F.

Comment: Has he been to an allergist? Better not procrastinate. As you must know, his life is in danger.

The doctor will probably prescribe a kit for emergency measures—which will include a table that can be dissolved under the tongue to lessen the severity of the allergic reaction. It may also contain a hypodermic which he will be taught to inject himself.

But what is more important, the allergist will have him come back for a series of desensitization treatments to lessen any future reactions to stings.

It's difficult to run away from his danger. If one is allergic to chocolate or orange juice, the problem is easily overcome by abstention, but these are another matter. It's not easy to hide from the critter.

I recall one instance in which a woman was stung in a theatre while attending a matinee. She was carried out on a stretcher. She survived. You can be sure she underwent a series of desensitizations. She still carries an emergency kit. She is not so frightened now whenever she goes outside.

I repeat again that your son take immediate precautions against what may be a fatal allergic reaction in the future.

OLDSTERS HAVE A LICENSE

Dear Dr. Steiner: Why do elderly mothers build their meals almost entirely on bread, butter, potatoes, sweet spreads, etc.? After years of ruminating vegetables, fruits, proteins and a generally balanced diet down the throats of their offspring, they revert to the peanut-butter sandwich with French fries that they try to hard to win away from.

Tooth and a delicate stomach may preclude starch, corn, and salad; but why turn down chopped sirloin, purée of onion, and squash, when the palate manages potato chips, caracat, nuts, and hard Don't pull the switch which so many children do, either consciously or unconsciously, they try to get back at their mothers for having been so strict when they were growing up. Incidentally, that should be a good tip to be less strict with the diet of your own children.

HELEN KELLERS WANTS TO LIVE

Today I am going to print, you will really see, one facet of Helen Keller's, a new world of beauty and philosophy. I had it here five years ago, but just didn't get round to mentioning it again until I came across a letter from a reader who said, "I read it every day of our lives especially those of who have lost our rest for living."

Most of us take life for granted. Only the deaf appreciate hearing only the blind realize the manifold blessings that lie in sight.

"It is the same old story of not being grateful for what we have until we lose it, or of not being conscious of health until we are ill. But I who am blind can give you hints to those who see: use your eyes as if tomorrow you would be stricken blind. And the same method can be applied to the other senses: hear the music of voices, the song of a bird, the mighty strains of an orchestra, as if tomorrow you would be deaf tomorrow."

Touch each object you want to touch as if tomorrow your tactile sense would fail.

"Smell the perfume of flowers; taste with relish each morsel, as if tomorrow you could never smell and taste again."

"Make the most of every moment of your life, for (or absent) hair on the noggin."

HEAL GRAMMITES ARE A FINE BAIT IN STRINGS FOR TROUT, BASS, CATFISH, ESPECIALLY WHEN THEY ARE FEEDING ON THE BOTTOM.

HOOK: THIS WOMAN UNDER COLLEGE ON THROUGH ITS TAIL, USE A HOOK AS POSSIBLE, IF USING A HOOK, IT IS BETTER TO USE A HOOK ON BOTTOM, USE LINE THAT WILL FEEL BURE, IF NOT, USE A HOOK LINE TO KEEP BAIT FROM GOING TO BOTTOM, SCRAMBLE LINE, BAIT A HOOK AND CLING THERE, IF NO PROBLEMS, GO BACK TO WORK.

IF SPRING, USE SHOCKER ONLY TO GET CATCHING, NO MORE!

Don't let advertisements of "sure-cure" nostrums or gadgets induce you to spend even one dime on them.

You'll do better investing a few dollars in a book on practical philosophy which will help you bear up under a burden which is nowhere as large as you think it is at your age.

A CHARACTER IN A BOOK

Dear Dr. Steinerhohn, I am presently reading one of Helen Fleming's James Bond thrillers, "Dr. No." In the second chapter they quote an American doctor, "Dr. Peter Steinerhohn" who tells about how much punishment the human body can take. Is it you? If so, I'm pleasantly surprised.

Comment: It's me. Never having met Helen Fleming, it was a delightful surprise to me.

Cartwright Pee Wees edge Lindsay 'B's

Adjustment to Change

The methods of the past will not be adequate to meet the needs of the future. President Lester Symes of Canadian Industries Limited, recently stated.

In a competitive society, he told the Convention of the Association Professionnelle des Industriels, the surviving commercial enterprises will not merely adjust to change but must anticipate in detail the form the future will take. The really successful enterprises will visualize this form clearly enough to fashion the new needs to their own ends.

Anticipating change will be more difficult in the future than in the past. The life cycle of products will be shorter and shorter and the rate of change in every sphere will be much greater.

The acceleration in the pace of change has been neatly illustrated by Dr. Dwight D. Eisenhower in his scale of the age of man:

- Stone age—500,000 years;
- Bronze age—50,000 years;
- Iron age—5,000 years;
- Industrial age—500 years;
- Nuclear age—50 years;
- Space age—5 years.

"Let us not lose sight of the fact—and we need to keep reminding our associates in the public domain of this fact—let us not lose sight of the fact that industry is the main source of our economic wealth," said Mr. Symes. "How we commit our resources, how we direct our efforts, in fact most of the decisions that will decide our future—that will make our tomorrow—will be made—the really important ones, that is, will be made within our commercial enterprises by our business managers."

"How good these decisions will be depends on the freedom available to competent managers to take action quickly on their own initiative. Such freedom is not typical of many of our present organizational structures."

"This is true today in government and other public institutions. These always seem to lag behind the public need. And it will be true tomorrow in our private commercial institutions unless we effect the necessary changes in attitude and structure now to meet the new conditions."

Fish Hatcheries

Hon. P. G. McDermid, Minister of Public Works, was visited upon by a large delegation from Robesonville. The delegation pointed out that the district was a popular summer resort and well patronized by American tourists. The fish supply was fast becoming depleted and the government should establish fish hatcheries in Robesonville so that the Kawartha Lakes could be restocked. Unless this was done, the tourist trade would be lost.

Presentations

At the Beal Leather Company's plant on Friday, Mr. A. B. Dark, who has resigned his position with the firm and enlisted in the 106th Battalion, was the recipient of a valuable watch.

Song Services

Another big night at the Academy Sunday night with a programme similar to last Sunday night will be held. The song service will begin and end a little earlier than usual and the patriotic part of the programme will begin about 8:30.

Mrs. Kirwin will sing with Mr. Hensel, Mr. Allan and others will contribute several numbers.

In Memoriam

TOMPKINS — In loving memory of my dear husband and father Bramwell (Buck) Tompkins who passed away March 27th, 1985.

One sad and lonely year has passed. Since our great sorrow fell, The shock that we received that day.

No one can ever tell, God gave us strength to meet it. And courage to meet the blow But what it meant to lose you No one will ever know.

It's lonely here without you, We miss you more each day, For life is not the same to us Since you were called away.

You bade me one last farewell, Nor even said good-bye, You were gone before we realized.

And only God knows why, Lovingly remembered by his wife Pearl and family.

TOMPKINS — In loving memory of a dear grandpa Bramwell Tompkins who passed away March 27, 1985.

Gone dear grandpa gone to rest, Away from sorrow care and pain.

May you rest in peace dear Grandpa, Until we meet again.

The Heart's Garden

The heart is a garden where flowers grow. The thoughts that we think are seeds that we sow. Every kind loving thought bears a kind loving deed. While a thought that is selfish is just like a weed. We must watch what we think, each minute, each day. And pull out the weed thoughts and throw them away. And plant loving seeds. Though it is thick in a row. That there be room for weed thoughts to grow. — Katherine Merrill

Sargent proposes programme to keep FAME Co-op alive

Owen Sound (CP) — The 14-year member of the legislature for Grey North, Eddie Sargent, has proposed a new programme to keep the concepts of the Farmer's Allied Meat Enterprises cooperative alive.

Mr. Sargent made the proposal in a telegram to Agricultural Minister Green. He suggested a meeting between the directors of the co-operative and Ontario Agricultural Minister Stewart.

The directors of the Farmer's Allied Meat Enterprises cooperative announced yesterday they have decided to delay their co-operative bank.

Mr. Sargent said the idea of co-operatives should be maintained to protect livestock producers in the province from packing houses, and to prevent price-fixing on meats.

The Main Street

"Main Street" has been loaned an early newspaper dated 1891. Needless to say names of business and professional men of that day are familiar to the residents who undoubtedly bring back memories to some readers.

For instance the "pill pounder" included Andrew Goughman who was located in the store now operated by Arns. Edmund Gregory was the druggist in the Gregory stand at today at the corner of Kent and William streets. Philip Morgan, purveyor of the famous "Brownie's little live" pills, was apparently located where Stedman's store is today. It is said that Mr. Morgan was obsessed with the idea of an engine which was believed to be perpetual motion.

Percy Codd operated the drug store on Kent Street about where the present Lindsey glass store is now situated. Several other drug stores were generally known by the large containers of green liquid displayed in store windows in 1891.

Barriers in 1891, as recorded in the paper, included C. H. Hopkins on William Street south, F. D. Moore and L. V. O'Connor on William Street north, and J. Stanley Dix on Main Street. F. D. Moore became magistrate and later on L. V. O'Connor was a county judge at Cobourg.

McEwen and Anderson had a law practice office on Kent Street over the present O.K. Cafe.

Thos Stewart had a law office at the south west corner of Kent and York streets, as was O'Connor and both sought election for the Dominion house without success. P. A. Devlin was a lawyer with an office over the present McCalder smoke shop at the foot of Kent Street.

Of the newspaper doctors were reported to be Dr. J. Simpson with an office on Russell Street, where the Hospital for Deaf Beauty parlour is located today. Dr. J. A. McAlpine was located at William and Colbourne Streets, and was a brother-in-law of Sir Sam Hughes. Dr. Palmer Burrows had an office on William Street where Kennedy's Electric is now located. Dr. DeRafael was on Bond Street, Dr. Wilson at Cambridge and Wellington and Dr. Harrington on Cambridge Street north.

Of the present hotels in Lindsey two were mentioned in the early paper, the Hotel and the Royal, the latter being run by Tom McConnell who was a well known hotelier and good cigars and good stables. The Carr hotel was apparently located on the corner of Laird Gamble, jeweler is now located. The Daily House was a store where the present World's Store is today and the Waverley Hotel was at the southeast corner of Kent and Lindsey streets.

A man named Wetherup and another named Logan sold repairs. J. A. Swenson, then learned local money and did good estate selling. John Doherty, a present resident where the Dominion Bank is now located and he also had an office on William Street at 4 William Street north.

There were two veterinary surgeons in Lindsey. Dr. Henry located on Bond Street west of Wallace's wood mill and Dr. J. A. Swenson, the present and also Dr. Broad on William Street in the Skeith terrace. Dr. Peter Stedman, one door west of the present curling rink.

The red flash on the cap of a Red Cross uniform indicates a volunteer serving in 10 sports ways in her community.

TWO WOODVILLE AREA MEN DEAD FOLLOWING LIGHT PLANE CRASH

Two Woodville area youths, Lawrence, 23 and Christopher Long, 18, were killed late yesterday afternoon when their light plane crashed in a swamp about a mile east of Grasshills in Eldon Township.

The two brothers had been airborne about thirty minutes and had been flying at low altitude in the area of the crash, according to the eyewitnesses, when the plane went into a spin and crashed in a small clearing near the south edge of a wooded area.

Provincial Police from Lindsay detachment were on the scene shortly after the crash and removed the bodies after preliminary examination. Department of Transport inspectors arrived last night to conduct a thorough investigation in an attempt to establish the cause of the crash.

Lawrence and Christopher Long were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. George Long who reside about two miles south of Woodville, and about five miles from the scene of the fatal accident. Mr. Long operates a hardware store and a real-estate business at Cambridge and Mrs. Long teaches school at Woodville.

Lawrence Long was an employee of Georgian Bay Airways and had planned to try for his commercial pilot's license tomorrow. Christopher Long was a student at the L.C.V.I.

The plane was a single engine two seater Taylorcraft valued at approximately $3,000. The owners estimated the plane, according to residents of the area, quite frequently flew over the plane area over the past couple of years.

One eyewitness of the crash told "The Post" at the scene that he had planned to fly along the county road toward Grasshills when he saw the plane flying in a southerly direction over the wooded area. He said the plane "seemed to be wobbling" and then went into a spin.

Another eyewitness who lives just north of the scene said the plane circled his building a couple of times and did not seem to have much power. He said the plane had crashed and suddenly went down over the swamp.

Woodville corner, Dr. J. E. Anderson, attended at the scene and had the bodies identified and removed to the plane. Dr. Anderson said that an autopsy will probably be held.

Two charges of careless driving laid the same day against 30-year-old Albert John Trick and 23-year-old Christopher Long, magistrate's court Thursday, April 7.

Mr. Trick was arraigned on two charges which were laid separately in the Ops Township and Penelon Falls on March 5.

No plea was taken by the accused.

Thieves have a retrospective of home of a retired policeman in Swanton, Pennsylvania. Police were baffled. The burglars overlooked cash and jewelry and valuables and got away with 15 tickets to a benefit bridge game.

Prizes were as follows: High Women's, Mrs. Radzevics; Low Women's, Mary Foster; High Men's, Mr. George Muir; Lindsey, Low Men's, Mr. McKie; Lucky, Mrs. Lloyd.

Lunch was served and a social time spent.

Pinchergood (PNS) - The Dramatic Club held a seven table euchre at the school on Friday night. Hostesses and guests were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sweetman, Mr. and Mrs. Radzevics and Mr. and Mrs. Nichols.

Constance Graham said he had chased the other car at speeds up to 100 miles per hour. He said he was unable to catch it, the court was high speed in the late hours of the night.

MANPOWER MOBILITY PROGRAM

Widening the Employment Horizon—for job seekers

The primary purpose of the Manpower Mobility Program is to provide financial assistance to Canadian workers who are unemployed and find it necessary to move to other areas in Canada of greater employment opportunity. The program is national in scope providing for loans or grants to workers and their families to cover the cost of moving and resettlement.

when it is clear that the move is in their own and the country's best interests. The Manpower Mobility Program is an important part of the Government of Canada's over-all manpower program which, within the framework of general economic policy, is designed to help maintain full employment and make the best possible use of the country's manpower resources.

Q. Who is eligible for a loan or grant?

- A. You are eligible:
  - (a) if there is little or no chance of getting a loan in your home area;
  - (b) if there is suitable employment available; and
  - (c) if you are a resident of a designated area.

Q. How do I apply?

- A. You apply at the nearest office of the National Employment Service. Give them the facts, and they will advise you on the process and help you to obtain your loan or grant.

Q. How much of the cost of moving will a loan or grant cover?

- A. For a worker with dependents, a loan or grant will pay for the actual cost of transportation of himself and his dependents, including meals and overnight accommodation. Also covered is the actual cost of moving most household and personal effects to the new area.

Q. And the cost of resettlement in the new area?

- A. For those with dependents, resettlement allowances are $200 each for the worker and his wife and $100 for each additional dependent, up to a maximum of $1,000.

Q. What about a worker without dependents?

- A. For a worker without dependents, actual transportation costs are paid but loans and grants do not cover the movement of household and personal effects. There is a resettlement allowance of $100 for these moving loans. Those receiving grants can also receive this resettlement allowance as a loan, not a grant.

Q. How is a loan repaid?

- A. Normally, it is not more than 20 monthly instalments beginning four months after the loan is made. Interest is 5 1/2% per annum.
- Q. Is there anything else I should know?
- A. Yes, if you have obtained a loan or grant and need a medical examination on an additional grant may be made to cover the cost. If you have several dependents to look for a job before the program ends, you may be eligible for a loan or grant. For more information—check your local N.E.S. office.

The meeting was been called by William Dickie who takes over the post of directors of Ontario's council services next week. Mr. Dickie held interviews with both sides early this week. Observers have expressed optimism because they feel today's meeting would not have been called unless there is some evidence that both sides are ready to make some concessions. There are about 85 hundred members of local of the Teamsters' Union from Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, Kingston and London involved in the dispute. Major issues include wages and the length of the work-week. MERLE LYONS NEW CURLING PRESIDENT Merle Lyons was elected president of the Lindsay Curling Club for 1966-67 season at the club's annual meeting last night. Ralph Rodman, Guy Gasien and Gerard Connolly were elected vice-presidents and Jack Beal was returned as treasurer. John McCrea was elected secretary and named club representative to the Ontario Curling Association. E. To quote " talent scout, J. S. Ronneoff said after the Saturday night. Mr. Ronneoff said he was very impressed by Mr. Stanley's shading, contrasts and cone effects. YOUTH REMANDED A 17-year-old Lindsay youth, Clarence Irwin Savenev of 38 Colborne Street, was remanded one week on charges of break, enter and theft and possession of stolen goods. He would be able to night if he would be to the advantage of municipal libraries in the area. He is a native of Lindsay, Ontario, public library, because there were more money available for books and any person in the area would be able to get most any book he wanted, rather than having the limited choice of the small municipal library. Mr. Kent pointed out that county public libraries received a part of the county assessment rather than "half-and-half grants." He said this would allow the library to store more book and provide free services to all the people in the county. He said there would be larger provincial grants for a larger library and the grants would pay up to 40 per cent of the library's operational costs. Mr. Kent used Midwestern County where the first public library was formed in Ontario as an example. He said the library receives one mill of the county assessment, about $100,000 a year. This allows it to stock a much larger library than the county public library could handle. The Lindsay branch, The Lytle's Men's and Boy's Wear. ## COMPOSITE ADDITION AT FFDHS TO COST MORE BOARD IS TOLD

Failure of the Victoria County High School Board to set a budget could delay setting the town budget and establishing the mill-rate for 1966.

Lindsay Mayor John Eakins said today he didn't want to proceed with the town budget without the high school budget being set. He said it could delay approval of the town budget which had been scheduled for next Monday's council meeting.

The high school board endorsed a motion Monday to adopt a $1,543,452 budget and minutes later the motion was rescinded so the budget could be reviewed and cut down. The decision to review the budget came after two members of the finance committee said that the board's proposed budget was too high. The board's proposed budget was $1,543,452, but the finance committee said it was too high.

High School Board to reconsider budget; may delay mill-rate

A special meeting of the Victoria County High School Board was told Monday work on a composite addition at the Fenelon Falls High School which had been scheduled for next Monday's council meeting.

The cost of the new wing had been underestimated but the board decided not to approach municipalities for approval of the $45,000 needed for the project.

The board was told the municipalities have already sanctioned the addition and county council has given third reading to a $825,000 debenture issue to cover the municipalities' share of the new wing.

The board decided to keep the additional cost in its budget and through the two mills it is allowed each year for capital expenditures.

This move may cause the plan for portable classrooms at the LCVI to be dropped this year.

The board decided there was space at the LCVI so they could dispense with the need to spend $30,000 on renting the portable classrooms.

Board Secretary Stanley Die told the board there was room on the third floor of the Lindsay high school for 300 students. He said fire escapes would have to be installed before it could be used.

Leslie Porter suggested the school could get by without a gymnasium for one year and the gymnasium could be used for classrooms. He said there was obviously enough space at the LCVI without acquiring portable classrooms.

Noon Financial

Freshwater volume totalled 1,287,000 tons.

Imar Martens, an analyst with P. A. Day and Company, said the sharp fall in prices is a short run reaction by investors to the five per cent forced savings on cash profits of more than 30 thousand dollars.

He also said this could mean some downward payments by companies who will be hard pressed for money.

HOT DEVILED EGGS REFRESHING CHANGE
Hot deviled eggs. Sound different? They are! In this new recipe, given by home economists at Macdonald Institute, Goulsh, deviled eggs are no longer served as single ingredients but rather as a hot dish all of their own. Try them as a refreshing change.

HOT DEVILED EGGS
6 hard cooked eggs; 1/4 cup chopped ham; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; seasonings and mayonnaise; 1/4 cup cream sauce; buttered crumbs.

HOT DEVILED EGGS
To prevent tearing blouses in lace collars and other such delicate things you are washing, put them into a jar containing lukewarm suds. Shake around in the jar, then empty it and refill with clear water. Return the lace and rinse by shaking the jar again. Rinse several times until the water is clear. Remove and roll the lace in a tawdry towel. When almost dry, press gently with a warm (not hot) iron.

Emergency Glue
When something needs gluing and you're out of the real thing, try using colorless fingernail polish. Make a good substitute for most gluing purposes.

HOW CAN I ???
By Anne Ashley

Q. What is a good tip for the louching of interior paint jobs.

A. Whenever you do any painting inside the house, fill an empty fingernail polish bottle with some of the leftover paint. The small brush in this bottle is just right for louching up the chips and scratches that almost inevitable make their appearance on walls and woodwork, and the paint of course matches perfectly.

Q. How can I perk up some lifeless-looking cloth artificial flowers?

A. By dunking them into a starch solution. You might add some cake coloring or dye to the starch, and, after dipping the flowers, hang them head-down to dry.

Q. What's a quick and easy way to lubricate a stubborn zipper?

A. An ordinary wax candle, stroked over the teeth on both sides of the zipper, will give it the necessary lubrication for easy opening.

Little NHL games held at Cannington

Cannington (PNS) Eighteen teams invaded the local Community Centre last Saturday for the semi-finals of the Little N.H.L. 'C' and 'CC' groupings to declare winners. Winners will go on to Thornhill early in April for the Little N.H.L. finals. This event was hosted by the Cannington Minor Hockey Association and attracted fair crowds.

In the Junior A 'CC' consolation final, Millbrook defeated Maudsley 7-5, while Bobcaygeon edged out the Cannington club in the same groupings, for the championship, 3-2.

The A.H.L. 'CC' consolation went to Oakwood, as they blanked Cobocook 5-0 and Cannington lost out in their bid for the right to go to Thornhill, as Fenelon Falls defeated them 3-2 in A.H.L. championship play. Haliburton won the N.H.L. 'CC' consolation when they dumped Little Britain 8-3. In the N.H.L. championship match, Bobcaygeon downed Keene by a count of 3-1.

Only two communities were in competition in the 'C' division West Rouge took the Junior A 'C' championship when they beat a Lakefield crew 5-1. Lakefield came back in the A.H.L. 'C' championship game upsetting West Rouge 7-3.

In the N.H.L. West Rouge shamed Lakefield 6-4 to take that grouping's top prize.

Cobocook Midgets in Ontario finals

The Cobocook Lions Midget hockey club will soon be making their bid for the All-Ontario Midget 'C' 1984 championship.

The Cobocook Midgets closed of Brighton Midgets in two straight games, winning 6-2 and 7-4 scores in the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, semi-final round.

The opponents for the Cobocook Midgets will be either New Hamburg or Michell who are playing for the Western Ontario championship. Cobocook Midgets won the Central Ontario title by defeating Oakwood, Cannington, West Rouge and Bolton. The Central Ontario championship then eliminated the Northern Ontario champions from South River, and their two straight wins over Brighton added the Eastern Ontario title to their list.

Coach John Bryant and manager Jack Peel are to be congratulated along with their players in gaining the All-Ontario finals. The Cobocook line-up includes the following: Goal: John Spry; defence: Charlie Peel, Brian Tully, Nick Watson; forwards: Sterling Bowins, David McNamara, Mike Hannigan, Laurie MacKay, Barry McGee, Vince Mansfield, Bob Brown, Dennis

Teams packing for McLean Trophy race

The 1985 winners of the Orval McLean Trophy, Little Brit Juniors are already packing up for their defense of the trophy next weekend.

The Orval McLean Trophy competition, like the Felt Cup Trophy tournaments of a few years back, is a wide open affair with no players barred. Last year several professionals were brought in to bolster area line-ups and the 1984 event next week at Little Brit takes shape up as no exception.

Little Brit Juniors manager Art Field has already announced the acquisition of several Whitey Junior 'J' players for the contest and now the fate is in the fire. A group of four Lindsay Merchant Juniors have been approached by competing teams, and players of any category are eligible to take part.

Eight teams have been accepted and present plan call for two games Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights at Little Brit Juniors with the final game the following Wednesday night.

Bradford, Roger Hodgson, Bradley Hartin, Malcolm Murray, Ron Barkwell and Murray Powell.

Dates and locations of future games will be announced.

Los Angeles Dodgers say as far as they're concerned, they have made their final offer to pitcher Sandy Kousser and Don Drysdale. The offer was rejected yesterday by a seventh game on Thursday and Toronto advances to the final against Cebu.

Kitchener — The Kitchener Rangers went down to a 4-1 defeat last night at the hands of Toronto Marlies in Kitchener. The win gives the Toronto club the lead in their On-

CHECKERS CLUB TO HOLD TOURNEY

A sport once very popular in Lindsay and still carried on in Peterborough by the Y.M.C.A. Checker Club, will receive a lift in the arm this week with an open tournament at Peterborough.

The Peterborough Checker Club are holding their annual tournament at the Peterborough "Y" this Saturday April 2nd starting at 1:00 p.m. Entries are invited from throughout the Kawarthas with a nominal $1.00 entry fee being the only requirement to enter.

Lindsay, along with Blackwater and Sunderland used to be checker hotbeds some 45 years back, and doubtless some of the former champions are still dusting off the board and sharpening their skill in preparation for this annual tournament. Starting April 2nd the day and 1:00 p.m. the time for the Peterborough Checker Club's annual tournament.

Hootenannies and school nurses

Dear Sir: On the editorial page Monday when you so wisely spanned the community for expressing religious "horror" at the interfaith youth service and hootenanny held several Sunday ago, while at the same time ignoring the plea of our High School Principal and local school nurses, I was disappointed. While I feel we have been rightly disciplined, yet I wonder if you realize all that is involved.

Do you not realize that there is not as much to religious services (whether you are there or not is immaterial) as there is to the least bit of (or most bit of) controversy? I think it should be wrong, sinful, and of the devil. It is my God-given right (I'm not sure when He gave it to me, but everyone knows that He did) to speak my mind and condemn it. Now, as for this nursing business, — of course we are

Not a challenge for youth

On the hootenanny article in Church Youth Challenge, June 16, 1986 in the Lindsay Post, I am writing to you.

Like the Rev. G. R. Goodland, I also as a Christian feel that a hootenanny is a challenge to youth in a church except as a defiance against the teaching of our Lord, Jesus Christ, that the Church building be used solely as a house of prayer which is prayerful Christian Bible studies, fasting and prayer, announcing the sick, laying on of the hands in blessings, fasting out devils, witnessing, proven by facts through the Holy Spirit, Christian brotherhood, charity.

For social worldly entertainment we have theatres, dance and banquet halls, television, restaurants, homes for meals and social life in fact there is every type of business open for our convenience from a general store to a donut shop. So for God's sake let us use the church building for the purpose of church work.

Anyone that loves truth and has the spirit of God dwelling in him definitely will not be staging a hootenanny or do anything to degrade the sacredness and the purpose of the church. There is fun going on in the church building for all ages but only one cross that the clergy, laymen and young people need to know and practice which is a real

Churches and "Sunday shows"

Dear Sir: In the recent discussion re the Hootenanny at Anglican Church on the Sabbath it appears that the contribution of 25% was solicited. By what right does the church promote anything to degrade the sacredness and the purpose of the church? There is fun going on in the church building for all ages but only one cross that the clergy, laymen and young people need to know and practice which is a real

Revive mid-week meetings

Dear Sir: — If as Mr. Brevall states the majority of the clergy and laymen in Lindsay (a town I dearly love) think that it is right to hold a hootenanny AT the churches on Sunday evening then it must be all right.

I would suggest that it might be a good time to revive the mid-week prayer meetings.

Hi and Lo

The temperature in Lindsay yesterday reached a high of 39 and a low of 33 degrees.

frank about sports

Plucky George Chuvalo refused to back off from a punches landing in his face last night as he bugged away at the unperurbed Cassius Clay while just under 15,000 fans in Maple Leaf Gardens got their money's worth. Reports indicate neither boxer was seriously hurt.

Toronto Marlies showed they could win away from home with a 4-1 decision at Kitchener. Coach Gus Bodnar will be pondering ways to keep his boys hot for the seventh game Thursday when he will put them in the final against Cebu.

Patty Sound Brunswick defeated Aurora Tigers 5-4 at Patty Sound last night to tie their best of seven quarter final at two games each. Fifth game of the series tonight to be played at Bradford Township night.

Bobacaygon TC-Cats start their provincial playoff activity when they open a best of five series with Newcastle Juniors at Bowmanville tonight. Second game is at Bobacaygon TC-Cats night.

Midtown Flyers did not play Oakwood Flyers at the Kwanas Arena last night, mainly because the game was scheduled for tonight. The third game of the best of seven set is presently slated for the Kwanas Arena Friday night. The Tigers plan on surprising the Flyers tonight with a line-up able and possibly a new play or two.

Oakwood Flyers. It is reported, will again be depending on their ace goalie to stem the tide, in fact, they will likely accept another shut-out from the Midtown mentor.

Oshawa Junior "B" is also a waiting club now after disposing of Kingston Frontenacs in six games. They will meet the winner of a Metro league play-off.

The Orval McLean Tourney at Little Britain still poses the best hockey entertainment remaining locally. It will be a wide open event with no players barred. Last year Bill Speers, Dave Lucas, and Jack Kane were back for the Mariposa feature event.

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Variable cloudiness with a don 20 and 40, Peterborough's low scattered showers or snow and Kitchener 23 and 38. Midtown Flyers did not play Oakwood Flyers at the Kwanas Arena last night, mainly because the game was scheduled for tonight. The third game of the best of seven set is presently slated for the Kwanas Arena Friday night. The Tigers plan on surprising the Flyers tonight with a line-up able and possibly a new play or two.

Life Mr. Mervyn Eversal stated in the Lindsay Post, March 23, 1986 that parents are largely to blame for many of our teenage bibles.

The fun of rattles, toys and kid tea parties, hootenannies have no place in the constructive work of the ambassadors of Christ in the Church.

Teenagers need recreation recreation like an indoor swimming pool, tennis, badminton and many other athletic sports that Lindsay hasn't got. If the community takes these sport centers and the adults bypass the facts of truth adults have failed our young generation terribly.

Organizing a youth club in the Church can bring wonderful results in debates, discussions on world affairs, choir etc. where an assistant clergy may supervise the events, "not half of the adult members invading the teenage functions as many times happens, "as told me by teenagers."

Many teenagers are given a chance may prove to be better than adults in church work.

Revive mid-week meetings

Dear Sir: — If as Mr. Brevall states the majority of the clergy and laymen in Lindsay (a town I dearly love) think that it is right to hold a hootenanny AT the churches on Sunday evening then it must be all right.

I would suggest that it might be a good time to revive the mid-week prayer meetings.

Plans being made for junior agricultural extension programme

A recent news release by Calf Club will organize at the Arthur Hamilton, Assistant Ag. Extension Representative for Lincoln, April 18th, at 7:00 p.m. Victoria County outlined the importance and functions of various agricultural clubs that will be formed in the County.

The release states that each year at this time, plans are made for the Junior Agricultural Extension programme that will be carried on in the coming season through the 4-H Agricultural Clubs. Much of the latest information on crop and livestock production is passed on to farm people by this method. Improved varieties are recommended in the field crop clubs and the most recent developments in disease, insect and weed control are discussed. In livestock clubs a study is made of good feeding and management practices along with instruction in the selection and judging of various breeds.

In all projects the club member is taught the importance of keeping good records and is given an opportunity to put this training to use in making up the field or feed report that form a part of every 4-H club programme.

The art of showmanship is another phase of the work that is emphasized because everyone likes to see an exhibit of grain that has been well prepared or a calf that has been well fitted and trained for achievement day at the fall fair.

All these things are important but the chief objective of 4-H Calf work is to provide for its members training in good citizenship and thus help to prepare them to take their places in their respective communities.

The release states that prospective members for 1966 must be twelve years of age on January 1st, and must not have reached their twenty-first birthday on December 31st, with exception of Tractor Club members who must be at least 14 years of age on January 1st. Ten applicants must be received before a Club can be organized in any project.

A total of ten clubs have been planned for 1966, including six calf clubs, a grain club, a corn club and a forage club. The calf clubs are being organized in Beckspring, Penion Falls, Lindsay, Oakwood, Onneme and Lake Darynpine. The remaining clubs will be organized on a County basis, with only one club of each type in the County.

The various clubs will be organized as follows: The Kowatins Dairy Calf Club — at the Ontario Government Building, Lindsay, on Monday April 4th, at 8:00 p.m.

The Beckspring Calf Club and the Penion Falls Calf Club — on Thursday, April 7th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Bobcaygeon Town Hall.

The Oakwood-Village Beef Club organizational meetings will be announced when a definite date has been set, Mr. Hamilton said.

HATS ON!

The proper hat style can make the short man look taller — the stout man look slimmer — the thin man look huskier.

The proper hat selection can accent the positive and soften the negative in any man. It is all in the choice of crown, whether tapered or full — a narrow or wide band or rolled brim — and many other variations which you will gladly explain to you.

Worn slightly tilted, the right hat imparts a jaunty, confident air, and enhances the appearance of any man.

Camp Maple Leaf

In 1955, the Canadian Council of War Veterans' Association adopted a plan to operate a multi-racial, non-denominational camp for underprivileged children that would serve as a memorial to honour our fallen comrades and as well allow the present and future members of the council to contribute even more to the welfare of our society.

The initial concept of this plan was realized with the purchase of an island in Pigeon Lake, one of the chain of lakes in the Kawartha District of Ontario.

Camp Maple Leaf, Incorporated now functions as a useful and practical memorial to those Canadians who gave their lives in two World Wars and Korea.

Although the Treasury of the Council contained just $28, the membership committed themselves to the purchase of a 104 acre island in Pigeon Lake, Ontario, known as Jacob's Island. The price of this property was $35,000, and a holding payment of $1,000 was made in December. —From Camp Maple Leaf, Incorporated (Pigeon Lake).

Philosophy: A route of many roads leading from nowhere to nothing.

From Scotty's Bookshelf: The Bobcat Boohtytrap

Some person or person unknown captured a bobcat and conceived a dastardly scheme. Somehow, they compressed it into a suitcase. Then they placed the suitcase on the sidewalk in front of the bus station and, presumably, watched from a car to see the fun. Sure enough, a car with four men stopped. One dashed out, grabbed the suitcase, and the car roared off. Three blocks away two men burst from the car and hit the street running. The car careened into the curb and the other two sprinted out, shrieking. Lastly emerged the wildest, looking every inch a winner. He stalked away into the night. Officers, said they aren't looking very hard for any of those involved as the crime had a built-in punishment.

The world is like a board with holes in it, and the square men have got into the round holes, and the round into the square.

An American Discusses Hockey

Hockey is the national pastime in Canada. Kids start to play it with birch rods and tuna cans as soon as summer ends which is restricted to two weeks in July — ends. Every Canadian kid learns to skate as soon as he learns to shovel snow, which is almost immediate. The ones who can do it backward as well as forward get to play hockey. Hockey is a game that's a legal fight. All you need to play is a stick, a head under the bed clothes thread. It is so bloody, a hemophiliac shouldn't even watch it. You can always tell a bad player because he has his own teeth and can see out of both eyes.

In Canada alone, scientists are hockey players waiting to be discovered. —(L.A. Times)

St. Patrick's Celebrations held at Downeyville village

St. Patrick's celebrations were held in St. Luke's Hall, Downeyville, on Friday and Saturday evenings, sponsored by the Catholic Women's League.

The hall was decorated in Irish style, green and white streamers stretched from wall to wall with shamrocks and shillelaghs hanging round.

Alvin Perdue was chairman for the evening. The first part of the concert was put on by the children of St. Luke's school, directed by Miss Mary Donohue. Their songs and recitations with a solo by Gary Perdue were much enjoyed by the large audience.

Jim Dorgan was really at his best as the paper boy "Jimmy Brown" and Karen Richards and the Harrington sisters were the sweetest little colts that could be found between Downeyville and Killarney.

The Young People's Group, directed by Mr. Leo Herlihy, put on some clever pantomimes, skits, choruses and duets. The participants were: Dianne Brockman, Bunny Milloy, Mary Jane Harrington, Marie Harrington, Teresa Clancy, Aileen O'Neill, Kelly Herlihy, Dianne Herlihy, Beth Harrington, Carol Downey, Simon Connell, Pergus Morrissey, Jerome Morrissey and Mike Herlihy.

Steve Winn, accompanied by John Locke, entertained with lively harmonica selections. The soloists were: Mary Jane Harrington, Bunny Milloy, Frank Richards, Hank Lindeman and Tom Carroll.

Leo Herlihy was pianist for the evening. A short comedy, "The Laughing Ghos" was much enjoyed. The characters were: Mary Jane Harrington, Dianne Brockman, Mrs. Frank Richards, Mrs. Don O'Neill, Bunny Milloy, Mrs. Paul Morrissey, Steve Pigott and Tim Dorgan.

In a silent play, "The Lamp Went Out," Paul Murtha was the reader and the actions of the characters, Tim Dorgan, Noel Lucas, Frank Richards and Paul Morrissey were amusingly hilarious.

After the concert a dance was held with Tom Teatro and his orchestra providing the music.

Membership fees were set at 50¢ per person, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGill, Mr.

Plans were made for the annual Victoria Day celebration to be held on May 23rd when a sports day will be held in the afternoon followed by evening entertainment.

Wally Reid, Bobby Smell, Billy Smell and Bill Lawrence were appointed as a committee to arrange for the ball games and races on that day. The committee in charge of evening entertainment are Robert Sisson, Mrs. Thomas Jennings and Allan Beer, with power to add additional members if necessary.

Vincent Jackson will be the Parade Marshal to look after all arrangements for a parade to start off the day's events. Parade judges will be Arthur Allerton and Ian Munroe.

WORST SIN IS INDIFFERENCE SPOKEE TALKS CONFERENCE

"The worst sin against human nature is not hatred, but indifference," said Mrs. C. S. Patterson, a member of the United Church Board of World and Evangelical Council of the United Church recently.

Mrs. Patterson was guest speaker at the evening session of the fourth Annual Day of Quiet Conference United Church Women held at Harmons United Church, Oshawa. Around 150 delegates representing 60 churches and seven presbyteries attended the four sessions.

"The theme of Mrs. Patterson's address was 'The Christian Woman in the Church today' - where in the world are they?" she asked. She reminded her listeners that they were counted with all Christian Women throughout the world, despite the difference in language, clothing and customs. To Christian women a smile, a song and the love of Jesus Christ were the same in any language.

"The United Church Women must always look to their people and their needs, and worry less about methods of raising money and ways of spending it."

"Much depends on the Mother, whether the family attends church and Sunday School, or mid-week youth groups. We are here today because our mothers taught us to put first things first she added."

"The emblem of the World Council of Churches is the Ship under the Cross. In this ship the only passengers are the elderly, the very young, and the incapacitated. The rest are the crew. More atten-

WHY WAIT FOR 1967, '68, '69?

Get quality like this

from beginning

to end now.

At American Motors, we believe a car with quality is a car that lasts you longer, serves your needs better, saves you worry and expense.

To achieve that kind of quality, you've got to build it in from the beginning. You can't add it on.

That's where we've taken the lead. We build quality into our cars, from the beginning.

On every American Motors car, body and frame are welded together into one, single, solid unit for remarkable strength. Then that unit is dipped to its roofline in rustproofing six separate times. The exhaust system is bonded with a heat-defying ceramic shield to give the heave-ho to corrosion. Two sets of brakes give double safety. If one set ever fails, the other still stops you. (We introduced this feature in 1962. Only now for their 1967 models are some others dipping it).

Wait. There's more. The most powerful standard engines in their classes deliver superb performance. Ceilings are insulated with noise-busting Fiberglass. Doors are weatherproofed with double door seals. Real coil springs go into the industry's widest range of seating options. And on an example of our attention to detail, even our ash trays slide on easy-rolling ball bearings.

That's our kind of quality. What does it mean to you?

It means that the muffler won't start to rot out at 25,000 miles. The body won't start rattling and banging. The weather-proofing eliminates chills up your spine. Rest won't start to eat your car out from under you. Needless repair bills won't start to eat your pocketbook out from under you.

It means that every American Motors car is built stronger, sounder, safer—from the beginning. It means that it can last you longer, serve your needs better, save you worry and expense.

Isn't that the kind of quality you want in your car? A lot of car makers don't give you that kind of quality at any price. We do. We take the time. We always have. We always will. That's why you're assured of quality in every American Motors car, whether you buy it new or used.

Come '67, '68, '69, and later, other car makers may offer you some of the features you find in our cars now. We say: Good! Because when that time comes, we'll still be leading the industry with better quality, better value and better features.

Discover our kind of quality in our complete range of cars: the larger, luxurious Ambassador, the fierce fastback Marlin, the family-minded Rambler Classic, and the youthful Rambler American. There's no better time than right now. Why wait?

Flying Saucers Seen Over Lindsay

Have visitors from outer space been in the sky, space been in the Lindsay? "The Post" knows of other people in the area, who have seen flying saucers. Some people today are asking these questions after a Lindsay area report of a mysterious object.

An English resident, who he saw in the sky early reported that a year ago he heard strange sounds every night at about the same time for two weeks. The resident, Mrs. Jean Nelson, said one night she saw a huge, blue-green ball travelling across the sky. She said it was emitting sounds and did not appear to be at a great height.

She said the object, which had a fluorescent appearance, was travelling from north to south and she watched it for about five minutes.

Another English resident, Mrs. James Harrison, said she had heard a "whirling" sound about the same time but saw nothing unusual.

The head of the department of astronomy at Laurentian University in Toronto says nothing is known of flying objects are nothing new.

Dr. Roger Leclair says such sightings have been reported for hundreds of years. Back in the 17th century, he says, Jesuit Priests in France reported seeing strange, moving objects in the sky. He says he believes the UFO's are caused by reflected light during the day.

There were other reports of UFO sightings last night over an area stretching from Sarnia to Windsor, northwest of Woodstock.

Last night, three Metropolitan Toronto police officers said they watched an unidentified object with flashing lights for an hour in the sky.

The People Write...

Rome time ago an inter-faith youth service followed by a Hootenanny was held in London, and although it was a great success, the reverberations from shocked people are still being heard. This newspaper has received many, many letters from men and women, including communications from two ministers of the cloth commenting on the event.

In the past twelve months or so, the only other topics to attract so much mail were floodation of Lindsay water and the flag question.

We find it odd that so much furor should be raised over an honest attempt to present young people in an inter-service meeting. On Thursday March 17, we reported, in a page one story on the same attempt (LGV) by W.S.W. Bresse and M.O.H. Dr. Norma Gill made to convince the Victoria County area high school board of the flag question.

In The Dominican Republic

(CP)—The National Convention of the Republic's revolutionary party is being held April 23-24. The outcome may make former President Juan Bosch the man to beat in the upcoming Presidential elections in June.

The big question is whether the party will enter the elections at all, and if it enters, whether Bosch will accept nomination.

There has been speculation the party may decide against running if they feel present conditions in the Dominican Republic are not suitable. But observers believe territorial and political violence are diminishing. And Bosch himself has publicly stated that conditions are changing.

If the party abstains, there may be doubt about Bosch's chances in the election. The party received 60 per cent of the vote in the 1962 elections.

Bosch has told newsmen privately that he will not be a candidate in the elections. But if the revolutionary party decides to run, he is almost certain to be their candidate.

Bosch's main opposition comes from the revolutionary Social Christian the urgent need for a nurse at the school. We followed this story up with an editorial citing examples of injuries sustained by students and stating that, in our opinion, the school board were remiss in not providing adequate nursing aid immediately for the students before an emergency situation arose.

Our page one story and editorial elicited one reply—a phone call from a L.C.V.I. teacher who supported our stand and gave us details of accidents students had suffered in recent months.

A Hootenanny on Sunday brings down the wrath of readers on our heads.

1700 students without a school nurse, despite repeated requests by the principal, the medical officer of health and teacher's organizations fails to spare any correspondence.

Perhaps we should revise our sense of values.

Value

Party—the other major moderately left-wing party. If Bosch is elected, his party's refusal to run, political differences may be aggravated with the opposition breaking up into splinter groups.

Observers believe the Social Christian Party already are cutting into the revolutionary party's following.

The other battle to watch is that building up between the two Conservative vote-getters, Rafael Bonnelly and Joaquin Balaguer.

Bonnelly is reported gaining strength over Balaguer—a long time servant of slain dictator Rafael Trujillo. The two men are considered likely to meet in the runoff election. Bonnelly's aide helped overthrow Trujillo. Provisional President Hector Garcia has named the slain dictator's son, held in any case and the U-S has promised it will support whoever wins.

At the same time the call is for all Civil Servants in Canada to be bilingual in French and English.

Boiler or not, such a requirement is necessary for them to carry out their jobs.

The passports being distributed by Expo '87 are another example of English being relegated to second place and an interesting advertisement inserted in newspapers by the Canadian Corporation for the 1987 World Exhibition invite tenders to lease the following restaurant concessions:

"Le Village", La Ronde, Le Discobus, Boites a Chanson, Chez Rene Latulipe, in Pioneer Land - La Ronde, the Golden Grand Saloon. How the last one is we don't know.

And a final news item—the staff of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism has grown to 325 and members include 35 who receive more than ten thousand dollars a year.

Fifteen of these are part-time members.

A House of Commons report says the Commission had 130 full-time and 32 part-time employees as of January 31. The inquiry is the costliest on record with expenditures totalling more than three and a half-million dollars as December 31st.

The French problem is a growing one—and a costly one. Continued appeasement of Quebec is not the answer.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT, YES!

By Rev. John G. Klomps, B.A., Th.M., Lindsay Christian Reform Church.

This subject is at the centre of controversy, increased by its current debate in Parliament. Within a very few days the Government of Canada may reach a very important decision on this question.

Through having articles in various magazines this topic has been brought before the reader, passionately the pro and con are displayed. The abolitionist and abolitionist are slugging it out in the ring of public opinion.

Emotional overtones creep into newspaper accounts, discussions and debates. This element was very evident in a Globe and Mail article of March 21, 1984 by Jean Horvath. The article was simply titled: "Capital punishment". The subtitle was much more revealing, however, it read: "He was alone, and helped, and he was killed." It seems that the author of this article had some position that the death penalty for the crime of deliberate murder is an act of vengeance. And so the argument continues, the act of taking the life of any man, even if he is a murderer, is murder and vengeance.

Another prevalent opinion today rejects the whole concept of punishment and parole. It is a question of whether the supreme symbol of penal codes that prescribe punishment is to distinguish between those who adhere to this view are generally agreed that the only rightful function of the State is to punish the criminal, to distinguish between various kinds of homicide, to be aware of and accept vengeance.

On The Bright Side

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years... not in the lifetime of the man who wrote this... has there been so much apprehension. Never has the future been so incalculable as at this time."

In France the political calendar seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs as usual like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; and while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are severely tried, and yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian situation, and with its disturbed relations with China.

Check Your Car Now

Every April and May, the vehicle safety committee of the Canadian Highway Traffic Council launches a nation-wide campaign to alert owners of their personal responsibility for the safe operation of their vehicles.

The 1984 campaign will open at midnight, March 31, and end at midnight, May 31, with a series of television spots, radio service and garage operators from coast to coast.

"This year," said Mrs. S. Swallow, "they don't need more business at their doors."

The idea for the official Centennial rose project came from a Montreal rose-lover, Jack McIntyre. This instigation, three distinctive roses were bred and then judged in a Canada - wide contest. The Canadian Centennial provided the choice of over 12,000 Canadian gardening enthusiasts. It is an extremely hardy rose and ideally suited to our Canadian climate.

Knowing very little about opera, there isn't too much can say except, our own personal opinion. The music of Carmen has always been a favourite, and this is what we looked for and felt that the accompaniment of one of the piano left much to be desired.

The pianist was excellent but the production was as Carmen, needs the backing of at least a small orchestra.

News Item: Speaker blames Adults for Teenager's problems

Plasol No pickets.
Plasol No phone calls.
Plasol No nasty letters.

Just in case you are an adult — just in case you saw the headlines on Wednesday's "Post" — just in case you are in the process of preparing a batch of tar and feathers — let me explain!

Oh! It's not that I didn't like what the newspaper reported. It's just that I also said some other things that should be mentioned in addition to the ones that the reporter wrote.

The first reaction that I had to the headlines on Wednesday's paper came from a student at LCVI. He had been busy on Thursday afternoon making a nasty nuisance of himself. When I handed him a note to say some strong words about his conduct he replied very sweetly, "But it's my fault, sir. You must blame my mother and father for my awful conduct here in class today. You said it yourself in your speech yesterday."

I suppose the moral to this story is that things which work out well in theory often have a much different result in fact.

YOUTH WORKERS LEAD A LONELY LIFE

The main idea of the address given to Kiwanis Club of Lindsay was that people who specialize in youth work often find themselves in a very lonely position. They lead something of a double life as they try to keep peace with the adults in the community and at the same time try to keep the trust and confidence of the young people.

One of the examples given was an incident at the Cane's Fry, a young people's coffee club that operated under the auspices of St. John's Anglican Church in Toronto.

A rather inhibited boy of about seventeen tried to gain entry to the club one night and then passed out in my arms as I attempted to talk him into leaving. The first reaction of some of the adults from the church was to call the police and have the boy arrested.

I said, "No. Leave him to me." Much to the surprise of the three friends who came with him, I carried the boy's limp form up the stairs to one of the meeting rooms in the parish house and placed him on a couch. One of the girls from the club gave him several cups of hot, black coffee and eventually we managed to bring him back to his senses. The boy and I had quite a talk and he was in tears before he left to go home.

My young friend returned to the club a week or two later and eventually became one of its strongest supporters. His three buddies also joined.

This incident is indicative of the kind of things that a youth worker must do to matter where he is in a Christian or secular situation. He must often face chance that may hurt his feelings, the regulation, and even his own well-being. Organizations like the Salvation Army and Alcoholics Anonymous have continually shown the world that personal concern for individual leads to quicker and more rehabilitation than rejecting him.

DISCIPLINE BEGINS AT HOME

The real reason for my making the statement that parents are often to blame for the problems of their children is that adults continually shirk their responsibilities. So often I have found that parents will proclaim to the world that they cannot control their children — yet they expect the school, the church, or society to do the controlling for them. Good discipline begins in the home.

So many teenagers who manage to get into trouble with the law are boys and girls who come from unhappy home situations. How can we expect a boy or girl to grow up respecting the community in which he or she lives if the parents drink heavily, fight all the time, and give no real leadership or understanding? Any boy or girl who becomes a useful, happy, law-abiding citizen, after living in an unhappy family situation, deserves a medal.

We do often judge teenagers by their attitudes and actions in public. Yet we do not know what their homes are like. We do not know whether they have been given love and care and understanding. Perhaps the big, tough front that they put up on the outside is just a cover for fear and loneliness on the inside.

YOUTH WORKERS ARE HARD TO FIND

The best example of the fact that teenagers are not easy to get along with is the shortage of people who will volunteer as counselors or advisors for young people. Ask any church group if he finds it easy to obtain youth workers. He will tell you no. The YMCA, Scout, Guiding, and all other youth organizations will tell the same thing. Is this not a discredit to adults more so to young people. It would most appear as we think we have produced a race of monsters.

Well, I really believe the situation is not as bad as it so often appears. Teenagers have their particular problems and they have their own ways of solving them. Adults have their own problems and they too must deal with them as they see fit. When I am counselling young people I try to make them look at the situation from an adult point of view. On the one hand when I am talking to parents, I try to help them to see the problem from the teenager's eyes. It is not always easy, but it seems to be the only way.

FAMILIES NOT TOGETHER OFTEN

Mothers and fathers have less and less time for their children. Children have more and more activities to keep them occupied. As a result, families are not together very often any more. Everyone seems to be going in a different direction. Perhaps this is why there is so little understanding and fellowship between the adult and teenage community.

AD, so parents, please put down gun you are in a regular situation and try to meet me with what I have been able to explain. I am a little more fully here to the satisfaction of all who might have been uncertain about it.

There are many occasions when I could cheerfully thump the next teenager, it is at such a time that a big, grumpy, gawky, homely kid will approach me during the P.T.T. class, with a sad look on his face and proclaim, "Sir, I have just hurt myself."

All I can do is swallow the lump in my throat, put my arm around him, rub his wounds with liniment — and thank God for wonderful teenagers.

New policy designed to bring Stability to Dairy Industry

The federal government plans to embark on a dairy policy commencing April 1, designed to bring economic stability to the dairy industry and to ensure adequate domestic sources of dairy products for Canadian consumers.

Agriculture Minister J. J. Green announced this week a new policy intended to raise producers' incomes, stabilize the dairy industry and prevent uncontrollable consumer price increases caused by shortages.

Mr. Green said he was disturbed at the rate at which farmers have been moving out of the dairy industry. Some have been switched to other kinds of farming, such as raising beef and hogs. These offer a better living. But far more disturbing, he said, was the number moving out of farming altogether and going into industry and other urban occupations because they can't make a living on the dairy farms any more.

Mr. Green said during the past year, even though government policy was to ensure producers, through a combination of supplementary and deficiency payments, a national average price of $5.50 per hundred pounds of manufacturing milk. While this represented a significant improvement in the producers' position over previous years, when prices averaged less than $5.00, production has not kept pace with population growth and demand.

Because the outlook for the new dairy year is for continued deterioration in the economic position of the dairy farmer unless government action is taken, the following major changes in the government's support programme for the new dairy year will be made, said the agriculture minister.

The support level will provide for an average net return of 10¢ per pound per hundred pounds of manufacturing milk testing 3.5 per cent in content, basis f.o.b. the factory.

The support level will be achieved by direct monthly quarterly payments to producers from the federal government.

The federal payments will be made on a portion of surplus production.

The Victoria County Council approved the contract at a public day afternoon, at a contract price of $592,144.

Mr. Barnett of Barnett and Butler, architects, said he was very pleased with the four bids for the contract. He noted that the variation of the cost of the contract price, and the successful bid was $7,000 less than the cost estimated by his company on August 20, 1965. He said he had received word from Mr. Drew of the Department of Welfare expressing satisfaction with the contract price.

The Victoria County Home for the Aged management committee at a meeting Wednesday afternoon, approved the Chemong Construction bid for $592,144. At that time it was pointed out that an additional $100,000 for architect and supervision would bring the total cost of the contract to the $692,000 area, and $691,000 had been approved of by the Department of Welfare for subsidy.

Mr. Barnett told council members his company has supervised recent contracts for the Chemong Construction and found the firm reliable. He said a small leak in the building construction and found the firm reliable. He said a small leak in the building construction and found the firm reliable.

Because the registration of fluid milk producers under this new policy, and the establishment of a reporting system from processors, will require some time, it is not anticipated that it will be possible to make the first federal payment to fluid processors as quickly as to manufacturing milk producers, said Mr. Green.

Mr. Green added, authority would also be provided to permit the board to make an appropriate adjustment in the direct payment to processors should the board's selling price of butter be increased above the purchase price of 50 cents per pound during the support year.

Victoria county grant system sparks considerable discussion

The Victoria County grant system came to the forefront of discussion Friday morning during a committee of the whole meeting on finance and assessment. Discussion occurred when grants to the northern townships are being considered.

A 67.3 mill rate in the town of Dalton supported their request for their annual grant from the county, which amounted to $200.

County councillors learned that Dalton had received little assistance from tourist owners. A recent survey made by county assessor R. Hall revealed that Bealey, Crawford, Laxton, Digby, Long and Semerville townships averaged 35 per cent tourist property assessment while Dalton township had the benefit of only 33.67 per cent.

One condition was attached to the Dalton Township grant was that the township submit their 1965 updated financial statement.
